UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
 DISTRICT OF MONTANA
 MISSOULA DIVISION

TANYA GERSH,

Plaintiff,

vs.

ANDREW ANGLIN, publisher of the Daily Stormer,

Defendant.

Case No.:

COMPLAINT FOR INVASION OF PRIVACY, INTENTIONAL
 INFLICTION OF EMOTIONAL DISTRESS, AND VIOLATIONS OF THE ANTI-INTIMIDATION ACT

JURY DEMAND

I. Introduction

1. This case asserts claims for invasion of privacy, intentional infliction of emotional distress, and violations of Montana's Anti-Intimidation Act arising out of a coordinated, repulsive, threatening campaign of anti-Semitic harassment directed at Tanya Gersh, a Jewish real estate agent living in Whitefish, Montana.

2. This terror campaign, known as a “troll storm,” was launched by Andrew Anglin, a well-known neo-Nazi operating out of Ohio.

3. Mr. Anglin publishes the Daily Stormer, a neo-Nazi web site with hundreds of thousands of visitors each month that takes its name from the infamous anti-Semitic Nazi paper Der Stürmer. The Daily Stormer has become notorious for terrorizing individuals through similar campaigns in the past.

4. Mr. Anglin turned his horde of anti-Semitic fanatics loose on Ms. Gersh in a series of Daily Stormer articles he started publishing in December 2016. These articles caused his followers to overwhelm Ms. Gersh with hundreds of hateful and threatening anti-Semitic phone calls, voicemails, text messages, emails, letters, social media comments, and false online business reviews.

5. Mr. Anglin made his initial call to arms in a December 16, 2016 article that urged “Let’s Hit Em Up[.] Are y’all ready for an old fashioned Troll Storm? Because AYO [hey you] – it’s that time, fam [family].”

6. To assist his white nationalist “fam,” Mr. Anglin provided phone numbers, email addresses, and links to social media profiles for Ms. Gersh, her immediate family members (including her twelve-year-old son), her friends, and her colleagues. Mr. Anglin also provided his followers with online discussion forums where the followers could trade ideas and information for carrying out the harassment.

7. “Just make your opinions known. Tell them you are sickened by their Jew agenda . . .” Mr. Anglin urged in his December 16, 2016 article. “This is very important. Calling these people up and/or sending them a quick message is very easy. It is very important that we make them feel the kind of pressure they are making us feel.”

8. Mr. Anglin even urged his followers to seek Ms. Gersh out in person: “And hey – if you’re in the area, maybe you should stop by and tell her in person what you think of her actions[.]”

9. Mr. Anglin also posted a Nazi-fied image of Ms. Gersh in the December 16, 2016 article that comes up as a top online search result for Ms. Gersh’s name: a snapshot of Ms. Gersh in front of a fireplace, recalling the crematoria of Nazi Germany, superimposed with a yellow Star of David bearing the label “Jude,” German for “Jew,” in reference to the stars Jews were required to wear by the Nazi regime before and during World War II.

10. Mr. Anglin’s white nationalist fanatics, operating at his urging and exhortation, answered his call and directed hundreds of anti-Semitic, hateful, harassing communications—including death threats—to Ms. Gersh, her family members, her friends, and her colleagues.

11. These communications contained countless slurs and threats designed to inflict maximum emotional damage on Ms. Gersh. “[O]ven-dodging Christ killer,” “Worthless fuckin kike,” and “slimy jewess,” appeared among scores of other repugnant epithets.

12. This tsunami of threats arrived by email, social media, and voicemail: “We are going to ruin you, you Kike PoS [piece of shit] . . . You will be driven to the brink of suicide. & We will be there to take pleasure in your pain & eventual end.” Unidentified individuals threatened, “This is the goylash. You remember the last goylash, don’t you Tanya?” and, “Ratfaced criminals who play with fire tend to get thrown in the oven.”

