1 1. PERSONAL JURISDICTION

2 Absent an evidentiary hearing, to defeat a motion for lack of personal jurisdiction under 3 rule 12(b)(6) a plaintiff need only establish a prima facie showing of jurisdictional facts through 4 submitted materials to avoid a defendant's motion to dismiss. Data Disc, Inc. v. Systems
5 Technology Associates, Inc., 557 F.2d 1280, 1285 (9th Cir. 1977), Caruth v. International 6 Psychoanalytical Ass'n, 59 F.3d 126, 128 (9th Cir. 1995).

7 Here, plaintiff can do so. To establish general in personam jurisdiction, the plaintiff must 8 allege facts which, if true, would show that defendant has "such continuous and systematic 9 contacts with the forum that the exercise of jurisdiction does not offend traditional notions of 10 fair play and substantial justice." Reebok Int'l Ltd. v. McLaughlin, 49 F.3d 1387, 1391 (9th Cir.
11 1995) (citing Core-Vent v. Nobel Indus. AB, 11 F.3d 1482, 1485 (9th Cir. 1993))

12 Failing a finding of general in personam jurisdiction, the court may still be able to 13 exercise specific jurisdiction by alleging facts which, if true, would show the following three-14 part test is met:

15 (1) The nonresident defendant must purposefully direct his activities or consummate 16 some transaction with the forum or resident thereof; or perform some act by which he 17 purposefully avails himself of the privilege of conducting activities in the forum, thereby 18 invoking the benefits and protections of its laws;

19 (2) the claim must be one which arises out of or relates to the defendant's forum-related 20 activities; and

21 (3) the exercise of jurisdiction must comport with fair play and substantial justice, i.e. it 22 must be reasonable.

23 Reebok Int'l Ltd., 49 F.3d at 1391 (citing Core-Vent, 11 F.3d 1482).

2. GENERAL IN PERSONAM JURISDICTION

To establish general in personam jurisdiction, Sportingbet “must have sufficient contacts to ‘constitute the kind of continuous and systematic general business contacts that approximate physical presence.’” Fisher v. Profl Compounding Ctrs. of Am., Inc., 318 F. Supp. 2d 1046, 1050 (D. Nev. 2004) (quoting Glencore Grain Rotterdam B.V. v. Shivnath Rai Harnarain Co., 284 F.3d 1114 (9th Cir. 2002); Bancroft & Masters, Inc. v. Augusta Nat'l Inc., 223 F.3d 1082, 1086 (9th Cir. 2000)). The degree to which the defendant solicits or engages in business in the state, whether or not the defendant makes sales and if the defendant serves the state’s markets are among the factors the court may consider in making this determination, although lists such as these are to be illustrative rather than limiting. Fisher, 318 F. Supp. 2d at 1050 (citing Gator.Com Corp. v. L.L. Bean, Inc., 341 F.3d 1072, 1077 (9th Cir. 2003)) (see also Gates Learjet Corp. v. Jensen, 743 F.2d 1325, 1331 (9th Cir. 1984) (we must focus upon the “economic reality” of the defendants’ activities rather than a mechanical checklist)).

Sportingbet, through its Paradise Poker product, meets the first set of factors set out in these cases: it sells, solicits business and serves the state’s markets. See Theo H. Davies & Co. v. Republic of the Marshall Islands, 174 F.3d 969, 975 (9th Cir 1998) (finding general jurisdiction over two foreign corporations engaged in substantial commercial activity in the United States). Sportingbet itself identifies at least one customer in the state of Nevada and its own affiliation and acquisition of the Sportingbet product (Exhibit A, Sportingbet and Paradise Poker Press Release, “You guys are the absolute NUTS.” P.D., Nevada, USA and “Paradise Poker has recently joined forces with Sportingbet plc [...] to form the world’s largest online betting company”). http://paradise.scobypoker.com/about_us.phtml). Exhibit B shows a series of screenshots of the Paradise Poker poker tables being played on Friday, October 21, 2005. Those tables show a large number of United States customers, and, specifically, several users

1 specifically in Las Vegas. Each of these users connects to Paradise Poker using the
2 Sportingbet/Paradise Poker software, which is downloaded from Sportingbet, and each user
3 represents an act of infringement induced and participated in by Sportingbet. Exhibit C is a 4 more easily readable summary of the user nicknames, their location (as displayed by the 5 Sportingbet Paradise software) and the name of the poker table on which the players were 6 playing. Users from Las Vegas include players using the nicknames ellen29, babybaer,
7 Michigan21, URALLFISH, Flop_King, bulldod69, gambler789, savwex, GrammaJoan,
8 bsquarepants, ninakay, Rickm89121 (See Exhibits B and C). At any given time, it is reasonable 9 to conclude, as many as twelve and possibly many more players from Nevada are using the 10 services of Sportingbet, and using the infringing technology. (See Exhibits B and C). These 11 players are solicited through internet ads and promotions which include, for example, a 12 promotion culminating with a trip to Las Vegas (Exhibit D, Paradise Poker website, 13 http://www.paradisepoker.com/promotions/2005/wpt_champ/ - World Poker Tour at the 14 Bellagio). Lastly, this involvement in the gaming marketplace certainly affects and is affected
15 by the state's markets. (Exhibit E, Liz Benston, Nevada Players Ante Up Online, LAS VEGAS 16 SUN, April 15, 2005). Sportingbet's contacts are part of a "consistent and substantial pattern of 17 business relations" Davies, 174 F.3d at 975 (see also Quill Corp. v. North Dakota, 504 U.S.
18 298, 119 L. Ed. 2d 91, 112 S. Ct. 1904 (1992)).

23 Moreover, the contact Sportingbet has with Nevada through its online casino is 24 sufficient to grant general jurisdiction under the Ninth Circuit's "sliding scale" which grants
25 jurisdiction if the party in question clearly does business over the internet and if those contacts
26 are substantial or continuous and systematic. see Cybersell, Inc. v. Cybersell, Inc., 130 F.3d
27 414, 417-19 (9th Cir. 1997); Zippo Mfg. Co. v. Zippo Dot Com, Inc., 952 F. Supp. 1119, 1124
28 (W.D. Pa. 1997); Revell v. Lidov, 317 F.3d 467, 470-71 (5th Cir. 2002). "At one end of the

1 spectrum are situations where a defendant clearly does business over the Internet. If the 2 defendant enters into contracts with residents of a foreign jurisdiction that involve the knowing
3 and repeated transmission of computer files over the Internet, personal jurisdiction is proper”
4 Zippo Mfg. Co., 952 F. Supp. at 1124 (citations omitted). This is exactly that situation. In 5 order to communicate with the Sportingbet Paradise Poker product, customers in Nevada (and 6 throughout the United States) download a software package and connect, through the Internet,
7 to Sportingbet’s servers to play poker, either for free or to place actual wagers. (See Exhibit A).
8 Applying the sliding-scale test, Sportingbet’s contacts with Nevada are sufficient to confer
9 general jurisdiction.

12 Sportingbet’s entire business model is predicated on a highly interactive website and 13 software package designed solely to transact business over the internet. “Playing multiplayer
14 poker with our unique software is a terrific experience as we offer exceptional graphics, sounds, 15 distinct features and action.” (Exhibit B). Indeed, the virtual casinos so approximate physical 16 presence that they are competing with brick-and-mortar casinos directly for gaming revenue
17 (Exhibit E, Liz Benston, Nevada Players Ante Up Online, LAS VEGAS SUN, April 15, 2005).
18 This is exactly the technology to which the 1st Technology patent is directed.

21 Lastly, this exercise of jurisdiction must be reasonable. The reasonableness test set out
22 by the Ninth Circuit in Amoco is identical to the test for reasonableness of determining Specific 23 Jurisdiction, which we address below. Amoco Egypt Oil Co. v. Leonis Navigation Co., 1 F.3d
24 848 (9th Cir. 1993). It bears repeating, however, that the burden is on the defendant to present
25 a compelling case that the assertion of jurisdiction is not reasonable. Id. at 851-52. Here, 26 Sportingbet simply cannot do so. It has customers in the United States, and in Nevada, and 27 Sportingbet specifically induces and participates in infringement in Nevada by transmission of 28 and use of its Paradise Poker software packages.

1 3. SPECIFIC JURISDICTION

2 Should the court not find the defendant's contacts to be sufficient to establish general
3 jurisdiction, Sportingbet is nonetheless subject to specific jurisdiction. Each of the three prongs
4 of the Ninth Circuit test for specific jurisdiction are fulfilled in the present case.

