Dear Tim Hassett,

Thank you for contacting Navigation Catalyst Systems Inc. We have received your inquiry regarding appogee.com. Please allow up to 5 business days to receive a response from us regarding the inquiry.

Thank you for your cooperation.

Unfortunately, the price of the domain name appogee.com is firm because we do have multiple offers received for this name.

I do apologize that at this time we are unable to meet your requested price. However, please feel free to contact me if you have any questions, or if you need some advice on purchasing another name, from us, or from another domain name owner.

Thank you.

Hello Hem,

Thank you for the quick response. We are a very small, two employee startup business, and I'm afraid $420.00 is not within our limited budget.

Would you be willing to accept $200.00 for the domain?

Kind Regards,
Tim Hassett

Please include the domain name on the check.
Please note, the authorization code is provided only when the check clears.

Once the payment is confirmed we will send the authorization code to you to initiate the transfer of the domain. You will have to contact a registrar of your choice (e.g. Network Solutions, GoDaddy, Register.com) with that authorization code to initiate the transfer of the domain. Once the transfer is accepted please allow 5-7 business days for completion.

If you have any questions regarding this process, please contact us.

Thank you.

Hem,

One last question:

Who pays the $25 escrow.com fee? You, me, or do we split it?

Hello Hem,

Yesterday, the payment was sent and confirmed via escrow.com, and now the status is "seller notified of good funds". Did you receive it? If so, what is the turn around time on receiving the domain?

Many Thanks,
Tim

Hello Iris,

Sorry to send so many e-mails, but this GoDaddy transfer process has involved more steps than I originally thought, and it does not look like the transfer process is complete yet. Attached is a screen shot of my GoDaddy domain manager console stating it is waiting for the current registrar to accept the transfer.

Can you please advise?

Thanks,
Tim
