IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF ILLINOIS

STEVEN WATTS,) Plaintiff,) vs.) Case No. 14-CV-327-SMY-DGW 84 LUMBER COMPANY et al.,) Defendants.))

MEMORANDUM AND ORDER

YANDLE, District Judge:

In fulfilling the duty to efficiently manage its docket and in anticipation of the February 22, 2016, trial setting in this matter, the Court has reviewed Plaintiff's Rule 26(a)(3) Disclosures (Doc. 499). Under Rule 26(a)(3), pretrial disclosures must (emphasis added) include: "(i) the name and, if not previously provided, the address and telephone number of each witness...(ii) the designation of those witnesses whose testimony the party expects to present by deposition...and (iii) an identification of each document or other exhibit, including summaries of other evidence – separately identifying those items the party expects to offer..." Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(a)(3)(A).

Further, Rule 37(c) enforces the disclosure requirements of Rule 26 and states, in relevant part:

If a party fails to provide information or identify a witness as required by Rule 26(a) or (e), the party is not allowed to use that information or witness to supply evidence on a motion, at a hearing, or at a trial, unless the failure was substantially justified or is harmless."

The Seventh Circuit has repeatedly held that "the sanction of exclusion is automatic and mandatory unless the sanctioned party can show that its violation of Rule 26(a) was either justified or harmless." See, e.g., David v. Caterpillar Inc., 324 F.3d 851, 857 (7th Cir. 2003)

(quoting Salgado v. Gen. Motors Corp., 150 F.3d 735, 742 (7th Cir. 1998)); accord Stewart Title

Guaranty Co. v. Residential Title Servs., Inc., 607 F. Supp. 2d 959, 964 (E.D. Wis. 2000).

In his disclosures, under the designation, "Documents or Other Exhibits," Plaintiff seeks to "reserve the right" to call numerous un-named witnesses at trial. However, Plaintiff cannot reserve to himself a right he does not have under Rule 26. The Court finds that the vague and boilerplate identification of categories of potential witnesses is insufficient and inconsistent with the spirit and purpose of Rule 26. The Court further finds that Plaintiff's failure to comply with Rule 26(a)(3) cannot be substantially justified and is not harmless. Discovery in this matter is closed and the time to depose any newly identified "may call" witness has long passed.

Accordingly, pursuant to Rule 37(c), the Court STRIKES that portion of Plaintiff's Rule

26(a)(3) Disclosures designated as "Documents or Other Exhibits" and he shall be prohibited from presenting any witnesses live or by deposition testimony at trial not specifically named and identified in compliance with Rule 26(a)(3).

IT IS SO ORDERED.

DATED: February 12, 2016