13. To maximize the troll storm’s terrorizing effect on Ms. Gersh, Mr. Anglin and his followers even targeted her twelve-year-old son. Mr. Anglin called him a “scamming little kike” and a “creepy little faggot” in his December 16, 2016 article. Then Mr. Anglin’s followers, acting at his urging, harassed Ms. Gersh’s son with comments on his Twitter feed: “ask your mommy why she hates white people so much and runs an extortion racket.” A Twitter user with the handle “Kaiser Wilhelm II,” the name of an anti-Semitic German emperor, tagged Ms. Gersh’s son in a tweet that read, “psst kid, theres a free Xbox One inside this oven[.]” The tweet included a photograph of an oven.

14. Mr. Anglin and his followers targeted Ms. Gersh's husband, as well. Mr. Gersh received many threatening, hateful, and harassing phone calls, voicemails, false online reviews of his law firm and emails including this one: "Put your uppity slut wife Tanya back in her cage, you rat-faced kike. Tell your scamming son [name omitted] to kill himself, too. Day of the rope soon for your entire family."

15. Mr. Anglin justified his call to arms as retribution against Ms. Gersh, whom he accused of "extorting" a part-time Whitefish resident named Sherry Spencer. Ms. Spencer is the mother of Richard Spencer, an infamous white nationalist who gained notoriety when a video emerged of him spouting racist rhetoric and declaring, "Hail Trump! Hail our people! Hail victory!" at a gathering of white nationalists giving Nazi salutes in Washington D.C. soon after the November 2016 presidential election of President Donald Trump.

16. By way of background, Whitefish residents' discontent with the Spencer family had been simmering for years and reached a fever pitch when the "Hail Trump" video of Richard Spencer went viral.

17. The video's viral release prompted discussion among Whitefish residents, the vast majority of whom flatly reject Richard Spencer's hateful ideology. Some members of the community, believing that Ms. Spencer had not disavowed her son's racist views and was continuing to provide financial support to Mr. Spencer, considered protesting in front of a mixed-use commercial building Ms. Spencer owns on Lupfer Avenue in downtown Whitefish.

18. When members of the community approached Ms. Gersh (one of the few Jewish residents of Whitefish) about the possible protests, she and others contacted the building's commercial tenants to warn them that a protest might occur outside the Lupfer Avenue building.

19. One of these tenants asked Ms. Gersh to call Ms. Spencer. Ms. Gersh declined at first, then reluctantly agreed to consider accepting a call from Ms. Spencer, thinking it unlikely that Ms. Spencer would actually call.

20. But Ms. Spencer did in fact place a call to Ms. Gersh. Ms. Spencer asked, "What should I do? What would you do?" and expressed concern over the turmoil her building had caused in the community.

21. When Ms. Spencer lamented the trouble her building was causing, Ms. Gersh wondered aloud why Ms. Spencer was keeping it and said that if she were in Ms. Spencer's situation, she would sell the building, make a donation, and issue a statement disavowing her son's views.

22. Ms. Spencer took these ideas and ran with them, imploring Ms. Gersh to serve as her real estate agent for the sale. Ms. Gersh agreed.

23. Over the Thanksgiving holiday, however, Ms. Spencer apparently began to get cold feet. Ms. Spencer emailed Ms. Gersh asking to proceed with the sale independently, without assistance from Ms. Gersh.

24. Ms. Gersh agreed, and forwarded contact information for several other real estate agents who could help Ms. Spencer sell her building. These emails were the last communication between Ms. Spencer and Ms. Gersh.

25. About two weeks later, and without any warning to Ms. Gersh, Ms. Spencer published a blog post on the website Medium. Ms. Spencer alleged in her post that Ms. Gersh had tried to threaten and extort her into agreeing to sell her building, making a donation, and denouncing her son's views.

26. The day after Ms. Spencer's Medium post, Mr. Anglin began posting articles on the Daily Stormer parroting Ms. Spencer's allegations against Ms. Gersh and calling for a troll storm against her. This first post by Mr. Anglin immediately triggered the deluge of threatening, hateful, and harassing communications Ms. Gersh has endured.

27. Since launching the troll storm, Mr. Anglin has stoked the fire continuously by publishing new articles on the Daily Stormer about Ms. Gersh or referencing Whitefish. As of the date of this filing, Mr. Anglin has published thirty such articles, the majority of which urge his readers to continue their harassment of Ms. Gersh and her family and associates.