6 First, the non-resident defendant must purposefully direct activities or consummate
7 some transaction with the forum or resident thereof; or perform some act which he purposefully 8 avails himself of the privilege of conducting activities in the forum, thereby invoking the 9 benefits and protection of its laws. Schwarzenegger v. Fred Martin Motor Co., 374 F.3d 797,
10 802 (9th Cir. 2004). Sportingbet itself has claimed to have at least one customer in Nevada,
11 ("You guys are the absolute NUTS." P.D., Nevada, USA
12 http://paradise.scobypoker.com/about_us.phtml) and a significant number of its users
13 specifically identify that they reside in Nevada. Sportingbet also directs television and internet
14 advertising to the United States, and may direct additional advertising for its Paradise Poker
15 product to Nevada specifically. At a minimum, 1st Technology should be permitted to explore 16 the extent of those contacts through targeted discovery.

19 Second, the claim must be one which arises out of or relates to the defendant's forum-
20 related activities. Schwarzenegger, 374 F.3d at 802. The claim of patent infringement arises 21 directly from the gaming software used by Sportingbet and its clients to participate in "The 22 Ultimate Online Poker Experience". (Exhibit A). In particular, the patent infringement arises
23 from the downloading and use of the Sportingbet Paradise Poker software by Las Vegas-based 24 users (among a large number of others). "To determine whether a claim arises out of forum-
25 related activities, courts apply a 'but for' test" Doe v. Unocal Corp., 248 F.3d 915, 924 (9th Cir.
26 2001). Since, were Sportingbet not infringing by providing the Paradise Poker software, there 27 would be no infringement suit, it is clear that the claim arises from the conduct.
28

1 Third, the exercise of jurisdiction must comport with fair play and substantial justice.
2 There is a presumption that jurisdiction is reasonable so long as the first two prongs of the 3 specific jurisdiction test have been met. See Schwarzenegger, 374 F.3d at 802 (stating that the 4 plaintiff bears the burden of satisfying the first two prongs of the specific jurisdiction test and 5 that, "[I]f the plaintiff succeeds in satisfying both of the first two prongs, the burden then shifts
6 to the defendant to present a compelling case' that the exercise of jurisdiction would not be 7 reasonable"). Although the defense has failed to mount an argument as to the reasonability of 8 the state of Nevada exercising jurisdiction over Sportingbet Plc, we will outline the relevant 9 issues in this analysis.

11 The court examines seven factors to determine the degree to which jurisdiction
12 comports with "fair play and substantial justice": (1) the extent of the defendants' purposeful 13 interjection into the forum state's affairs; (2) the burden on the defendant of defending in the 14 forum; (3) the extent of conflict with the sovereignty of the defendants' state; (4) the forum 15 state's interest in adjudicating the dispute; (5) the most efficient judicial resolution of the 16 controversy; (6) the importance of the forum to the plaintiff's interest in convenient and 17 effective relief; and (7) the existence of an alternative forum. Sinatra v. National Enquirer, Inc., 18 854 F.2d 1191, 1199 (9th Cir. 1988). Here, these factors almost all favor a finding of 19 jurisdiction.
20
21

22
23 1. Purposefull Injection: as discussed above, Sportingbet advertises to potential clients, 24 provides services to clients and promotes its services in the state of Nevada, all of which 25 demonstrate purposeful injection into Nevada.
26

27 2. Burden on Defense: The defense has failed to delineate any burden placed on 28 Sprotingbet by being sued in Nevada. Even should such a burden be assumed, "unless such inconvenience is so great as to constitute a deprivation of due process, it will not overcome

1 clear justification for the existence of jurisdiction.” Roth v. Garcia Marquez, 942 F.2d 617, 623
2 (9th Cir. 1991). As a publicly traded, multinational corporation with pre-tax profits of around
3 $70 million as of October 12th of this year, Sportingbet is certainly capable of defending itself
4 in this forum to such an extent that it will not be deprived due process.

6 3. Conflict with Foreign State’s Sovereignty: As this case arises from enforcement of a 7 U.S. patent, it only reaches as far as infringing acts taking place in the United States and in 8 concert with United States parties. Therefore, there are no concerns regarding the sovereignty
9 of the UK or any other foreign country.
10

11 4. Forum State Interest: Nevada has a strong public policy interest in regulating and 12 managing the pursuit of gaming activity within Nevada, including internet-based activity, and 13 including any infringement which takes place within Nevada.
14

15 5. The Most Efficient Judicial Resolution of the Controversy: This prong deals with “the 16 efficiency of the forum, particularly where the witnesses and evidence are likely to be located”
17 Caruth v. International Psychoanalytical Ass’n, 59 F.3d 126, 129 (9th Cir. 1995) (citations 18 omitted). Two lawsuits regarding these patents have been previously resolved in Nevada, and 19 been resolved in a highly efficient manner. In addition, “modern advances in communications 20 and transportation have significantly reduced the burden of litigating in another country.”
21 Sinatra, 854 F.2d at 1199. Since there is no significant benefit to any other U.S. forum (and 22 Sportingbet has not suggested a U.S. forum where it would agree to proceed), this factor is at 23 worst neutral, and tends to favor Nevada, whose courts are familiar with the 1st Technology
24 patents.

26 6. Importance of Forum to Plaintiff: The plaintiff has counsel in Nevada who is familiar 27 with his matter and has chosen Nevada as the forum in which to proceed. Again, this factor is 28 at worst neutral, and tends to favor Nevada.

1 7. Unavailability of Alternate Forum: If plaintiff cannot bring suit in Nevada, it is
2 unlikely that he will be able to proceed in another U.S. forum. As a foreign corporation,
3 defendant can be sued equally in any state with which it transacts business. Since Nevada is a 4 prime market for online gambling, it stands to reason that if the transactions of business in 5 Nevada are not sufficient to grant jurisdiction, it would be difficult, if not impossible, for 1st
6 Technology to seek jurisdiction over Sportingbet in another forum.

8 8. Balancing the Factors: Since defendant has not made any claim as to these seven 9 factors, the court should find that they have not overcome the presumption that jurisdiction is 10 reasonable, and therefore are not entitled to a dismissal pursuant to rule 12(b)(6).
11

12 4. REQUEST FOR DISCOVERY

13 Given the nature of defendant's operations in the United States, specific additional 14 information on the totality of the degree to which defendants do transact business in the state of 15 Nevada is understandably difficult to come by. While 1st Technology believes the use by Las 16 Vegas users of Sportingbet's infringing product and Sportingbet's direction of promotion and 17 advertising to Nevada are sufficient to show that this Court's exercise of jurisdiction is proper,
18 should the court feel that additional or more specific facts be outlined, the court "may permit
19 discovery to aid in determining whether it has in personam jurisdiction" Data Disc, Inc. v.
20 Systems Technology Associates, Inc., 557 F.2d 1280 n. 1 (9th Cir. 1977) (citing Wells Fargo &
21 Co. v. Wells Fargo Express Co., 556 F.2d 406 at 430 n. 24 (9th Cir 1977)). 1st Technology
22 requests, if the Court is inclined to grant Sportingbet's motion, that it be permitted a limited
23 amount of discovery directed solely to the issue of jurisdiction. Such discovery should not need
24 to be more than a few highly directed document requests and interrogatories, and a limited
25 number of depositions, including specifically the deposition of Sportingbet's declarant and a 26 30(b)(6) deposition.
27
28

1 B. FIRST TECHNOLOGY'S COMPLAINT IS SUFFICIENT

3 TO SATISFY THE REQUIREMENTS OF NOTICE PLEADING

4 1st Technology's complaint has adequate specificity for notice pleading. Under rule 8,
5 plaintiffs are required to provide no more than "a short and plain statement of [a] claim
6 showing that the pleader is entitled to relief." Fed. R. Civ. P. 8(a)(2). The appendix to the 7 Federal Rules of Civil Procedure set out the following form as a guideline for pleading patent
8 infringement:

10 1. Allegation of jurisdiction.

11 2. On May 16, 1934, United States Letters Patent No. XX were duly and legally issued 12 to plaintiff for an invention in an electric motor; and since that date plaintiff has been 13 and still is the owner of those Letters Patent.

14 3. Defendant has for a long time past been and still is infringing those Letters Patent by 15 making, selling, and using electric motors embodying the patented invention, and will 16 continue to do so unless enjoined by this court.

17 4. Plaintiff has placed the required statutory notice on all electric motors manufactured
18 and sold by him under said Letters Patent, and has given written notice to defendant of 19 his said infringement. Wherefore plaintiff demands a preliminary and final injunction 20 against continued infringement, an accounting for damages, and an assessment of 21 interest and costs against defendant.

