OPINION AND ORDER

Timothy Collins, a pro se prisoner, filed two very similar habeas corpus petitions - this one and 3:13-CV-624. Each petition attempts to challenge a prison disciplinary proceeding which was held at the New Castle Correctional Facility on October 5, 2012. In both petitions, Collins challenges the fact that he was found guilty of Conspiring/ Attempting / Aiding to Commit a Class A Offense in violation of 111/113. However, because neither petition identified the number of the challenged prison disciplinary proceedings, the court was unable to differentiate the two petitions.

As a result, he was ordered to supplement the petitions in both cases by September 19, 2013. He did so in the other case, but not in this one. Therefore this case is DISMISSED WITHOUT PREJUDICE because the court cannot identify what prison disciplinary proceeding Collins is attempting to challenge.

SO ORDERED.

Date: October 16, 2013