28. This ongoing campaign of terror has included threatening and hateful images of Ms. Gersh, even including this image of her along with her twelve-year-old son and two other members of the Whitefish Jewish community superimposed on a photograph of the Auschwitz concentration camp:

29. Ms. Gersh has experienced serious and severe emotional and physical distress as a result of the harassment, for which she has received medical treatment. Ms. Gersh has had panic attacks, goes to bed in tears, wakes up crying, startles easily, feels anxiety and discomfort in crowded places, has had trouble leaving her home, and fears answering her phone.

30. Ms. Gersh's physical symptoms include weight gain, joint pain, and hair loss. Overall, she feels like an entirely different person than she did before the troll storm, as though she has been permanently altered.

II. Jurisdiction and Venue

31. This action arises under Montana state law.

32. This Court has jurisdiction pursuant to Article III of the United States Constitution and 28 U.S.C. § 1332. The amount in controversy exceeds $75,000, exclusive of interests and costs, and there is diversity of citizenship.

33. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Mr. Anglin because he purposefully directed conduct that resulted in the accrual of a tort action at residents of Montana, thereby injecting himself into the state's affairs.

34. Venue is proper in this Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b)(2) because a substantial part of the events giving rise to the claim occurred in Whitefish, Montana.

35. Intra-district assignment to the Missoula Division is appropriate because a substantial part of the events or omissions which give rise to the claim occurred in Whitefish, Montana.

III. Parties

36. Plaintiff Tanya Gersh is a resident of Whitefish, Montana, and has lived there for over twenty years.

37. Ms. Gersh is Jewish and is married to a Jewish man. She and her husband have raised their two children in the Jewish faith.

38. Ms. Gersh began selling real estate three years ago, after a long career as a wedding planner.

39. Defendant Andrew Anglin is a resident of Ohio.

40. Mr. Anglin is the founder and editor of a neo-Nazi website called the Daily Stormer, which appears at www.dailystormer.com.

IV. Factual Allegations

A. Sherry Spencer

41. Sherry Spencer is the mother of Richard Spencer, a well-known anti-Semite, racist, xenophobe, and white nationalist who has been labeled the leader of the “Alt-Right,” short for Alternative Right.

42. Ms. Spencer has maintained a personal vacation home in Whitefish, Montana since 2006 but resides in Dallas, Texas.

B. Richard Spencer

43. Richard Spencer is president of the National Policy Institute (“NPI”), a racist, white nationalist think tank associated with the alt-right.

44. NPI aims “to elevate the consciousness of whites, ensure our biological and cultural continuity, and protect our civil rights. . . . [NPI] will study the consequences of the ongoing influx that non-Western populations pose to our national identity,” according to its mission statement.

45. Richard Spencer and NPI rose to national prominence when a video of Mr. Spencer speaking at a November 19, 2016 white nationalist convening in Washington, D.C. went viral. In the video, Richard Spencer declares, “Hail Trump! Hail our people! Hail victory!” as attendees raised their hands in Nazi salutes.

C. The Spencers’ Downtown Whitefish Property

46. A mixed-use property known as 22 Lupfer stands in downtown Whitefish.

47. The Spencers purchased the property on May 1, 2013, under the name of Roediger Property, Inc., of which Richard Spencer was an owner.

48. Ms. Spencer claims to have taken Richard Spencer out of the business entity that held title to the property but has not explained why he was on the title to the property in the first place or whether he receives income from the rents.

49. Richard Spencer applied for a building permit for the lot on September 18, 2014.

50. Some residents protested in front of 22 Lupfer around the time of the building permit application, as the application and Richard Spencer's racist views were common knowledge in Whitefish.

D. The Spencers' Relationship with Whitefish

51. Several vocal white nationalists who moved from other locations now live in Whitefish and the surrounding areas, although Whitefish does not itself have any history of local anti-Semitism.

52. In response to growing concerns about the possibility of an influx of white nationalists in the region, and in order to demonstrate its united opposition to the discriminatory white nationalist message espoused by these vocal few, the Whitefish community has repeatedly and publicly reinforced its commitment to treating all residents with dignity and respect.