22 Fed. R. Civ. P. Form 16.

23 1st Technology's complaint is at least as specific as Form 16, and comports entirely with 24 the Federal Rules. There is not a laundry list of 503 claims to be applied to 100 possibly 25 infringing products, as in one case cited by defendant. (In re Papst Licensing GmbH Patent 26 Litig., No. Civ. A. MDL 1298, Civ. A. 99-3118, 2001 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 2255 (E.D. La Feb. 22, 27 2001), attached hereto as Exhibit F). Indeed, "more extensive pleading of fact is not required
28 because the Federal Rules of Procedure provide other devices besides pleadings that will serve to define the facts and issues and to dispose of unmeritorious claims." 2 James Wm. Moore, et al., Moore's Federal Practice § 8.04[1] (3d ed. 1999). Indeed, in another case cited by defense, the

1 court held “dismissal for failure to comply with the requirements of Rule 8 is usually reserved
2 for those cases in which the complaint is so confused, ambiguous, vague, or otherwise
3 unintelligible that its true substance, if any, is well disguised.” Agilent Technologies, Inc. v.
4 Micromuse, Inc., No. 04 Civ. 3090 (RWS), 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 20723 (October 19, 2004)
5 (internal citations omitted), attached hereto as Exhibit G. While in Agilent, as the defense has 6 identified, the court required a more detailed pleading from the plaintiff, that court
7 distinguished itself from a decision where there “was a finite set of potentially infringing
8 products under identified patents” Id. At 15 (distinguishing Symbol Techs., Inc. v. Hand Held
9 Prods., No. 03-102-SLR, 2003 U.S. Dist LEXIS 21002 (D. Del. Nov. 14, 2003), attached
10 hereto as Exhibit H). Here, there is a single patent. Sportingbet’s Paradise Poker product, at 11 least, is used in infringement of the patent. 1st Technology will, as part of ordinary discovery,
12 provide Sportingbet with claim charts showing the application of specific claims of the 1st
13 Technology patent to the Sportingbet product. There is no necessity for additional pleading.

17 Moreover, to qualify for a Rule 21(e) motion, the complaint “must be so vague or 18 ambiguous that the opposing party cannot respond to it, even with a simple denial as permitted
19 by Rule 8(b), with a pleading that can be interposed in good faith or without prejudice to 20 himself” Charles Alan Wright & Arthur R. Miller, Federal Practice & Procedure § 1376 at 311
21 (3d ed. 2004). Plaintiff’s complaint fulfills the requirements of Rule 8 and is not so vague that 22 it can not be responded to in good faith. 1st Technology respectfully requests the court deny 23 defendant’s 12(e) motion and allow any confusion on the part of Sportingbet or its counsel to 24 be resolved with prompt discovery and the provision by 1st Technology of claim charts during 25 discovery.

C. CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, Sportingbet's motions to dismiss and for a more definite statement should be denied. In the alternative, 1st Technology requests the opportunity to take discovery from Sportingbet limited solely to the issue of jurisdiction. Should the Court deem it necessary, 1st Technology is also willing to amend its complaint as to Sportingbet to identify specific claims and products which it feels are at issue at this time.

About the World's Premier Online Cardroom

Paradise Poker has recently joined forces with Sportingbet plc, a publicly traded company on the London Stock Exchange (Ticker Symbol: SBT.L), to form the world's largest online betting company. With over two million customers worldwide we are proud to offer further transparency and accountability, as well as more safety and security for our customers.

We are excited to feature our sister site, Sportsbook.com, America's sports betting destination and the largest single sportsbook and casino on the planet.

Play poker in our online cardroom where our mission is to provide players with The Ultimate Online Poker Experience. Playing multiplayer poker with our unique software is a terrific experience as we offer exceptional graphics, sounds, distinct features and action. Poker players from all over the world come to play at Paradise Poker in a multiplayer poker environment 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Welcome to the World's Premier Online Poker Room, established in 1999! Play poker for real money or play just for fun... it's your choice. Click here for the Top 10 reasons why Paradise Poker is the best choice for online poker.

Paradise Poker is a registered legal business located in San José the capital city of Costa Rica. Paradise Poker abides by the laws and regulations of the jurisdiction within which it does business.

You play poker strictly against other real people from around the world in our online cardroom. We do not participate in any games and act solely as the host ensuring fair and honest games.

Paradise Poker is pleased to provide our clients with the added comfort of an independent third party review of our shuffling. We engaged the services of the London office of PricewaterhouseCoopers, the world's largest professional services firm, to review our card shuffling. Click here to see the shuffling review.

We receive compensation for hosting the games by charging a small percentage of the real money winner's pot, known as the rake. There is absolutely no cost to play on our play money tables.

We have the widest selection of poker games anywhere online. You can choose your own seat at multi-player poker tables offering Texas Hold'em, Omaha High, Omaha Hi/Lo, 7 Card Stud, 7 Card Stud Hi/Lo, 1-on-1 games and multiplayer poker tournaments.

Please note financial transactions are done through Ogden Stockwell Limited (London, UK), a subsidiary of Paradise Poker. Ogden Stockwell's address is 100 Sydney Street, Chelsea, London, SW3 6NJ, England.

These transactions will appear on your credit card statement in US Dollars, with the billing descriptor Paradise Poker.

The Paradise Poker Champions

Wanna be a World Poker Champion? Paradise can make it happen!

The World Poker Tour Championship is the last stop on the WPT circuit and it's quickly becoming one of the world's most elite poker events. Win a WPT Champseat in Paradise and you'll be sitting among the world's best in the luxurious Bellagio Hotel this spring! This is what poker dreams are made of – pros, Vegas and a prize pool expected to be well in to the millions.

Our $27,000 WPT Championship Prize Package includes:

- $25,000 (plus $500 entry fee) World Poker Tour Championship seat in the Bellagio main event, Las Vegas, April 18th–24th 2006
- $1500 cash to your Paradise Poker account to cover airfare, hotel and travel expenses

How to win your seat

On the last Saturday of every month you can join 'WPT Champ' online in Paradise. Tournaments kick off at 5 PM EST (New York), 2 pm PST (Los Angeles), 10 pm BST (London), 9 pm GMT. We Guarantee at least one prize package will be awarded per tournament.

You can jump directly into the WPT Champ main event for $500 or you can win your way there via a satellite. Multi table tournaments will start as low as $7 and offer R&A and straight buy-in options. Check under the Satellite tab for the next 'Champ Seats!' tournament.

Check back to see who's on Team Paradise for the WPT Championship!

Terms and Conditions

1. Winning players must play in the WPT Championship event and can not exchange the prize for cash. If you do not play in the WPT Championship event you will forfeit your prize. In the event a player wins more than one online WPT Championship package, he/she may transfer the additional prize(s) to another Paradise player.
2. The player's $25,500 (USD) entry fee will be paid directly by Paradise Poker. Paradise will also credit winning player's account $1,500 (USD) in order to cover airfare, hotel and misc. expenses. Players are responsible for their own travel and hotel arrangements.
3. All tournaments will be played according to the Paradise Poker multi-table tournament rules.
4. Paradise reserves the right to cancel or postpone any WPT Championship online tournament in the event that a server problem or internet routing problem prevents many players from accessing the site. Promotion will run until March 25, 2006 unless otherwise determined by management.
5. Players participating in the WPT Championship event as part of their Paradise prize package agree to promote Paradise at the event. Players are not permitted to wear competitive card room shirts or other sponsor's gear at the gaming tables.
6. Paradise Poker is not affiliated with or related to the WPT.
7. Paradise Poker has no affiliation with the Bellagio and is not a sponsor or promoter of this site's event.
8. Paradise Poker charges a 9% fee on the WPT Championship tournament which is taken out of the total buy-in pool. The next 3 highest finishing players, after the WPT prize(s), are respectively paid 50%, 30% and 20% of the remaining prize pool.
9. Offer only open to players aged 21 and over. Employees and immediate family members of employees of ParadisePoker.com, its associated companies, affiliates, advertising and promotional agencies are not eligible to take part in the Promotion. Entry to the Promotion is limited to those people who are resident in countries where their registration and use of the Cardroom is permitted by the law of their country.
10. Management's decision is final.

Good luck to all Players!

Nevada players ante up online

By Liz Benston <benston@lasvegassun.com>

LAS VEGAS SUN

Every day hundreds of Las Vegas residents break the law for a shot at fame and fortune or just a bit of fun.

They work in casinos and in offices. They pay their taxes and hold steady jobs.

