MEMORANDUM ORDER

On August 20, 2013 this Court conducted its initial status hearing in this bankruptcy appeal and set the schedule for the parties' respective submissions: September 10, 2013 for appellant's memorandum in support of his appeal, October 1 for the appellee's response and October 8 for the ensuing status hearing (a procedure that this Court normally follows rather than establishing an automatic one-two-three briefing schedule, experience having taught that reply submissions are very often unnecessary). Now September 10 has come and gone with nothing but total silence having intervened--neither appellant's required submission nor a request for further time to file that submission nor any other communication of any sort. Such disobedience of a specific court order is hardly excusable, and consequently the appeal and this action are dismissed.
