To Whom It May Concern,

This letter is to confirm that Jason M. Turkish will be enrolled in a public interest law practicum course through the Northwestern University School of Law. The purpose of the course is for Mr. Turkish to gain knowledge and experience in the field of Federal Americans with Disabilities Act litigation, a specialty area of practice that he has shown an interest in pursuing as a career after law school.

Through his enrollment in the practicum course at Northwestern, Mr. Turkish will be earning law school credit for his participation as a law student in the matter of Binno v. The American Bar Association. Mr. Turkish's work on the case and the related academic work he will be completing for the course will be supervised jointly between Richard H. Bernstein of the Sam Bernstein Law Firm in Farmington Hills, Michigan and me. Mr. Bernstein directs the Public Service Division of his firm and will be serving as lead counsel in this case and will provide supervision for Mr. Turkish during all court proceedings.

If you have any questions or concerns related to Mr. Turkish's course of study at the Northwestern University School of Law, please do not hesitate to call.

Respectfully submitted,

Audra Wilson, Esq.
Director of Diversity Education and Outreach
Adjunct Professor – Summer Public Interest Law Practicum