And many don't even know they are lawbreakers.

Among them is Jeff Larsen, a casino worker at the Bellagio who has turned a hobby into a part-time job.

From home, Larsen now plays up to eight games of online poker at a time on two computers. Gambling in Internet poker rooms up to 40 hours a week nets Larson about the same kind of money he makes at his casino job.

"It's convenient, the games are really good and you've got people on the Internet just giving their money away," he said. "Playing in a casino is just getting old for a lot of people."

David Matthews, a webmaster for the LasVegasAdvisor.com consumer Web site, said he makes about $150 per hour for the 20 or so hours per week he plays online poker.

"I can't afford not to play," Matthews said. "If I decided to play full time I could probably make $30,000 a month. "I know people who've given up their day jobs."

Online poker is faster, doesn't require tipping a dealer and often features cash bonuses for players, he said. It also draws players who are "fast and loose," translating into good games at all hours, he said.

"On a Wednesday in the morning you're not going to find a good game in Vegas," Matthews said. Players in Las Vegas cardrooms at that time are "better than average and protective with their money."

A casino manager in Las Vegas, who declined to be named, said he plays poker only online these days.

"People can see where I'm from online. I always get asked, 'Why do you play online when you can play in the casinos?' " the manager said. "I laugh and say, 'Because they look at you funny when you sit down in your underwear.' "

"At home I can multitask," the manager said. "I cleaned out my entire fish tank one day and never missed a hand."

It's a little-known fact that Nevada is only one of a handful of states that specifically prohibits both players and Internet operators from engaging in online betting.

A state law passed in 1997 barred the placing of wagers on the Internet. Persons who break the law are guilty of a misdemeanor.

The law doesn't exclude Internet poker.

Online poker players in Nevada and online poker rooms that take bets from state residents are breaking the law if they are dealing in real money, according to Nevada's top gaming regulator.

Nevada Gaming Control Board Chairman Dennis Neilander said his agency is considering whether to take its first steps to prosecute Internet poker players.

"We haven't taken any action yet and we're still ferreting through Internet wagering, not just for poker but all types of Internet gambling," Neilander said this week. "If there's not a change in the federal law it's something we have to consider."

Keith Copher, chief of the Gaming Control Board's enforcement division, said his agency doesn't have the manpower to go after players who make wagers online.

"We would request help from the federal government," Copher said. "The best way to pursue (prosecution) is to go after the providers, (but) they're out of our jurisdiction."

The state faces a "prohibition problem," Senior Deputy Attorney General Toni Cowan added. "Are you going to burst into people's homes, their living rooms or their cars?" she said.

That would take a virtual army.

EmpirePoker.com, one of the larger sites on the Internet, estimates that as many as 11,000 Nevadans gamble during peak hours online.

"We get a wide variety of players, from professional poker players to complete novice players who watch TV and like what they see and try to play," Empire Poker General Manager Ron Burke said.

Nevada is one of the top 10 states in terms of online players, behind bigger states such as California, New York and Texas, he said.

But Nevada players don't seem to worry about being lawbreakers.

The fear of prosecution has been a "nonissue" for online poker players, said Barry Shulman, co-publisher of the poker magazine Card Player in Las Vegas.

"Everybody I know plays online," Shulman said.

"States just aren't going to get excited about someone placing $100 in an account in Aruba where it's legal," he said. "It's not only extremely difficult to track but it's such a minor thing on their radar screen. They'd be far more interested if I'm running a poker game out of my house in Las Vegas and a lot more interested if I'm running a poker game out of a bar and taking a rake."

An estimated 1 million to 2 million Americans are now playing online poker -- a trend fueled by televised poker tournaments and a flood of online games, books and other teaching aids. The U.S. Justice Department considers Internet poker games and other online gambling illegal but players and operators alike have largely thumbed their noses at the federal government, saying the law surrounding online gambling is unclear.

It's been nearly impossible for federal regulators to enforce the prohibition because the major Internet gambling sites operate from locations outside the United States in small countries where Internet bets are legal or unregulated.

Nevada is no different.

The Gaming Control Board cut short discussions about legalizing Internet gambling in 2002 after receiving official word of the Justice Department's opposition. Regulators at the time expressed concern that Internet operators could run afoul of federal law barring gambling across state lines.

The Internet transfers information over the path of least resistance, which could mean crossing state lines and using methods difficult to track, regulators said.

Keeping Internet operators out of Nevada "would be difficult to do because the Web sites move around so frequently," Neilander said.

"If we did an investigation, we would have to turn it over to the District Attorney or Attorney General's office. We would have to have some discussions with them to see if they have an appetite to consider those violations."

With a casino in close proximity to every home in the Las Vegas Valley, regulators and casino operators have long said that Internet gambling wouldn't be much of a threat to the state's casino industry and that Nevadans wouldn't gravitate to the Internet in droves.

The poker craze has created a different dynamic. Players say the presence of casinos has fueled interest in online poker and vice versa, creating a symbiotic relationship between casino poker rooms and their online counterparts that has become all too obvious in the nation's gambling capital.

The world's largest poker site, PartyPoker.com, now runs radio and television ads in Las Vegas. Local billboards advertise Internet poker sites, including a billboard near the airport that exclaims, "Your credit card will work here."

Internet poker worldwide generated some $1 billion in revenue last year and is expected to top $2.4 billion this year -- which is about what all of the table games on the Las Vegas Strip generated in gambling revenue last year, according to recent statistics compiled by gambling analysts Christiansen Capital Advisors. Last year online poker was 12 percent of worldwide Internet gambling revenue. This year poker's share is expected to climb to 20 percent.

By 2010, online poker revenue is expected to top $6.7 billion, or 27 percent of total Internet gambling and overtaking sports betting as the chief gambling activity online.

The Las Vegas Strip, by contrast, generated $5.3 billion in gambling revenue last year.

"When we first started looking at this I didn't believe it but I verified that with operators," Christiansen Capital President Sebastian Sinclair said. "It blew me away."

About 70 to 85 percent of online poker players are believed to be Americans.

The Orleans poker room -- Las Vegas' largest with about 40 tables -- has lost a few regular poker players to the Internet.

"For every one of those the Internet has brought us 10 players," Tournament Director Bryan Gurden said. "It's brought us more business than it has cost us."

A couple of years ago the Orleans poker room was about 80 percent local. With more players gambling on the Internet and watching poker on television, about half of the Gurden's customers these days are out-of-towners seeking live-action games.

Internet gamblers make up a "ton" of new players in the Bellagio's poker room -- home to some of the world's richest cash games, the casino's tournament director, Jack McClelland, said.

"Intimidation was one of the things that kept people out of the poker rooms," said McClelland, who is also a consultant for UltimateBet.com. "Poker players in general tend to be a little bit more aggressive than other individuals. They have a hard time turning it off in real life. They are the ones barking at the maitre d' or arguing with the front desk clerk."

McClelland said he is not paid by UltimateBet but receives a free, one-week vacation for promoting the site.

A majority of the 2,500 players who competed in the final championship event at last year's World Series of Poker -- the world's largest poker tournament -- gambled online and many won their $10,000 buy-in to the tournament from online satellite games, operators say.

The 2003 champion, the aptly named Chris MoneyMaker, won his entry in the tournament from a site called PokerStars.com. Greg Raymer is another unknown who won his seat in the tournament from PokerStars.com and parlayed it into a championship.

The site recently awarded Miami Heat basketball star Shaquille O'Neal -- a Vegas regular -- with a complimentary seat in this year's tournament as a 33rd birthday present in addition to a year of poker coaching from Raymer.

Players are generally aware that the federal government doesn't like Internet gambling. Yet with all the major poker sites allowing Americans to gamble and the government doing little to stop them, players say they have no way of knowing that the sites are illegal.

Las Vegas resident Jeffrey Weisbroth, who plays at the Orleans poker room, is also a regular online.

"I work nights so it's convenient," Weisbroth said .

Weisbroth said he is not married to Internet poker and would give it up if the state publicized a position that the practice was illegal.

"I've heard conflicting information" on whether Internet poker is legal, he said. "If (Nevada) said it was illegal I'd cash out my bets. Just let me know."

Some attorneys argue that Internet poker falls into a legal gray zone.

The Wire Communications Act of 1961 outlaws sports betting over interstate lines and was intended to fight organized crime. Yet it is the primary federal law used to fight Internet gambling, a relatively modern invention. In a letter to Nevada regulators in 2002, the Justice Department applied the Wire Act to online bets. Some attorneys dispute that interpretation and often cite a 2001 federal court decision in Louisiana as a defense.

