Subject: iLOR v. Google - issues re PI motion

Dave,

I wanted to follow up on my vmail from yesterday and Frank's previous emails, to check in with you on the various timing issues we have raised regarding iLOR's PI motion. There are 4 interrelated scheduling issues:

1. When does iLOR expect to provide documents in response to the requests we served last Tuesday, September 4?
2. When is Mr. Mansfield available for a deposition, in the week (or so) after iLOR expects to provide documents?
3. We would like your agreement that Google's opposition filing deadline is extended to one week after Mr. Mansfield's deposition.
4. We would like your agreement on requesting the Court to continue the hearing on iLOR's motion from October 1 to late October, or early November, depending on how the other timing issues (particularly the opposition deadline) stack up.

We would like to resolve this today, given that Google's opposition papers are presently due this Friday, September 14. You can either shoot me an email, or let me know when you are available to discuss these issues. I can make myself available at just about any time today.

Regards,
Kurt
