This letter agreement ("Agreement") will serve to memorialize the terms of the consultancy arrangement between Stelor Productions, Inc. ("Company") and Steven A. Silvers ("Consultant").

b. Company may immediately terminate this Agreement upon the occurrence of any of the following: (i) a material breach of any provision of this Agreement by Consultant; (ii) a failure by Consultant, after written notice, to perform such duties required of Consultant as outlined in this agreement; (iii) the initiation of any bankruptcy, receivership, trust deed, creditors arrangement, composition or comparable proceeding by Consultant, or if any such proceeding is instituted against Consultant; (iv) the conviction of Consultant of any felony crime; (v) any use, sale or possession by Consultant of any illegal drug or controlled substance that is prosecutable under US Federal Laws. Written notice to mean by way of Certified mail, return receipt requested, or by way of a Nationally recognized mail service, Courier service etc.

c. Upon termination or expiration of this Agreement by either party, Consultant shall immediately return to Company all Proprietary Information (as defined below) in Consultant's possession, custody or control in whatever form held (including copies, compilations, summaries, or embodiments thereof relating to Proprietary Information) and provide written certification that all such material has been returned.

d. Company agrees to provide Consultant thirty (30) days Notice, from date of said written notice of termination by the Company, within which to cure any alleged breach it has made against the Consultant identified in paragraph three (3) under "Duties of Consultant".

6. Proprietary Information; Proprietary Rights.

a. In the course of performing his duties under this Agreement, Consultant may obtain information relating to Company and/or its customers, suppliers or other third parties that is of a confidential and proprietary nature ("Proprietary Information"). Such Proprietary Information may include, without limitation, trade secrets, research and development, customer lists, vendor lists, schedule of accounts, plans, programs, inventions, computer software, know-how, inventions, product information, techniques, processes, schematics, data, financial information and sales and marketing plans. Consultant shall, at all times, both during the term of this Agreement and for a period of two (2) years thereafter its termination, keep in trust and confidence all such Proprietary Information, and shall not use such Proprietary Information other than in the course of performing his duties as expressly provided in this Agreement, nor shall Consultant disclose any such Proprietary Information to any person without Company's prior written consent except as required or needed in any legal and/or Court action by Consultant against the Company or any other third party. This pertains to only that information not otherwise gathered from public sources, knowledge already in the public eye or a matter of public record, and/or any other third party other than Consultant.

b. The Company acknowledges that the Consultant is not being hired as a work for hire but rather is being compensated, pursuant to this Consulting agreement, as a Consultant for the express purpose of advising, recommending, counseling, and otherwise utilizing Consultant's expertise in the decision making process as it pertains to the existing and "further development" of the Google's project only.

c. The services and rights which Company is granting to Consultant hereunder are extraordinary and unique and cannot be replaced or adequately compensated in money damages, and any breach by Consultant of this Agreement will cause irreparable injury to Company. Therefore, Consultant agrees that in the event of a breach of this Agreement, Company, in addition to any other remedies that might be available to it, shall be entitled to bring suit at law or equity for money or other damages. Consultant shall not oppose such relief on the grounds that there is an adequate remedy at law, and such right shall be cumulative and in addition to any other remedies at law or in equity (including monetary damages) which Company may have upon the breach of the obligations of confidentiality hereunder.

7. Limitations of Liability. TO THE MAXIMUM EXTENT PERMITTED BY LAW, IN NO EVENT WILL EITHER PARTY BE LIABLE TO THE OTHER PARTY OR ANY THIRD PARTY FOR ANY INCIDENTAL OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES (INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, INDIRECT, SPECIAL, PUNITIVE, OR EXEMPLARY DAMAGES) FOR ANY CLAIM BY ANY OTHER PARTY, EVEN IF SUCH PARTY HAS BEEN ADVISED OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGES.

8. Miscellaneous.

This Agreement is a legally binding agreement between Company and Consultant and shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Florida. This Agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be an original Agreement, and all of which taken together shall constitute one and the same instrument. This Agreement may not be assigned by consultant without the prior written consent of Company. This Agreement shall not be modified, amended, or in any way altered except by an instrument in writing signed by both Company and Consultant. Each party shall refrain from making or issuing any statements, disclosures, or other communications related to this Agreement, the subject matter of this Agreement, or the services provided hereunder. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between Company and Consultant with respect to the subject matter of this Agreement, and supersedes all prior agreements, whether written or oral, with respect to the subject matter contained in this Agreement.