The court dismissed a lawsuit brought by gamblers who lost money on Internet sites and sued credit card companies for facilitating illegal bets. A judge tossed the suit and ruled the Wire Act didn't prohibit games of chance played online.

That hasn't stopped the federal government from going after offshore sites through their business partners.

The U.S. Attorney's Office in Missouri last year gathered evidence of Internet gambling advertising from media companies and has threatened to prosecute such companies for "aiding and abetting" online betting -- a move that resulted in some Internet, radio and television companies pulling ads for Internet casinos.

In the company's annual report issued this month, WPT Enterprises said the Travel Channel has removed names and logos of Internet poker sites from its telecasts because the law surrounding online gambling is "unclear."

Las Vegas casino companies including MGM Mirage and Harrah's have already tested the waters with Internet gambling sites that blocked U.S. bets. But those sites -- which featured complicated software that could detect where gamblers were located -- folded for lack of business.

The top few poker sites, with little overhead costs and unlimited table capacity, are making spectacular profit that has already outpaced the world's most profitable casinos.

Experts estimate that the largest poker site, PartyPoker.com, will likely generate some $500 million in operating cash flow this year. That compares with about $352 million for Bellagio last year and about $300 million for the Venetian -- the Strip's most profitable casinos.

Based on market share estimates for the largest poker sites, PokerStars.com generates about $125 million in operating cash flow compared with $75 million for PokerRoom.com and $50 million each for ParadisePoker.com, UltimateBet.com and PacificPoker.com.

By comparison, MGM Grand -- the Strip's largest property -- generated some $290 million in operating cash flow last year. Caesars Palace generated about $149 million last year and Bally's generated about $81 million.

PartyPoker.com's parent company is rumored to be considering an IPO that could value the company from $5 billion to $6 billion. That would put the site in league with Las Vegas casino giants with a market capitalization less than Strip giants MGM Mirage and Caesars Entertainment Inc. but larger than Station Casinos Inc. and Boyd Gaming Corp.

"It's a shocking amount of money," said John O'Malia, chief executive of BetBug Ltd., a Toronto-based company that offers sports bets and other proposition bets on a network similar to that offered by peer-to-peer music file-sharing services. "I have to wonder if the whole reason for going public is to do something in the land-based (casino) space."

Buying competitors doesn't make much sense because the site already is so much bigger than the competition, O'Malia said. An IPO would give the company enough cash to build land-based casinos using a powerful brand, however, he said.

Bettors using BetBug believe it's more likely that the PartyPoker IPO could fetch more than $5.6 billion.

"It's a gravy business compared to online casinos and sports books, which can lose money sometimes," bettor Matthews said. "A poker room never loses. They keep raking it in."

Some of those figures were recently made public when a London-based Internet gambling empire bought ParadisePoker.com in November.

For the six months ended January 31, Sportingbet Plc's pre-tax profit shot up 118 percent to $18.3 million in part because of the poker site. Paradise Poker contributed about $15 million in operating profit over a three-month period and about $24 million in income.

The site now has more than 830,000 customers and received an average daily poker rake of $261,668 -- more than double last year. It offers 858,324 games per day, a 61 percent increase.

The World Poker Tour recently launched an online poker Web site -- the first owned by a U.S. company. The site has a mechanism that aims to block U.S. bets so as not to run afoul of federal law.

Harrah's Entertainment Inc. isn't far behind. The company is working on creating a real-money poker site using the World Series of Poker brand that also would block U.S. bets. The company also is developing a play-for-fun Web site for American gamblers, according to sources familiar with those plans.

ESPN, which has the broadcast rights to the World Series of Poker and has begun airing a television drama about poker players, recently introduced a play-for-fun site called ESPN Poker Club.

North Dakota generated buzz last month for introducing a bill that would have legalized online poker to raise tax revenue. The bill was easily defeated in the state Senate over concerns about a potential challenge from the Justice Department.

A similar move would be unlikely in Nevada, which has a casino industry to protect and "has decided it's not willing to challenge the federal government's interpretation," said Tony Cabot, a Las Vegas attorney and Internet gambling expert.

Burke, of Empire Poker, said the legal question will likely "fade away" with time.

A game that was played in smoky bars and casino back rooms five years ago is now aired on major TV networks, he said.

"It's a completely mainstream activity," Burke said. "It is part of the American (experience)."

Meanwhile, the federal government is continuing its war of words against Internet gambling.

The World Trade Organization last week issued a complex ruling that calls into question the United States' ban on Internet gambling with respect to a little-known federal law permitting Internet betting on horse races. The ruling isn't expected to slow Internet bets though the extent to which it could help online gambling is unclear.

In one respect, the WTO agreed with the United States' argument that the country can use the Wire Act to maintain "protect public morals or maintain public order." The federal government maintains that Internet gambling has connections with organized crime and has been used to launder drug money and fund terrorism. Internet gambling backers say such claims are a shot in the dark, unproven and even laughable.

Like many in the gaming business, Sexton believes the government is better off regulating and taxing Internet bets rather than trying to prohibit it.

"Online poker and the online (gambling) world is far bigger than the U.S. and you're never going to be able to stop it," he said. "It's just amazing to me that you have have lotteries and yet tell somebody who works for a living that he can't take $20 and buy into a tournament in his own home. It seems un-American."10"States just aren't going to get excited about someone placing $100 in an account in Aruba where it's legal. It's not only extremely difficult to track but it's such a minor thing on their radar screen."

IN RE PAPST LICENSING GmbH PATENT LITIGATION

CIVIL ACTION NO:MDL 1298; Ref. C.A. 99-3118 SECTION: "G"(2)

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE EASTERN DISTRICT OF LOUISIANA

2001 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 2255

February 22, 2001, Decided

February 22, 2001, Filed

DISPOSITION: [*1] IBM's FRCP 12(e) motion for a more definite statement GRANTED.

CASE SUMMARY:

PROCEDURAL POSTURE: Complainant filed a complaint for patent infringement, alleging that respondent made, used, sold, or offered to sell to customers in the United States or imported into the United States products that embodied the elements of at least one claim of the 20 identified patents. Complainant did not identify the products which allegedly infringed the patents. Respondent filed a Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(e) motion requesting a more definite statement.

OVERVIEW: There were a total of 503 patent claims in the 20 patents at issue in this lawsuit. Respondent objected to having to compare the claims to all of its products containing hard disk drives. Complainant argued that its complaint complied with the sample patent infringement complaint. It was apparent, however, that the number of patents and products in the case before the court were far greater than those contemplated in the sample complaint, which would have justified a request for greater specificity. Respondent was willing to interpret each of the 503 claims of the 20 patents, but it sought to limit the number of comparisons it would have had to make to products by obtaining a more specific description of the alleged infringing products. Complainant was ordered to amend its complaint to specifically identify the products which it alleged infringe upon one or more claims of each of the 20 patents.

OUTCOME: The motion for a more definite statement was granted and the court ordered complainant to amend its complaint in order to specifically identify on a patent-by-patent basis the products which it alleged infringe upon one or more of the claims of each of the 20 patents.

OPINION:

MEMORANDUM AND ORDER

Background

On December 26, 2000, Papst [*2] Licensing GmbH & Co. KG ("Papst") filed its complaint for patent infringement against International Business Machines Corporation ("IBM"). Papst alleges that IBM "has made, used, sold, or offered to sell to customers in the United States or imported into the United States products that embody the elements of at least one claim" n1 of the twenty patents specifically identified in the complaint by patent number and issue date. Papst does not identify the IBM products which allegedly infringe the patents.

n1 See Paragraphs 26 and 27 of Papst's Complaint for Patent Infringement, filed Dec. 26, 2000.

In response to the complaint, IBM has filed under FRCP 12(e) a motion requesting a more definite statement of which IBM products are alleged to infringe the patent claims asserted against it.

Discussion

[HN1] FRCP 12(e) provides that if a pleading "...is so vague or ambiguous that a party cannot reasonably be required to frame a responsive pleading, the party may move for a more definite statement before interposing [*3] a responsive pleading."

IBM asserts and Papst does not contest that there are a total of 503 patent claims in the twenty patents at issue in this lawsuit. [HN2] Whether a particular product infringes a particular patent claim first requires the interpretation of the claim, and then a comparison of the interpreted claim to the allegedly infringing product. Markman v. Westview Instruments, Inc., 52 F.3d 967, 976, aff'd, 517 U.S. 370, 116 S. Ct. 1384, 134 L. Ed. 2d 577 (1996). Under Papst's complaint, IBM will be required to interpret 503 claims, and then compare them to any IBM product that contains a hard disk drive. IBM does not object to interpreting 503 claims. However, it does object to having to compare those claims to all of its products containing hard disk drives.