53. The Whitefish City Council, for example, approved an anti-hate resolution in December 2014, declaring "its support of Whitefish community values that recognize and celebrate the dignity, diversity, and inclusion of all of its inhabitants and visitors, and protect and safeguard the right and opportunity of all persons to exercise their civil rights, including the rights of free speech, freedom of assembly, and freedom from discrimination."

54. As the city government was standing up for values of inclusion and diversity, community organizations began to distance themselves from the Spencers. The board of the symphony asked Ms. Spencer to resign and returned her donation to her. The Wildlife Conservancy rescinded its invitation to her, and the musical school dissolved its advisory committee in part to end its affiliation with Ms. Spencer.

E. Protest Rumors

55. Community discontent with the Spencers grew as Richard Spencer's profile expanded to a national stage.

56. About seventy residents of Whitefish gathered for a meeting during or around the week of November 13, 2016. Someone in the meeting proposed boycotting the businesses of Ms. Spencer's tenants. Although the idea was swiftly rejected, talk of a boycott or protest nonetheless persisted in the Whitefish community.

57. Ms. Gersh heard the rumors of a possible boycott or protest and began to notice people driving past Ms. Spencer's building. She even saw three or four people park, get out of their cars, and photograph the building.

58. Ms. Gersh grew concerned that a protest would actually take place, and she tried to warn several of her friends who rented space as commercial tenants in Ms. Spencer's building.

59. At least one tenant had received warnings from a number of individuals in addition to Ms. Gersh. That tenant called Ms. Gersh asking for advice. Later, the tenant called again asking Ms. Gersh to call Ms. Spencer, who wanted to talk to Ms. Gersh, according to the tenant.

60. Ms. Gersh initially rejected the idea, then reluctantly agreed to at least consider accepting a call from Ms. Spencer, thinking it unlikely that Ms. Spencer actually would call.

F. Ms. Spencer's Call

61. A few minutes later, Ms. Spencer did call Ms. Gersh, essentially asking, "What do I do?" and, "How should I handle this?"

62. During the call, Ms. Spencer lamented the grief her building had caused in the community from the very beginning, leading Ms. Gersh to wonder aloud why Ms. Spencer was keeping the building. Ms. Gersh said that if she were in Ms. Spencer's situation, she might sell her building, donate the profits, and make a public statement.

63. Ms. Spencer apparently liked these ideas and implored Ms. Gersh to be the realtor. "Is that something you would help me do?" she asked.

64. Ms. Spencer gave Ms. Gersh an access code to the building and asked her to go down to the building in person since Ms. Spencer was still in Texas, so that Ms. Gersh could look around, decide how to market it, and determine a proposed list price.

65. Ms. Spencer also asked Ms. Gersh for assistance drafting a press release about the sale and about her rejection of her son's racist ideology.

66. Ms. Gersh felt tremendous relief after taking the call from Ms. Spencer. Ms. Gersh felt that, assuming that all went well, she had been able to help avert what might have been a difficult and disruptive conflict in her community. She felt as if she had defused a bomb.

67. Ms. Gersh called a president of her realty company to ask permission to charge Ms. Spencer a reduced commission, and the president agreed. Ms. Gersh made plans to donate her portion of this reduced commission to a community organization and said as much in an email to Ms. Spencer.

68. Ms. Gersh personally notified some of Ms. Spencer's tenants about the potential resolution. Ms. Gersh also shared this information through Facebook hoping to quell discussions of boycotts or protests.

G. Ms. Spencer's Change of Heart

69. Thanksgiving was a couple days later, and Ms. Spencer spent the holiday in Dallas, Texas, where she lives and has family.

70. On December 1, 2016, Ms. Spencer emailed Ms. Gersh, expressing anguish about the decision to sell the building as well as her relationship with her son: "Richard's actions and statements are not only upsetting to the public at large, but privately have been a source of anguish within our family for several years."

71. Ms. Spencer expressed interest in proceeding independently, without Ms. Gersh serving as the real estate agent.

72. Ms. Gersh responded later the same day, “Thanks for the honest and admirable email. I agree not having me list the building is the right decision. The more I had been thinking about it, the more I had been feeling it wouldn’t be right given the delicate situation. It was why I invited you to lunch. I had the desire, mother to mother, to meet in person and offer support in any way I could. I admire you for the statement you are making. I want you to know how sorry I am for having to be the one to break the situation to you. I hope you understand that I was only trying to save you and your tenants from a public protest and humiliation, in which I was not even involved in. I am grateful it ended peacefully before it began. Your actions will have more of a positive impact on this community than you can ever imagine.”

