DECLARATION OF NABEEL N. HAMAMEH

I, Nabeel N. Hamameh, provide the following declaration in the above-captioned matter based on my own personal knowledge except where stated otherwise, and if called to do so, could and would competently testify as follows:

1. In August, 2005, I utilized a computer that was set up by members of the Sommers Schwartz technical department to view the Cyber Pilot Pro program that was produced by Google as part of Google's document production. The specifications of the computer utilized are as follows: The computer is a Gateway G6-200 utilizing a Pentium Pro 200MHz cache 256k hard drive with 32 MB ram. The Cyber Pilot Pro program was run with Windows 95B operating system (4.00.950B) utilizing Internet Explorer 2.0 (4.40.516). It is my understanding that both the browser and operations system were used in 1996.

2. The Cyber Pilot Pro program is a software program that was provided to Plaintiff NetJumper Software, LLC from Defendant Google, Inc. on a CD during discovery.

3. Using the computer that was prepared by the Sommers Schwartz technical department, I ran the Cyber Pilot Pro program from the CD provided by Google and utilized its functions.

4. In utilizing the functions of the Cyber Pilot Pro program, I clicked on appropriate icons generated by the software. I took screen shots of various screens that appeared as I navigated the Cyber Pilot Pro program. I used the software both with and without first activating the Internet Explorer browser.

5. The above-referenced screen shots are embedded as images in Section C of NetJumper Software, LLC's response brief to Google Inc.'s motion for summary judgment.

FURTHER AFFIANT SAYETH NOT.