IBM filed its Rule 12(e) motion on January 31, 2001. On February 1, 2001, counsel for Papst wrote a letter to counsel for IBM, forwarding a document that lists on a patent-by-patent basis the IBM hard disk drives that Papst alleges are infringed. Several hundred IBM hard disk drives are described by model and part numbers. There are as many as one hundred allegedly infringing products [*4] listed for some patents, and only one listed for another patent. Papst prefaces its list by informing IBM that it does not consider the list to be exclusive:

Papst Licensing's charges of infringement are not limited to the IBM hard disk drives that are specifically identified herein. Rather, Papst Licensing's charges of infringement are intended to include all IBM hard disk drives that have a construction that is similar from an infringement standpoint to that of the IBM hard disk drives that are specifically identified herein.

Upon receipt of this list, IBM offered to withdraw its 12(e) motion if Papst would stipulate that its infringement allegations would be limited to the products specifically identified in the list. IBM and Papst have apparently been unable to reach a stipulation.

Papst argues that its complaint complies with the sample patent infringement complaint provided in Federal Form 16. It is apparent, however, that the number of patents and products in the case before me are far greater than those contemplated in the sample complaint, which would justify a request for greater specificity.

Papst further contends that it filed a similar 12(e) motion against [*5] Minebea in related action no. 99-3118, which was denied. However, in that motion, Papst sought to have Minebea identify the particular claims of each patent which Minebea claims were invalid. IBM is not making such a request. IBM is willing to interpret each of the 503 claims of the twenty patents, but it seeks to limit the number of comparisons it will have to make to IBM products by obtaining a more specific description of the alleged infringing products.

I find that Papst's complaint must be amended to specifically identify the IBM products which it alleges infringe upon one or more claims of each of the twenty patents.

Accordingly,

IT IS ORDERED, that IBM's FRCP 12(e) motion for a more definite statement is GRANTED;

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, that Papst amend its complaint on or before March 20, 2001, in order to specifically identify on a patent-by-patent basis the IBM products which it alleges infringe upon one or more of the claims of each of the twenty patents.

New Orleans, Louisiana, this 22 day of February, 2001.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT JUDGE

LEXSEE 2004 U.S. DIST. LEXIS 20723

AGILENT TECHNOLOGIES, INC., Plaintiff, v. MICROMUSE, INC., Defendant.

04 Civ. 3090 (RWS)

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 20723

October 19, 2004, Decided

October 19, 2004, Filed

DISPOSITION: Micromuse's motion to dismiss the complaint was denied and its motion for a more definite statement was granted.

CASE SUMMARY:

PROCEDURAL POSTURE: Plaintiff, a communications technology provider, brought a patent infringement action against defendant, an alleged infringer, regarding its patents for a particular internet service and a network service. The alleged infringer moved to dismiss under Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(6), moved for a more definite statement, moved to add a necessary party, and moved to disqualify the provider's counsel. The provider cross-moved for a supplemental declaration.

OVERVIEW: The alleged infringer claimed that the provider's complaint failed to specify or identify any allegedly infringing product. The court held that dismissal under Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(6) for failure to state a claim was not appropriate because the provider's complaint complied with Fed. R. Civ. P. 8(a)(2) by establishing jurisdiction, by setting forth the ownership of the patents, and by alleging patent infringement by the alleged infringer. The court then held that the alleged infringer was entitled to a more definite statement under Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(e) setting forth which of its products or services were alleged to have infringed the provider's patents due to the general allegations in the provider's complaint. The court further held that the co-owner of the provider's patents was not required to be joined as a necessary party under Fed. R. Civ. P. 19(a) because, pursuant to an agreement between the provider and the co-owner, the co-owner had no independent capacity to file a patent infringement action against the alleged infringer regarding the patents at issue. The court finally held that the alleged infringer was not entitled to disqualification of the provider's counsel.

OUTCOME: The alleged infringer's motion to dismiss was denied, and its motions to add a necessary party and to disqualify the provider's counsel were denied with leave to renew. The alleged infringer's motion for a more definite statement was granted. The provider's motion to file a supplemental declaration was granted.

LexisNexis(R) Headnotes

Civil Procedure > Pleading & Practice > Defenses, Objections & Demurrers > Failure to State a Cause of Action

[HN1] In considering a motion to dismiss pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(6), the court should construe the complaint liberally, accepting all factual allegations in the complaint as true, and drawing all reasonable inferences in the plaintiff's favor, although mere conclusions of law or unwarranted deductions need not be accepted. The issue is not whether a plaintiff will ultimately prevail but whether the claimant is entitled to offer evidence to support the claims. In other words, the office of a motion to dismiss is merely to assess the legal feasibility of the complaint, not to assay the weight of the evidence which might be offered in support thereof. Dismissal is only appropriate when it appears beyond doubt that the plaintiff can prove no set of facts which would entitle him or her to relief.

Civil Procedure > Pleading & Practice > Pleadings > Interpretation

[HN2] The indulgent standard for a filing a complaint is codified in Fed. R. Civ. P. 8, which requires no more than a short and plain statement of a claim showing that the pleader is entitled to relief. Fed. R. Civ. P. 8(a)(2). The United States Supreme Court has interpreted Fed. R. Civ. P. 8 not to require a claimant to set out in detail the facts upon which he bases his claim. Indeed, the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure require (with irrelevant exceptions) only that the complaint state a claim, not that it plead the facts that if true would establish (subject to any defenses) that the claim was valid. All that need be specified is the bare minimum facts necessary to put the defendant on notice of the claim so that he can file an answer.

Civil Procedure > Pleading & Practice > Defenses, Objections & Demurrers > Failure to State a Cause of Action

Civil Procedure > Pleading & Practice > Pleadings > Interpretation

[HN3] Whether a complaint satisfies Fed. R. Civ. P. 8(a)(2) is determined by whether the pleading provides fair notice to the opposing party. Accordingly, dismissal for failure to comply with the requirements of Fed. R. Civ. P. 8 is usually reserved for those cases in which the complaint is so confused, ambiguous, vague, or otherwise unintelligible that its true substance, if any, is well disguised.

Civil Procedure > Pleading & Practice > Defenses, Objections & Demurrers > Defects of Form

[HN4] Where a pleading is sufficient to provide notice of the claim but does not contain sufficient information to allow a responsive pleading to be framed without risk of prejudice, the proper remedy is a motion for a more definite statement under Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(c).

Civil Procedure > Pleading & Practice > Defenses, Objections & Demurrers > Defects of Form

[HN5] See Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(e).

Civil Procedure > Pleading & Practice > Defenses, Objections & Demurrers > Defects of Form

Civil Procedure > Pleading & Practice > Defenses, Objections & Demurrers > Denials

[HN6] Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(e) applies only in limited circumstances: the pleading must be sufficiently intelligible for the district court to be able to make out one or more potentially viable legal theories on which the claimant might proceed; in other words the pleading must be sufficient to survive a Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(6) motion to dismiss. At the same time, the pleading also must be so vague or ambiguous that the opposing party cannot respond to it, even with a simple denial as permitted by Fed. R. Civ. P. 8(b), with a pleading that can be interposed in good faith or without prejudice to himself.

Patent Law > Infringement Actions > Burdens of Proof

Patent Law > Inequitable Conduct > General Overview

Civil Procedure > Pleading & Practice > Defenses, Objections & Demurrers > Defects of Form

[HN7] Although motions pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(e) are generally disfavored where prompt resort to discovery may provide an adequate means for ascertaining relevant facts, courts have considered Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(e) relief appropriate in patent infringement cases where a plaintiff has failed to identify any allegedly infringing product or products. A pleading need not identify every infringing product where some other limiting parameter has been set forth or at least one purportedly infringing product has been identified.

Civil Procedure > Pleading & Practice > Defenses, Objections & Demurrers > Defects of Form

[HN8] Where a motion made under Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(e) has been granted, the order of the court to provide a more definite statement must be obeyed within ten days after notice of the order or within such other time as the court may fix. Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(e).

Civil Procedure > Pleading & Practice > Defenses, Objections & Demurrers > Motions to Dismiss

Civil Procedure > Joinder of Claims & Parties > Joinder of Necessary Parties

[HN9] Fed. R. Civ. P. 19 sets forth a two-step test for determining whether the court must dismiss an action for failure to join an indispensable party. First, the court must determine whether an absent party belongs in the suit, i.e., whether the party qualifies as a necessary party under Fed. R. Civ. P. 19(a).