73. Ms. Gersh included contact information for another realtor with a potential buyer. Ms. Gersh again forwarded contact information for a realtor with another potential buyer the next day. This was the last communication between Ms. Gersh and Ms. Spencer.

H. Ms. Spencer's Accusations

74. Two weeks of silence later, on December 15, 2016, Ms. Spencer published a blog post on the website Medium in which she accused Ms. Gersh of threatening and harassing her into agreeing to sell the Lupfer Avenue property.

75. On information and belief, the blog post was ghostwritten by Ms. Spencer's son, Richard Spencer.

76. Ms. Spencer claimed in the post that she "had no intention of selling . . . until [she] started receiving terrible threats in the last couple of weeks."

77. Falsely attributing the "threats" to Ms. Gersh, Ms. Spencer began to spin a twisted tale of the events that took place, writing that Ms. Gersh "relayed to me that if I did not sell my building, 200 protesters and national media would show up outside—which would drive down the property value—until I complied. [Ms. Gersh's] other conditions included that I make a public denunciation of my son in a statement written by the Montana Human Rights Network and that I make a donation to this organization from the sale of the property."

78. Although Ms. Spencer had implored Ms. Gersh to act as her realtor, even offering her the access code to the building, Ms. Spencer now falsely accused Ms. Gersh of "shamelessly suggest[ing] that she act as my realtor!"

79. Ms. Spencer falsely accused Ms. Gersh of seeking "financial benefit from threats of protests and reputation damage."

I. Mr. Anglin's Involvement

80. Mr. Anglin posted the first in a series of thirty articles related to Ms. Gersh on his website, the Daily Stormer, titled, "Jews Targeting Richard Spencer's Mother for Harassment and Extortion – TAKE ACTION!" on December 16, 2016—the day after Ms. Spencer's Medium post.

81. The article published contact information for Ms. Gersh and members of her family and exhorted readers to contact and visit them to "[t]ell them you are sickened by their Jew agenda"

82. Mr. Anglin attacked Ms. Gersh, accusing her of engaging in "clear and obvious extortion. They are saying 'give us money, or we are going to continue this campaign of terror against you and your family.'"

83. Mr. Anglin also accused Ms. Gersh of "trying to silence Richard Spencer by harassing his mother."

84. Mr. Anglin encouraged readers to call Ms. Gersh "and tell her what you think. And hey – if you're in the area, maybe you should stop by and tell her in person what you think of her actions[.]"

85. Mr. Anglin published Ms. Gersh's cell phone number and the address for the office of Ms. Gersh's husband.

86. Mr. Anglin encouraged readers to "leave a review of her business on Google, and perhaps note that it is [a] front for an extortion racket."

87. Mr. Anglin included an image of Ms. Gersh in front of a fireplace superimposed with a yellow Star of David bearing the label “Jude,” German for “Jew,” with a note that she “posts slut pics on the internet.” Ms. Gersh was particularly disturbed by this picture because it seemed to have been carefully selected for its imagery—a Jew next to a blazing fire, reminiscent of Holocaust atrocities.

88. Mr. Anglin also published the Twitter handle of Ms. Gersh’s twelve-year-old son and encouraged readers to take to Twitter and “tell them what you think of his whore mother’s vicious attack on the community of Whitefish.” Mr. Anglin called Ms. Gersh’s son a “creepy little faggot” and a “scamming little kike.” Mr. Anglin further accused Ms. Gersh’s son of “pushing advertising scams” on his Twitter followers.

89. Mr. Anglin also published Mr. Gersh’s work phone number and work email, and included a link for readers to submit a Google review of Mr. Gersh’s law firm. Mr. Anglin further encouraged readers to “give him a call or stop by his office and let him know what you think of his wife’s behavior, advise him to get a leash on that hoe.”

90. The December 16, 2016 article written by Anglin also included three photos of the Gersh family: one of Ms. Gersh, one of Ms. Gersh’s twelve-year-old son, and one of the whole Gersh family.

