Good Morning,

I no longer have the desire to be part of the business. You will both rvc a letter soon. It was mailed on Saturday. I will follow this email with the personal email I wrote, but you will both get a formal letter within the next few days. I will also send the formal letter by email. I have taken my portion of $380 contributed to the business out of the bank. I will take my name off of the accounts and any other business documents.

The book includes my work and we can handle that business in the next few months but for the business I am totally out. I am sure you will be taking legal action soon and I am prepared.

I wish you the best in your future. I just want out so I may go on with my personal goals. I have to take the responsibility of getting into something than I didn't think through and was unsure of. I was told over and over it's never good to do business with friends, but I didn't listen so now I have to pay.

I am sure this will end our friendships and that is fine remember Business is Business.

* Please don't call me. We can deal with each other legally and through formal letters.* There is no need to argue and go back and forth. I can't let emotion get in the way of what I have done and need to do.

You may want to change the passwords for all of the accounts. The password for my LV email is the one Delina set up 1978Rhasha.