Civil Procedure > Joinder of Claims & Parties > Joinder of Necessary Parties

[HN10] See Fed. R. Civ. P. 19(a).

Civil Procedure > Joinder of Claims & Parties > Joinder of Necessary Parties

[HN11] If a party is deemed necessary, it then must be determined whether the party's absence warrants dismissal pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 19(b). If a party does not qualify as necessary under Fed. R. Civ. P. 19(a), then the court need not decide whether its absence warrants dismissal under Fed. R. Civ. P. 19(b).

Copyright Law > Civil Infringement Actions > Standing > Copyright Act of 1976

Civil Procedure > Joinder of Claims & Parties > Joinder of Necessary Parties

Patent Law > Ownership > Conveyances > Equitable Assignments & Joint Ownership

[HN12] As a general matter, United States patent law requires that all co-owners normally must join as plaintiffs in an infringement suit. Since all co-owners have standing to sue for infringement, if all the co-owners are not joined in an infringement suit, there may be a risk that the defendant will be subject to multiple suits. Since the introduction of Fed. R. Civ. P. 19 and its 1966 amendments, however, courts are less concerned with abstract characterizations of the parties and more concerned with whether the rights of the parties can be fairly adjudicated absent joinder of the patent co-owner. Thus, where the co-owner of a patent or other entity or individual whose interest in a patent might be directly affected by litigation has specifically disclaimed all interest in pursuing litigation related to the patent in favor of the party who has brought the suit, courts have held that joinder of the co-owner or other entity or individual is not necessary.

Patent Law > Ownership > Conveyances > Licenses
Civil Procedure > Joinder of Claims & Parties > Joinder of Necessary Parties

Patent Law > Ownership > Conveyances > Equitable Assignments & Joint Ownership

[HN13] A licensor is a necessary party to a patent infringement action despite the existence of an agreement with a plaintiff licensee granting the licensee sole and exclusive rights to sue for infringement where the agreement is of fixed term and where the licensor retains a reversionary interest in the patent.

Civil Procedure > Pleading & Practice > Pleadings > Supplemental Pleadings

[HN14] Although submission of supplemental papers is often more of a hindrance than a help, where the issues addressed in the supplemental papers presented are carefully cabined and respond to arguably new contentions contained in reply papers on the underlying motion, and where the opposing party has disclaimed any prejudice resulting from the submission of the supplemental papers, there is no evidence of bad faith by the party seeking to submit the supplemental papers, and the parties will be best served by the court's deciding the issue presented to it on the most complete factual basis possible, leave to submit supplemental papers is appropriately granted.

Civil Procedure > Counsel

Legal Ethics > Client Relations > Appearance of Impropriety

[HN15] Motions to disqualify counsel have long been disfavored in the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit. Disqualification motions are often made for tactical reasons, and thereby unduly interfere with a party's right to employ counsel of his choice. Moreover, disqualification motions, even when made in the best of faith inevitably cause delay. A high standard of proof is therefore required from one who moves to disqualify counsel. The appearance of impropriety alone does not warrant disqualification.

Civil Procedure > Counsel

Legal Ethics > Client Relations > Appearance of Impropriety

[HN16] In determining whether an attorney can oppose his former client, courts evaluate whether the new matter is substantially related to the subject matter of the prior representation. An attorney may be disqualified from representing a client in a particular case if: (1) the moving party is a former client of the adverse party's counsel; (2) there is a substantial relationship between the subject matter of the counsel's prior representation of the moving party and the issues in the present lawsuit; and (3) the attorney whose disqualification is sought had access to, or was likely to have had access to, relevant privileged information in the course of his prior representation of the client. Under this standard, proof of substantial similarity must be patently clear to warrant disqualification. A substantial relationship exists where facts pertinent to the problems underlying the prior representation are relevant to the subsequent representation.

Civil Procedure > Counsel

[HN17] A party is entitled to seek an opposing party's counsel's disqualification based on the counsel's prior representation of the party's wholly owned subsidiary. A plaintiff's law firm will be deemed to have previously represented a defendant where the plaintiff's law firm has previously represented the defendant corporation's subsidiary and the defendant corporation has taken in active role with regard to the law firm's representation of its subsidiary.

Civil Procedure > Counsel

Legal Ethics > Client Relations > Conflicts of Interest Patent Law > Infringement Actions > General Overview

[HN18] For purposes of the disqualification of counsel, prior general business representation by a plaintiff's law firm of an entity related to a defendant on matters unrelated to the lawsuit at issue does not meet the high burden of establishing a conflict.

OPINION: Sweet, D.J.,

Defendant Micromuse, Inc. ("Micromuse") has moved pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure

12(b)(6), to dismiss the complaint of plaintiff Agilent Technologies, Inc. ("Agilent") alleging patent infringement, and, in the alternative, for a more definite statement pursuant to Rule 12(e), and to add Hewlett Packard Company ("H-P") as a necessary party under Rules 12(b)(7) and 19(a) of those same Rules. Micromuse has also moved to disqualify Gray Cary Ware & Freidenrich, LLP ("Gray Cary") from representing Agilent in this action. [*2] Gray Cary having previously represented NetWork Harmoni, Inc. ("Network Harmoni"), an entity acquired by Micromuse prior to the filing of this action. Agilent has cross-moved for leave to file a supplemental declaration in opposition to Micromuse's motion to disqualify Gray Cary. For the reasons set forth below, Micromuse's motion to dismiss is denied, the motion for a more definite statement is granted, the motion to add H-P as a party is denied at this time with leave granted to renew, and the motion to disqualify is denied at this time with leave granted to renew. Agilent's cross-motion for leave to file a supplemental declaration is granted.

Prior Proceedings

The complaint in this patent infringement action was filed in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia, Norfolk Division, on November 10, 2003.

On December 17, 2003, Micromuse filed the instant motions in the Eastern District of Virginia as well as a motion to transfer the action to this district, which latter motion was granted by order of the Honorable Raymond A. Jackson filed on April 16, 2004. The action was transferred to this district on April 22, 2004.

The remaining motions [*3] were argued and marked fully submitted on May 19, 2004.

The Complaint

The following facts are drawn from Agilent's complaint and do not constitute findings of fact by the Court.

According to the complaint, Agilent is a Delaware corporation having its headquarters in Palo Alto, California, and significant operations in Fort Collins, Colorado. It is alleged that Micromuse is a Delaware Corporation with headquarters in San Francisco, California, and significant operations in Northern Virginia, Georgia, Illinois, Texas, New York, London, and other overseas destinations. Subject matter jurisdiction is alleged under 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1338.

With regard to the factual background of the complaint, it is alleged that:

6. Agilent is a leading provider of components, test, measurement, monitoring and management solutions for the communications industry. Agilent's broad set of solutions and services includes, among other technologies, optical, wireless, Internet and broadband technologies that span the entire communications life cycle. Having invested substantial resources in the development of these technologies, Agilent maintains a portfolio [*4] of patents covering its inventions, including the patents at issue.

7. On October 24, 2000, United States Patent No. 6,138,122 ("the '122 Patent"), entitled "Modeling of Internet Services," was duly and legally issued to Mark D. Smith, Deborah L. Caswell and Srinivas Ramanathan. All rights, title and interest in the '122 Patent were assigned to Agilent, which remains the sole owner of the '122 Patent...

8. On January 1, 2002, United States Patent No. 6,336,138 ("the '138 Patent"), entitled "Template-Driven Approach For Generating Models On Network Services," was duly and legally issued to Deborah L. Caswell, Srinivas Ramanathan, James D. Hunter, Scott S. Neal, Frederick A. Sicker and Mark D. Smith. All rights, title and interest in the '138 Patent were assigned to Hewlett-Packard Company. Agilent and Hewlett-Packard Company now jointly own the '138 Patent, and Agilent has the exclusive right to enforce the '138 Patent against Micromuse...

(Compl. at PP 6-8.) It is further alleged that Micromuse "makes, sells, or offers products for sale in this district that infringe Agilent's patents." (Compl. at P 4.)

The complaint contains two counts and Micromuse's liability [*5] is alleged as follows:

COUNT ONE

Infringement of U.S. Patent No. 6,138,122

9. Agilent realleges the foregoing paragraphs.

10. Agilent is informed and believes that Micromuse has directly infringed and continues to infringe, has induced and continues to induce, and/or has committed and continues to commit acts of contributory infringement of, one or more claims of the '122 Patent.

11. Agilent is informed and believes that Micromuse's acts of patent infringement are and continue to be willful and deliberate.

12. As a result of Micromuse's patent infringement, Agilent has suffered damages in an amount not yet determined, and will continue to suffer damages in the future.

