Subject: RE: Snyder v. Phelps, et al. - request for concurrence for a continuance on April 3, 2008

I spoke with Becky and also put in a call to Marge. As long as we work out a date that is agreeable, we have no objection to this. I know that April is a bad month and May is worse because of the children and the end of the year activities for children graduation from grade school and college. I'm sure we can find a date that is agreeable if we try.

Thanks!

Thanks for your message. As I've said before, I do not accept emails as sufficient for communicating time sensitive matters to me; I don't walk around with a Blackberry.

I wait to hear back from my clients about how to address your request. My inclination is to agree to recheduling, so long as the Plaintiff will be flexible in dealing with the calendars of several parties. Thanks.
Jon

Importance: High

As I'm sure you recall from our last telephone conference, the documents submitted directly to chambers can be reviewed in chambers. I do not know what plaintiff's position is concerning the necessity of a hearing until the documents are reviewed. In this regard, I will not be able to make that determination until later in the week next week, and possibly not until the day of the hearing. Therefore, I would like the judge to continue the April 3, 2008 hearing to allow for enough time to review your documents. Please respond with your position concerning a continuance. Time is running out so I'll need to file a motion today. Thank you.
