LYLE E. STROM, Senior Judge
United States District Court

ADDENDUM A
TO PROTECTIVE ORDER

Clawback Agreement

WHEREAS:

1. ACS State Healthcare LLC (“ACS”) and FourThought Group, Inc. (“FourThought”) (collectively, the “Parties”) agree that ACS and FourThought have collected electronically stored information (“ESI”) potentially responsive to the Parties’ written discovery requests and both will disclose the ESI on a mutually convenient date. This ESI does not include the documents produced by the Parties thus far. The Parties have reached agreement on the ESI search protocol used by ACS (“ACS’ ESI Search Protocol”). ACS’ ESI Search Protocol includes application of an agreed-upon Boolean proximity keyword search (“ACS’ Search Terms”) and does not, and is not intended to, identify the sole or entire methodology for ACS’ identification of responsive ESI. ACS’ ESI Search Protocol is intended to identify potentially responsive ESI (“Potentially Responsive Document(s)”). ACS’ Search Terms are attached hereto as Exhibit A. The Parties have reached agreement on the ESI search protocol used by FourThought (“FourThought’s ESI Search Protocol”). FourThought’s ESI Search Protocol includes application of an agreed-upon Boolean proximity keyword search (“FourThought’s Search Terms”) and does not, and is not intended to, identify the sole or entire methodology for FourThought’s identification of responsive ESI. FourThought’s ESI Search Protocol is intended to identify potentially responsive ESI (“Potentially Responsive Document(s)”). FourThought’s Search Terms are attached hereto as Exhibit B. The Parties acknowledge that application of the Parties’ ESI Search Protocol resulted in the identification of an extremely large volume of Potentially Responsive Documents. The Parties further acknowledge that due to the large volume of Potentially Responsive Documents, it may not be feasible or reasonable for the Parties to review each Potentially Responsive Document for the purpose of identifying ESI subject to the attorney-client privilege and/or work product protection. The Parties have, therefore, agreed to the following process by which the Parties will search for and identify ESI subject to attorney-client privilege or work-product protection (“Privilege/Protection Protocol”): ACS will search the Potentially Responsive Documents for any ESI created, sent or received by any attorney or legal staff involved in RFPs 143Z1, 1158Z1, 2017Z1, 22942, 22317, this action (the “Action”), ACS’ proposals to, or contracts with, the States of Nebraska, South_Dakota and North_Dakota or ACS formal protest of the Nebraska Department of Administrative Services’ intent to award the Medicaid Management Information System contract to FourThought (“ACS’ Legal Staff Keyword(s)”). ACS’ Legal Staff Keywords are attached hereto as Exhibit_C. FourThought will search the Potentially Responsive Documents for any ESI created, sent or received by any attorney or legal staff involved in RFPs 143Z1, 1158Z1, 2017Z1, 22942, 22317, this action (the “Action”), FourThought’s proposals to, or contracts with, the States of Nebraska, South_Dakota or ACS’ formal protest of the Nebraska Department of Administrative Services’ intent to award the Medicaid Management Information System contract to FourThought (“FourThought’s Legal Staff Keyword(s)”). FourThought’s Legal Staff Keywords are attached hereto as Exhibit_D. The Parties will further search the Potentially Responsive Documents for any ESI which contains any one of a number of keywords which may indicate the Potentially Responsive Document is subject to attorney-client privilege and/or work-product protection (“Legal Term Keyword(s)”). The Legal Term Keywords are attached hereto as Exhibit E. The Parties will individually review any Potentially Responsive Document, which using automated searches, is shown to contain any Legal Staff Keyword or any Legal Term Keyword and determine whether the Potentially Responsive Document is subject to attorney-client privilege and/or work-product protection. The Parties will identify on a privilege log any Potentially Responsive Document which is (i) responsive to the other party’s discovery requests and (ii) is subject to attorney-client privilege and/or work-product protection. The Parties, however, shall not be required to identify any privileged communications between or among them and their attorneys of record, regardless of the date of such communications. IT IS HEREBY ORDERED:

2. The Privilege/Protection Protocol is reasonable and intended to prevent the waiver of any privilege with respect to documents entitled to be protected from disclosure by the attorney-client privilege or work product doctrine. If, despite the Parties’ application of the Privilege/Protection Protocol to Potentially Responsive Documents, ESI subject to the attorney-client privilege and/or work-product protection is inadvertently produced, such disclosure or production will be deemed inadvertent and shall not constitute a waiver of any available privilege or protection, nor result in a subject matter waiver of any applicable privilege, by ACS. In the event that either of the Parties discovers or suspects that the other party has produced any ESI which may be subject to attorney-client privilege and/or work-product protection, such party shall bring its receipt of such material to other party’s attention immediately upon discovery, but in any event no later than twenty four (24) hours after such discovery. Upon the request of the disclosing party, the receiving party shall (i) promptly delete any ESI subject to attorney-client privilege and/or work product protection from any and all computer databases and (ii) upon receipt of replacement compact discs, digital video discs, or other media that do not contain the privileged ESI, destroy or return any and all compact discs, digital video discs, and other media containing the privileged ESI. The disclosing party’s disclosure of ESI shall cease to be inadvertent if, within five (5) business days after being notified by the receiving party that it has received potentially privileged ESI, the disclosing party does not request the return or destruction of the privileged ESI pursuant to Paragraphs_8-9. Upon the disclosing party's request, the receiving party shall promptly disclose the names of any individuals, except the Parties' attorneys of record, who have read or had access to the ESI subject to attorney-client privilege and/or work product protection. Any party's inadvertent production of any ESI subject to the attorney-client privilege and/or work product protection may not be used as a basis to argue or contend that the party waived the attorney client privilege and/or work product protections applicable to such ESI or to contend that any subject matter waiver by the party occurred, so long as the party has complied with the Privilege/Protection Protocol. No inadvertently produced ESI subject to the attorney-client privilege and/or work product protection may be used in evidence in this action or for any other purpose.
