RE: 1. Ravalli County
2. Telephone conversation of 10/18/07 with Billings Staffer

Dear Mr. Messina,

I am hoping that this reaches you well. Please note that the senator's office has not issued a letter in regards to my request of a congressional inquiry into civil rights crimes and criminal conspiracy in Western Montana and Ravalli County dated 8/29/07. Senator Jon Tester wrote to us on September 12, 2007. I am in the process of putting together a national press release indicating the resistance we received from our congressmen; no assistance was levied from your office. Melanie Hanes, from your Billings office will be named within a "persons of interest" to the USDOJ for her actions to protect these criminals. I have never heard of a congressman's office refuse to help their constituents. Please draft a formal letter to me which states that there is a refusal to assist us with civil rights crimes in a congressional inquiry as we requested in the above mentioned letter which was sent by fax to DC and hand delivered to the senator's Missoula office on or near August 29, 2007.

At approximately 14:45 hours yesterday, Melanie Hanes of the Billings office called my home after I left a message to call. She overpowered the conversation with her personal experience as a prosecutor for 20 years. Congressional aides do not normally overpower constituents when they are seeking help from a congressional office. Ms. Hanes and I had not spoken before. She spoke specifically of my "case" and gave legal advice which was not solicited. In an antagonistic manner, she interjected if I had a problem speaking to women. When I asked if there were anyone else I could speak to, Ms. Hanes did not respond. She did emphatically say that we would not get a congressional inquiry. Noteworthy, Ms. Hanes did not see our 120 pages of documentation that "We the People" were prepared to submit yesterday to Max Baucus staffers. Ms. Hanes terminated the phone call abruptly and without warning.

Protecting prosecutors and the situation in Ravalli County is a form of conspiracy. We now have a direct line to the Department of Justice in Washington DC for Civil Rights. We will not hesitate to name Melanie Hanes for officials to investigate.

On behalf of "We the People" of Ravalli County, I look forward to the letter refusing a congressional inquiry on our behalf which was requested 6-7 weeks ago.

Sincerely,

Michael Spreadbury