Please indicate your acceptance of the terms of this Agreement by signing in the space indicated below.

j. Failure to register Licensor's Intellectual Property Rights in the name of Licensor, and instead registering copyrights and trademarks in Stelcor's name;

k. Failure to oppose trademark applications for the name Google's, and the domain name registration googles.org, and otherwise protect the Licensed Intellectual Property; and

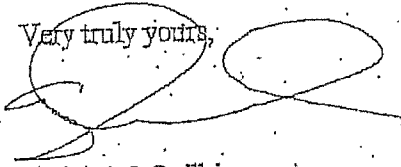

l. Unlawful use of the limited power of attorney granted under the Agreement, namely retaining counsel for Mr. Silvers without his knowledge or consent, filing an action in the name of Mr. Silvers to dispute Google, Inc.'s right to use the domain name google.com, and filing an answer in the name of Mr. Silvers in Cancellation Proceeding 92043737.

This also serves as notice under the Letter Agreement dated June 1, 2002, that Stelcor has breached the Letter Agreement by its:

Re: Silvers/Stelor License Agreement

Dear Mr. Esrig:

As you know we represent Steven Silvers, Licensor under the License, Distribution and Manufacturing Agreement dated June 1, 2002 ("License Agreement"), and party to the Letter Agreement dated June 1, 2002 ("Letter Agreement"). On November 12, 2004 we served notice on Stelor that it was in breach of several material provisions of both the License Agreement and Letter Agreement, a copy of which is attached.

Pursuant to paragraph 1(c) of the Letter Agreement, and paragraph IX-A of the License Agreement, this serves as notice that Mr. Silvers is exercising his option to terminate the License Agreement for Stelor's failure to cure its breach of the Letter Agreement within thirty (30) days, and breach of the License Agreement within sixty (60) days.

Pursuant to paragraph X of the License Agreement, Stelor must immediately provide Mr. Silvers with a complete schedule of all inventory of Licensed Products on hand or on order. Stelor has six (6) months to continue to sell this inventory in accordance with the License Agreement. So long as Stelor is actively selling its inventory of Licensed Products, it may continue the use of the Licensed Intellectual Property associated with the inventory for this period. Outside the scope of its efforts to sell its inventory of Licensed Products, Stelor must immediately cease use of the Licensed Intellectual Property, including names, trademarks, signs, advertising and anything else that might make it appear that it is still handling the articles and products of Mr. Silver. Further, Stelor must return to Mr. Silvers all material relating to the Licensed Intellectual Property and inform its sub-licensees of the termination of the License Agreement.

Because the License Agreement is terminated, Stelor may not proceed to represent the interests of Mr. Silvers in TTAB Opposition Proceeding No. 91161251, TTAB Cancellation Proceeding No. 92043496, the domain dispute against Google pending before the National Arbitration Forum, or participate in TTAB Cancellation Proceeding No. 92043737. And, because the License Agreement is terminated, the action pending in federal district court is now moot. Thus, we will file the appropriate notices in these proceedings.

Our client regrets that this relationship did not work out, and would like very much to keep the relationship amicable throughout the six month inventory sell-off period.

Sincerely,

Gail A. McQuilkin

Re: Silvers/Stelor License Agreement

Dear Mr. Esrig:

On November 12, 2004, we served notice on Stelor that it was in breach of several material provisions of both the License Agreement and Letter Agreement, a copy of which is attached. Because Stelor did not cure those breaches, on January 13, 2005 we served on Stelor a notice of termination of the License Agreement, a copy of which is attached.

On January 28, 2005, Stelor and Silvers entered into a Settlement Agreement in which Silvers agreed to withdraw his notice of termination provided Stelor perform its obligations under the Settlement Agreement. Stelor, however, has:

failed to provide Silvers with unit interests in Stelor LLC under paragraph 9; failed to pay Silvers monthly installments on royalty advances on the first of every month under paragraph 10 (a);

failed to pay on April 1, 2005 the monthly advance on royalties required by Silver to maintain his insurance coverage through the Aurora Collection under paragraph 10 (b); failed to cooperate in the audit of the books and records of Stelor under paragraph 14; and failed to provide Silvers samples of Licensed Products that are being offered for sale under paragraph 15.

Furthermore, although Stelor has provided a written statement that it is not offering any

Furthermore, although Stelcor has provided a written statement that it is not offering any products for sale, and no royalties due, that statement has proven to be false.

Stelcor continues to be in breach of the License Agreement as outlined in our letter of November 12, 2004. This is to provide notice to you that due to Stelcor's failure to perform its obligations under the Settlement Agreement, and failure to cure the breaches under the License Agreement, Silvers is reinstating his notice of termination of the License Agreement effective immediately.

