Umm this is sketchy and I don't think iMarc should be apart of this.
I assume after they have all these email addresses they plan on sending out unsolicited emails ?
As a side note:
I wonder if we should form a Web Ethics Committee to make the final calls on this kind of stuff.

The boys from CU want us to write a little script that logs into www.thefacebook.com, loops through <http://www.thefacebook.com/profile.php?id=XXXXX>

replacing xxxxx with numbers to grab people's email addresses.
We give them back a list.

- 1) how much effort?
- 2) Are we prison guards in iraq, waiting for our own controversy? (I found nothing in the facebook's TOS about mining email addresses)
