About me	Banned from the Bitterroot Public Library for requesting print material to be added to collection. This was done outside of Montana law, and ALA policies for right to read, and library bill of rights.
About my library	My library is run by terrorists worried that the rule of law, and the US Constitution will return to Hamilton, Montana. The library charged me with trespassing on public property, not a misprint. They were so upset about this letter about local justice in Montana that false information was published in the USA today, and AP wires. See website for letter to president
