

We the People of Montana
PO Box 416
Hamilton, MT 59840

For Immediate release: For more information:
April 20, 2010

www.Bitterroot-rising.org

Affidavits are sworn to arrest City, County Prosecutors.

Hamilton, Montana- Affidavits were constructed for the arrest of Hamilton City Prosecutor Kenneth S. Bell, and County Prosecutor George H. Corn of Ravalli County.

Under Montana Law, an arrest can be requested to a court for the willful injury to someone's character or person as prescribed in MCA 27-16-102 subsection 2. The affidavits request the arrests with respect to pending cases: Spreadbury v. Bell and Spreadbury v. Wetzeon et. al. . These are civil cases filed in the 21st Judicial District in Ravalli County, with Missoula Judges due to be assigned due to conflicts of interest.

Bell is alleged to have pantomimed, gestured, and otherwise presented false information in an order of protection hearing on November 20, 2009 in Hamilton's Municipal Court. Bell was not representing a city interest, nor a city employee in the hearing for petitioner Ms. Nansu Roddy. Giving false information in a civil order of protection hearing is a crime. This action by Bell on November 20, 2009 gave Spreadbury significant emotional distress.

Mr. Corn assigned a law student (without Montana Bar License) in the summer of 2007 to prosecute Spreadbury by the name of Angela Wetzeon, who now works for Corn in the Ravalli County Attorney Office. The unsupervised Wetzeon secured a false misdemeanor arrest warrant for Spreadbury, with excessive bail, which was later executed at 3am August 11, 2007 by Ravalli County Sheriff Deputies. Only felony warrants can be executed in the middle of the night. Spreadbury was due to return to Missoula International on August 11, 2007 and was not home at the time of the incident.

The affidavits seek arrest of Prosecutors Wetzeon, Corn, and Bell for willful harm to person or character, namely Michael Spreadbury of Hamilton, MT. District Judges from Missoula, MT will decide the fate of the prosecutors due to a conflict of Interest: Roddy is a former spouse of Honorable Jim Haynes, a Hamilton District Judge, and the man who recommended Bell to his City Prosecutor position.

=====

We have just a few words for the RCAO:

Get Ready for a constant pummeling in the courts. The hunters will become the hunted. Destroying lives for ego is pricey on budgets.