LETTER TO ALL PARTIESRE: C.D.H. et al. v. Commissioner, Social Security Administration
Civil No. 22-2069-SAG

Dear Plaintiff and Counsel:

On August 16, 2022, Plaintiff, Ann H., on behalf of her minor child, C.D.H., and proceeding pro se, filed a complaint in this Court against the Social Security Administration (“SSA” or “Defendant”) challenging the SSA’s denial of benefits. ECF 1. The SSA filed the Notice of Filing of Official Transcript of Proceedings and Schedule on November 1, 2022. ECF 10. Plaintiff’s deadline to submit a motion for summary judgment was January 1, 2023, as reflected on the docket entry. Id. Counsel for the SSA certified that Plaintiff was mailed a copy of the schedule, including the January 1, 2023, deadline, on November 3, 2022. ECF 11. Magistrate Judge Hurson¹ issued an order on November 15, 2022, directing Plaintiff to file a written response explaining the SSA’s error(s) or, “[a]t a minimum,” to “indicate that [she] intend[s] to proceed with [her] complaint.” ECF 12, at 1. Judge Hurson advised Plaintiff that if she did not do so by January 1, 2023, her complaint may be dismissed pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 41(b). Id. To date, Plaintiff has not responded to Judge Hurson’s Order.

Under Rule 41(b), “[i]f the plaintiff fails to prosecute or to comply with [the Federal Rules] or a court order, a defendant may move to dismiss the action or any claim against it.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 41(b). The Court also possesses “[t]he authority . . . to dismiss [an action] sua sponte for lack of prosecution” as part of its “inherent power.” Link v. Wabash R. Co., 370 U.S. 626, 630–31 (1962). Before doing so, however, the Court should consider the following factors: “(1) the plaintiff’s degree of personal responsibility; (2) the amount of prejudice caused the defendant; (3) the presence of a drawn out history of deliberately proceeding in dilatory fashion; and (4) the effectiveness of sanctions less drastic than dismissal.” Attkisson v. Holder, 925 F.3d 606, 625 (4th Cir. 2019) (citing Hillig v. C.I.R., 916 F.2d 171, 174 (4th Cir. 1990)). “The factors supply a guideline rather than a ‘rigid four-prong test.’” Catherine D. v. Comm’r of Soc. Sec., No. DLB-19-1370, 2021 WL 1753568, at *1 (D. Md. May 4, 2021).

Considering these factors here, dismissal for lack of prosecution is appropriate. Plaintiff, as a pro se litigant on behalf of her minor child, is personally responsible for prosecuting the case. Though pro se plaintiffs are afforded some leeway, “they as well as other litigants are subject to the time requirements and respect for court orders without which effective judicial administration would be impossible.” Ballard v. Carlson, 882 F.2d 93, 96 (4th Cir. 1989). Additionally, Plaintiff’s failure to prosecute the case causes Defendant prejudice. Defendant has no notice of the basis for Plaintiff’s appeal, thereby preventing Defendant from mounting a defense. Finally, other sanctions less drastic than dismissal would be of little effect here, as Plaintiff has failed to meet the low bar of giving the Court any “indicat[ion] that [she] intend[s] to proceed with [the] complaint.” ECF 12, at 1. Plaintiff was advised of the January 1, 2023, deadline in writing well in advance. Three months after the deadline and over four months after Judge Hurson’s warning that failure to prosecute the case could result in dismissal, Plaintiff has failed to file any motion, brief, or otherwise communicate with the Court. Though there is no evidence of a history of dilatory actions by Plaintiff, the other factors counsel in favor of dismissal.

For the foregoing reasons, this action is hereby DISMISSED without prejudice. The clerk is directed to mail a copy of this letter to Plaintiff and CLOSE this case.

Despite the informal nature of this letter, it should be flagged as an opinion and shall be docketed as such. A separate implementing Order follows.

Sincerely yours,
