Plaintiff Eric Flores filed his complaint (Filing No. 1) on April 8, 2015. The Court granted him leave to proceed in forma pauperis in this action. The Court now conducts an initial review of the complaint to determine whether summary dismissal is appropriate under 28 U.S.C. § 1915\(e\) \(2\).

The Court is required to review in forma pauperis complaints to determine whether summary dismissal is appropriate. See 28 U.S.C. § 1915\(e\). The Court must dismiss a complaint or any portion of it that states a frivolous or malicious claim, that fails to state a claim upon which relief may be granted, or that seeks monetary relief from a defendant who is immune from such relief. 28 U.S.C. § 1915\(e\) \(2\) \(B\).

Pro se plaintiffs must set forth enough factual allegations to “nudge[] their claims across the line from conceivable to plausible,” or “their complaint must be dismissed.” Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 569-70 (2007); see also Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009) (“A claim has facial plausibility when the plaintiff pleads factual content that allows the court to draw the reasonable inference that the defendant is liable for the misconduct alleged.”).

Here, Flores filed a 67-page “Petition to Challenge the Constitutionality of the First Amendment.” (Filing No. 1 at CM/ECF p. 1.) He named the United States Attorney General and the Federal Bureau of Investigation as the respondents. He seeks to certify a class of Mexican-American citizens who are in imminent danger. His allegations pertain to the actions of “an organized group of executive employees of the federal government.” He alleged this group of federal employees “set[] up their own court of common law” specifically established to deprive him of his constitutional rights. (Id. at CM/ECF p. 10.) He also alleged, among other things, that this group of federal employees directed genetic-code altering satellite transmissions from outer space at him, his family members, and other Mexican-Americans. None of the events Flores described in his complaint occurred in Nebraska.

The Court notes Flores has made identical or similar filings in numerous other district courts across the country.

See, e.g., Flores v. United States Attorney General, No. 3:15-CV-00217-RCJ, 2015 WL 3949090 (D. NV. June 29, 2015); Flores v. United States Attorney General, No. CV 15-32-H-DLC-JTJ, 2015 WL 3650038 (D. MT June 11, 2015); Flores v. United States Attorney General, Nos. 15-5026-JLV, 15-5028-JLV, 2015 WL 3644836 (W.D. SD. June 10, 2015); Flores v. United States Attorney General, No. 15-11359, 2015 WL 3407926 (E.D. Mich. May 27, 2015).

The Court will dismiss Flores's complaint because his allegations are entirely baseless, fanciful, fantastic, or delusional. See Denton v. Hernandez, 504 U.S. 25, 32-34 (1992) (court may dismiss complaint of plaintiff proceeding in forma pauperis as frivolous, and disregard clearly baseless, fanciful, fantastic, or delusional factual allegations). In addition, as a pro se litigant, Flores may not represent the interests of other parties. Litschewski v. Dooley, No. 11-4105-RAL, 2012 WL 3023249, at *1 n. 1 (D.S.D. July 24, 2012), aff'd, 502 Fed. Appx. 630 (8th Cir. 2013). Finally, the Court must dismiss Flores's complaint because venue in this district is not proper, as none of the facts alleged in the complaint occurred in the District of Nebraska. A separate order will be entered in accordance with this memorandum opinion.

DATED this 13th day of July, 2015.
