This matter is before the Court on Plaintiff's Motion to Reconsider a previous order of this Court [R. 16], Defendant's Response [R. 20], and Plaintiff's Reply [R. 22]. Plaintiff is essentially rehashing her previously rejected argument for additional discovery. She points to conflicts of interests and argues that their existence should allow her additional discovery [See R. 16].

When a Court is faced with a Motion to Reconsider, "[d]istrict courts possess the authority and discretion to reconsider and modify their interlocutory orders at any time before final judgment." Leelanau Wine Cellars, Ltd. v. Black & Red, Inc., 118 Fed. Appx. 942, 945 (6th Cir. 2004). While the Court has the authority to engage in a review of analysis already conducted, the Court finds it unnecessary to do so based on Plaintiff's motion. Plaintiff continues to make arguments based on conflict. The Court already considered and rejected the contention that a conflict justifies additional discovery. As such, the Court hereby ORDERS that the Plaintiff's Motion to Reconsider [R. 16] be DENIED.

This the 29th day of September, 2011.