91. Mr. Anglin told readers, “Let’s Hit Em Up[.] Are y’all ready for an old fashioned Troll Storm? Because AYO – it’s that time, fam.” Mr. Anglin told readers, “[M]ake your opinions known. Tell them you are sickened by their Jew agenda to attack and harm the mother of someone whom they disagree with.” Mr. Anglin also wrote, “This is very important. Calling these people up and/or sending them a quick message is very easy. It is very important that we make them feel the kind of pressure they are making us feel.” The headline of his article includes the phrase: “TAKE ACTION!”

92. Mr. Anglin also attacked local rabbis, as well as local business owners. He also spewed his hatred toward Jews generally in his December 16, 2016 article, calling them a “vicious, evil race of hate-filled psychopaths.” Mr. Anglin wrote, “All of these Jew organizations engage in this transparent extortion racket with impunity.”

J. Opened Floodgates

93. As soon as Mr. Anglin’s December 16, 2016 article went live, Ms. Gersh and her family began to receive hundreds of threatening communications, including phone calls, voicemails, text messages, emails, letters, social media comments, and malicious Christmas cards. At last count, Ms. Gersh had received more than 700 instances of harassment against her family as a result of Mr. Anglin’s troll storm.

- g) “Tanya Gersh is a disgusting thug that extorts money from people because of their politcal beliefs. What an un american whore.”

96. Some messages that Ms. Gersh received through her work email account as a result of Mr. Anglin's troll storm were copied to her colleagues and were calculated to cause her to be fired:

- a) "I'm very concerned that your company is employing Tanya Gersh who has launched an illegal, bullying, economic and business attack against Sherry Spencer in Whitefish, MT. I hope your company will let Mrs. Gersh go so that she cannot use your business to further harass innocent people."
- b) "You should fire and disavow Tanya Gersh for her unprofessional, illegal, and anti-white conduct. Do the rest of your agents engage in extortion and intimidation as well?"

Get rid of her or get boycotted."
- d) "Tanya Gersh is extorting a local resident, you are employing someone engaging in extortion and harassment, is this really the kind of image you want to portray to the world? Better get rid of her before this becomes national news and you are implicated."

e) “I notice you are using a realtor who is trying to have my mother murdered, financially, and by giving her location to a wide public venue, so the same people behind Black Lives Matter can hunt her down and kill her like they do police. Please inquire diligently as to why Ms. Gersh feels she is so omnipotent that she can bully my mother into selling a property using threats of gangs of violent protestors to ‘lower her property values? Six million thanks for your cooperation.” This message was sent by someone claiming to be Richard Spencer.

Harassment Ms. Gersh Received – Phone Calls

97. Ms. Gersh answered her phone several times after Mr. Anglin’s initial article and was subjected to vile threats before she realized what was happening. She stopped answering her phone altogether unless caller ID showed it to be a caller she knew and still does not answer unknown calls.

98. One caller said, “You should have died in the Holocaust with the rest of your people.”

99. The calls that most disturbed Ms. Gersh consisted only of the sound of guns being fired.

Harassment Ms. Gersh Received – Voicemails

100. Voicemails that Ms. Gersh received included the following statements:

- a) “You filthy piece of trash. You are threatening an old lady. You worthless piece of shit. I hope you die, you worthless cunt. You stupid ugly bitch.”
- b) “Fuck off Jew.”
- c) “Fuck you, you stupid Jew.”
- d) “Give me a fucking [unintelligible] ho. You keep talking all that shit. You think I’m gonna hang up now? You got my dick hard bitch. [unintelligible] what the fuck you want to do with this shit? 128. Mr. Anglin continues: “There’s only one place this road ends. Keep Up the Pressure. Keep calling these people. Keep emailing them. Make it known to them that the jig is officially up. We aren’t playing this game anymore. The entire list of contact information is in my last post. Go do it.” Mr. Anglin posted a link to the first article he published about Ms. Gersh on December 16, 2016.

So please, if you haven’t contacted these people to let them know what you think of their deranged actions, do so. 131. Mr. Anglin also promised to provide an “extended contacts list, where you will be able to tell the business associates of these people what you think of their actions, and ask that they cut their business ties with the Jews engaged in this campaign of harassment and extortion against the Spencers.”