Pursuant to paragraph X of the License Agreement, Stelcor must immediately provide Silvers with a complete schedule of all inventory of Licensed Products on hand or on order. Stelcor has six (6) months to continue to sell this inventory, if any, in accordance with the License Agreement. So long as Stelcor is actively selling its inventory of Licensed Products, it may continue the use of the Licensed Intellectual Property associated with the inventory for this period. Outside the scope of its efforts to sell its inventory of Licensed Products, Stelcor must immediately cease use of the Licensed Intellectual Property, including names, trademarks, signs, advertising, web site, and anything else that might make it appear that it is still handling the articles and products relating to the Googles IP. Further, Stelcor must return to Silvers all material relating to the Licensed Intellectual Property and inform its sub-licensees and those selling Googles related merchandise of the termination of the License Agreement.

Because the License Agreement is now terminated, Stelcor may not represent Silvers' interest in any legal proceeding or action.

Sincerely,

Gail A. McQuilkin

Dear Dan:

This is in response to your letter of April 29, 2005. My client is not interested in Stelor's offer of late compliance with the terms of the Settlement Agreement or its obligations under the License Agreement. Mr. Silvers has terminated the License and intends to go in a different direction to develop his characters and intellectual property. We expect Stelor to honor its obligations under the termination provisions of the License Agreement.

Sincerely,

Re: Stelor Productions, Inc. v. Steven A. Silvers

Dear Kevin:

This is in response to your June 21, 2005 letter. As you know, our position is that the Settlement Agreement and License Agreement have been terminated due to Stelor's failure to perform under both. Your letter once again confirms that Stelor did not perform, and is simply another attempt post-termination to cure some but not all of Stelor's breaches. This is not acceptable to Mr. Silvers.

Your statement about tending checks is wrong. The late checks were never tendered. You sent us copies of checks post-termination. Besides, tendering checks post-termination does nothing to cure breaches that occur pre-termination.

Further, even if the Settlement Agreement were in effect -- which it is not because Stelor did not perform -- Stelor is once again trying to impose conditions. There is no requirement that Silvers provide proof of payment for the $1000 royalty advance. It is Silvers' option to take up to $1000 per month against his future royalties. And, let me remind you that Silvers has already provide a declaration that he requires the $1000 to cover his health insurance premium payments, despite that he had no obligation to so (another condition you imposed before Stelor would honor its obligations).

Also, there is no condition on Silvers' right to audit Stelor that his auditor provide Stelor a list of information needed for the audit. The License Agreement states that he is entitled to see all the books and records and all documents and material related to the License Agreement.

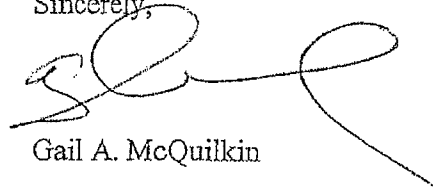

As for the options, we will determine the status of the LLC certificates when we conduct discovery. On the topic of discovery, two weeks ago I offered to have a Rule 26 conference. That offer was met with stone cold silence. I am again offering to hold a Rule 26 conference so we can get this matter set for trial on an expedited track (assuming the Court does not dismiss the action). I am available this Friday to hold that conference.

Finally, this is to advise you that the federal discovery rules require that Stelor maintain all electronic documents and communications, including email sent and received. This means that all electronic materials must be maintained and preserved to avoid spoliation of evidence.

Sincerely,

Re: License Termination

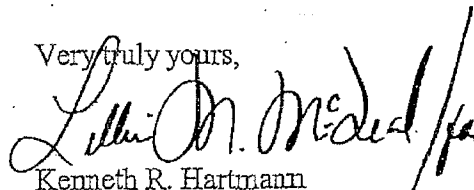

Dear Kevin:

Based on Mr. Esrig's recent declaration, it appears that Stelor is continuing to engage in the unauthorized use of Mr. Silvers' intellectual property and may be misrepresenting its status as a licensee. Because the License Agreement has been terminated, Stelor no longer has authority to act as Mr. Silver's licensee, and must cease and desist from conducting business that relates in any way to the License Agreement. In fact, the post-termination provisions in the License Agreement require Stelor to immediately inform all sublicensees, or in this instance potential sublicensees, that its license has been terminated. Stelor's apparent concealment of its termination is misleading as to these persons.

If Stelor persists in the unauthorized exploitation of Mr. Silvers' intellectual property, we will have no choice but to seek injunctive relief. To the extent Stelor incurs liability to third parties, based on its unauthorized conduct, or suffers "damages," Stelor obviously bears sole responsibility.

Furthermore, Stelor must make the necessary changes to eliminate all reference to the Googles name and "goo" related words. While we have tried in good faith and as a courtesy to give Stelor enough time to make this transition, it appears that Stelor has taken no action. If Stelor fails to make these changes we will file an action for trademark infringement.

Very truly yours,

Kenneth R. Hartmann