But this is so, so important. We have to stand up to these people, and we have to force an apology from Tanya Gersh . . . So, if you don’t have time: make time. Call and email all of these people. Do it right now.”

140. Apparently believing that a disclaimer would exculpate him, Mr. Anglin wrote, “AND AS ALWAYS: ABSOLUTELY NO THREATS OF VIOLENCE, SUGGESTIONS OF VIOLENCE OR ACTS OF VIOLENCE. DON’T DO IT. IT JUST GIVES THEM POWER. THEY ARE ALREADY CLAIMING THEY ARE GETTING DEATH THREATS, WHILE THE LOCAL POLICE AND THE FBI ARE DENYING IT AND THIS MAKES THEM LOOK STUPID. KEEP EVERYTHING ON THE LEVEL.”

Don’t let me see your face or we both will suffer as a result. You – immediately, me when they get me. LEAVE.” This email was signed “AA,” the initials Mr. Anglin used to sign an editor’s note in a February 3, 2017 Daily Stormer article.

143. After discussing logistics of the armed protest, Mr. Anglin posted an image of Ms. Gersh, her son, and two other Jewish residents of Whitefish at Auschwitz concentration camp, similar to the image featured above.

December 23, 2016 Articles

Mr. Anglin claimed that Love Lives Here, an anti-hate group in Whitefish, was “throwing Tanya Gersh under the bus,” in his December 23, 2016 article, “WHITEFISH GAME CHANGER: Love Lives Here Throws Tanya Gersh Under the Bus!” even though Love Lives Here continuously supported the Gershes and other victims of Mr. Anglin’s troll storm.

145. Mr. Anglin then encouraged his readers to contact businesses and organizations associated with Ms. Gersh, writing “Earlier today, I made a huge post with contact information for business contacts of the racketeers and their supporters. GO CONTACT THESE PEOPLE NOW! If they don’t answer the phone, email them or contact them through Twitter”

December 26, 2016 Article

December 28, 2016 Article

158. Mr. Anglin likened Ms. Gersh to ISIS and Ms. Spencer to a public execution victim, writing, “Gersh had provided Spencer with a pre-written apology/confession, which they asked her to read to the community. This practice is also popular among ISIS, which usually requires public execution victims to read aloud a scripted apology/confession before death.”

January 5, 2017 Article

January 6, 2017 Article

166. The story about Ms. Gersh harassing Ms. Spencer was posted on Anglin's Daily Stormer for the seventh time in a January 6, 2017 article summarizing the Alt-Right's 2016 activity: "Dec16 – Harassment and extortion of Richard Spencer's mother by Jewish activists. Proving that there is always a profit to be made, Montana realtor (((Tanya Gersh))) had the gall to suggest Richard's mother do the following: 1. Denounce her son (as opposed to just disavowing his beliefs, which she did) 2. Sell the building and make 'a donation to human rights efforts' (after threatening to organize protests outside the property, which would lower its value)."

167. White nationalists use triple parentheses to signify that a name belongs to a Jewish person.

168. The article opened with an image of Donald Trump hugging Pepe the frog, an alt-right meme:

January 8, 2017 Articles

169. The story about Ms. Gersh was repeated on Anglin’s Daily Stormer for the eighth time in a January 8, 2017 article, in which the planned actions of the Jewish Defense League, a radical organization, were attributed to Mr. Anglin’s own “planned march in Whitefish, Montana to support Spencer after his mother was illegally harassed by Jewish racketeers.”

170. The article expressed Mr. Anglin’s typical anti-Semitism: “These Jews can’t even admit that what their people did to Spencer’s mother was wrong. They are biologically incapable of admitting that their people could ever be at fault for something. If these Jews actually do end up visiting Whitefish to stir up trouble, it will only further highlight the disgusting and degenerate behavior of the Jew that much more.”

171. Mr. Anglin posted a second article that day denigrating the World Jewish Congress President Ronald S. Lauder for demanding “that authorities in Montana immediately put a stop to an armed march being planned by neo-Nazis in the town of Whitefish on January 15.”

172. Mr. Anglin falsely claimed in this article that Ms. Gersh had “pending litigation against her for her racketeering activities.”

173. Mr. Anglin wrote that he was in communication “with our anti-Jew comrades in Hamas, as we prepare to join hands in Whitefish and march against the Jews, and you just can’t even believe what these poor bastards are dealing with over there.” Elaborating, Mr. Anglin wrote, “These Jews in Israel are just running around killing babies left and right! They took their land! Just went ahead and straight jacked it! Can you believe it??? No wonder they’re so angry!”

174. Mr. Anglin reiterated his interest in the armed protest, sharing a quote from the Whitefish police chief in a mainstream news article and writing, “Dial seems like a pretty cool guy, and I don’t think he’s going to block us from keeping our weapons LOADED.”

175. Mr. Anglin provided more details about his plans for an armed protest: “Currently, we have 178 skinheads being bussed in from the Bay Area on 6 large buses. Including international representatives, we will have a total of around 225 people marching through the city, though only about a third will be armed with machine guns. Others may carry baseball bats or swords, we haven’t decided yet.”

January 10, 2017 Articles

178. The section of the interview about Ms. Gersh was highlighted for Mr. Anglin’s readers: “Richard Spencer also updated listeners on the efforts by Jewish extremists to wreck and extort money from his mother's business in Whitefish, Montana as a means of silencing Richard's own voice."

179. Readers were encouraged to "share [the interview] widely."

180. In the interview, Richard Spencer repeated the accusations he made against Ms. Gersh in his December 26, 2016 interview with David Duke: "There was this nasty woman named Tanya Gersh, who was attempting to force my mother to sell her property and to profit from it all by being her broker. It was just a really terrible situation."

181. David Duke interjected, "Well she's totally consistent with the Talmud and the Halacha. That's for sure."

182. Richard Spencer said, "I'm afraid I agree with you."

183. David Duke recounted the extortion narrative Mr. Anglin continues to promote: "Your mother, who has no political association with you, of course, she doesn't agree necessarily – you have made a statement she doesn't agree with your politics, was targeted in an attempt to destroy her financially, destroy her business, and to basically, profit from it by a number of Jewish elements in Montana."

184. Richard Spencer responded, repeating the extortion narrative yet again, "I mean, Tanya Gersh, who was the person involved in the shakedown of my mother, she just expected her to sell her property, denounce me. I would leave town, and it would just be an easy victory. But the fact is, my mother fought back."

She wrote about what happened. She actually released the e-mails online. That was a huge thing.”

185. Mr. Anglin updated his followers on the armed protest in another article published January 10, 2017.

186. In this post, Mr. Anglin revealed that the city government of Whitefish denied his permit application for the armed protest: “The local government of Whitefish, Montana, where we have been planning to have an armed Neo-Nazi march against local Jewish terrorists, have attempted to cockblock us by denying our permit based on some alleged technicality.”

187. Mr. Anglin indicated that he would probably postpone the march and concluded this post with “Hail Victory.”

January 11, 2017 Article

January 18, 2017 Article

189. Mr. Anglin repeated the extortion narrative about Ms. Gersh for the ninth time when he published a January 11, 2017 article on the Daily Stormer reporting that a group of anti-fascist protesters in Whitefish “came out to defend real estate speculator (((Tanya Gersh))), who sought to use Richard Spencer’s status to mobilize Whitefish Jewry into intimidating his mother into selling her property to Gersh and leaving the town.”

190. The article contained a link to Mr. Anglin’s December 16, 2017 article containing Ms. Gersh’s contact information.

193. Mr. Anglin repeated the extortion narrative about Ms. Gersh for the tenth time in his January 19, 2017 article, writing, “It was the Jew Tanya Gersh who threatened Richard Spencer’s mother. It was the Jewish community of Montana . . . which backed up Gersh in her campaign of extortion. We simply responded. And yet, somehow, we are the bad guys. And the Jews are the victims.”

194. Mr. Anglin characterized the Holocaust as a hoax and attempted to draw a connection to Whitefish: “This is just like another Holocaust, a hoax created to defame good and well-meaning people who are trying to protect themselves and their kinfolk from the international Jewish terror network.”