13. Unless an injunction is issued enjoining Micromuse and its agents, servants, employees, attorneys, representatives, and all others acting on their behalf from infringing the '122 Patent, Agilent will be greatly and irreparably harmed.

COUNT TWO

Infringement of U.S. Patent No. 6,336,138

14. Agilent realleges the foregoing paragraphs.

15. Agilent is informed and believes that Micromuse has directly infringed and continues to infringe, has induced and continues to induce, and/or has committed and continues [*6] to commit acts of contributory infringement of, one or more claims of the '138 Patent.

16. Agilent is informed and believes that Micromuse's acts of patent infringement are and continue to be willful and deliberate.

17. As a result of Micromuse's patent infringement, Agilent has suffered damages in an amount not yet determined, and will continue to suffer damages in the future.

18. Unless an injunction is issued enjoining Micromuse and its agents, servants, employees, attorneys, representatives, and all others acting on its behalf from infringing the '138 Patent, Agilent will be greatly and irreparably harmed.

(Compl. at PP 9-18.)

Discussion

I. Micromuse's Motion To Dismiss Is Denied

Micromuse has moved to dismiss Agilent's Complaint pursuant to Rule 12(b)(6) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure on the grounds that the complaint fails to meet the notice requirements of Rule 8(a) of those same Rules.

[HN1] In considering a motion to dismiss pursuant to Rule 12(b)(6), the court should construe the complaint liberally, "accepting all factual allegations in the complaint as true, and drawing all reasonable [*7] inferences in the plaintiff's favor," Chambers v. Time Warner, Inc., 282 F.3d 147, 152 (2d Cir. 2002) (citing Gregory v. Daly, 243 F.3d 687, 691 (2d Cir. 2001)), although "mere conclusions of law or unwarranted deductions" need not be accepted. First Nationwide Bank v. Gelt Funding Corp., 27 F.3d 763, 771 (2d Cir. 1994). "The issue is not whether a plaintiff will ultimately prevail but whether the claimant is entitled to offer evidence to support the claims." Villager

Pond, Inc. v. Town of Darien, 56 F.3d 375, 378 (2d Cir. 1995) (quoting Scheuer v. Rhodes, 416 U.S. 232, 236, 40 L. Ed. 2d 90, 94 S. Ct. 1683 (1974)). In other words, "the office of a motion to dismiss is merely to assess the legal feasibility of the complaint, not to assay the weight of the evidence which might be offered in support thereof." Eternity Global Master Fund Ltd. v. Morgan Guar. Trust Co. of New York, 375 F.3d 168, 176 (2d Cir. 2004) (quoting Geisler v. Petrocelli, 616 F.2d 636, 639 (2d Cir. 1980)). Dismissal is only appropriate when "it appears beyond doubt that the plaintiff can prove no set of facts [*8] which would entitle him or her to relief." Sweet v. Sheahan, 235 F.3d 80, 83 (2d Cir. 2000); accord Eternity Global Master Fund, 375 F.3d at 176-77.

[HN2] "The indulgent standard evident in these precedents is codified in Rule 8, which requires no more than 'a short and plain statement of [a] claim showing that the pleader is entitled to relief.'" Id. at 177 (quoting Fed. R. Civ. P. 8(a)(2)) (alteration in original); see also Wynder v. McMahon, 360 F.3d 73, 76-77 & n.5 (2d Cir. 2004) (referring to the "bare-bones standards of Rule 8" and noting that "Rule 8 pleading is extremely permissive"). The Supreme Court has interpreted Rule 8 "not to require a claimant to set out in detail the facts upon which he bases his claim." Leatherman v. Tarrant County Narcotics Intelligence & Coordination Unit, 507 U.S. 163, 168, 122 L. Ed. 2d 517, 113 S. Ct. 1160 (1993) (quoting Conley v. Gibson, 355 U.S. 41, 47, 2 L. Ed. 2d 80, 78 S. Ct. 99 (1957)). Indeed,

The federal rules require (with irrelevant exceptions) only that the complaint state a claim, not that it plead the facts that if [*9] true would establish (subject to any defenses) that the claim was valid ... All that need be specified is the bare minimum facts necessary to put the defendant on notice of the claim so that he can file an answer.

Higgs v. Carver, 286 F.3d 437, 439 (7th Cir. 2002); see also Scutti Enters., LLC v. Park Place Entm't Corp., 322 F.3d 211, 215 (2d Cir. 2003) ("More extensive pleading of fact is not required because the Federal Rules of Procedure provide other devices besides pleadings that will serve to define the facts and issues and to dispose of unmeritorious claims.") (quoting 2 James Wm. Moore, et al., Moore's Federal Practice § 8.04[1] (3d ed. 1999) (citation omitted)). [HN3] Whether a complaint satisfies Rule 8(a)(2) is determined by whether the pleading provides fair notice to the opposing party. See Conley, 355 U.S. at 47; see also Wynder, 360 F.3d at 79 ("The key to Rule 8(a)'s requirements is whether adequate notice is given.").

Accordingly, dismissal for failure to comply with the requirements of Rule 8 "is usually reserved for those cases in which the complaint is [*10] so confused, ambiguous, vague, or otherwise unintelligible that its true substance, if any, is well disguised." Simmons v. Abruzzo, 49 F.3d 83, 86 (2d Cir. 1995) (quoting Salahuddin v. Cuomo, 861 F.2d 40, 42 (2d Cir. 1988)).

Here, Agilent's complaint establishes the jurisdiction of this Court, sets forth the ownership of the patents in suit and alleges that Micromuse makes, sells, or offers products for sale that infringe Agilent's patents. The complaint further alleges that Micromuse is liable for direct infringement, contributory infringement and infringement by inducement. Agilent has provided a "short and plain statement" of its claims against Micromuse and the nature of those claims is discernible. Fed. R. Civ. P. 8(a)(2). Indeed, it would be difficult to frame a more skeletal pleading.

Micromuse nonetheless argues that dismissal of Agilent's complaint is appropriate because the complaint fails to specify any allegedly infringing product, fails to identify any allegedly infringing conduct, and fails to set forth any of the other actors implicated by the allegations that Micromuse has contributed to and [*11] induced patent infringement. The absence of allegations such as those described does not demonstrate that the harsh sanction of dismissal is appropriate here, as this absence does not make it "appear[] beyond doubt that the plaintiff can prove no set of facts which would entitle him or her to relief," Sweet, 235 F.3d at 83, nor that the complaint is "so confused, ambiguous, vague, or otherwise unintelligible that its true substance, if any, is well disguised." Simmons, 49 F.3d at 86 (quoting Salahuddin, 861 F.2d at 42); see generally Glus v. Brooklyn E. Dist. Terminal, 359 U.S. 231, 235, 3 L. Ed. 2d 770, 79 S. Ct. 760 (1959) ("It may well be that petitioner's complaint as now drawn is too vague, but that is no ground for dismissing his action.").

[HN4] Where, as here, a pleading is sufficient to provide notice of the claim but does not contain sufficient information to allow a responsive pleading to be framed without risk of prejudice, the proper remedy is a motion for a more definite statement under Rule 12(e), Fed. R. Civ. P. See, e.g., Scott v. City of Chicago, 195 F.3d 950, 952 (7th Cir. 1999); [*12] Sisk v. Texas Parks & Wildlife Dep't, 644 F.2d 1056, 1059 (5th Cir. 1981); Harman v. Nat'l Bank of Arizona, 339 F.2d 564, 567 (9th Cir. 1964); but compare Ondeo Nalco Co. v. Eka Chems., Inc., 2002 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 26195, No. 01 Civ. 537 (SLR), 2002 WL 1458853, at *1-2 (D. Del. August 10, 2002) (dismissing defendant's counterclaims where it was unclear which products were being accused, concluding that the pleading was "too vague to provide plaintiff with fair notice," and granting leave to amend).

II. Micromuse's Motion For A More Definite Statement Is Granted

Rule 12(e) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure provides in pertinent part that [HN5] "if a pleading to which a responsive pleading is permitted is so vague or ambiguous that a party cannot reasonably be required to frame a responsive pleading, the party may move for a more definite statement before interposing a responsive pleading." Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(e). [HN6] Rule 12(e) applies only in limited circumstances:

The pleading must be sufficiently intelligible for the district court to be able to make out one or more [*13] potentially viable legal theories on which the claimant might proceed; in other words the pleading must be sufficient to survive a Rule 12(b)(6) motion to dismiss. At the same time, the pleading also must be so vague or ambiguous that the opposing party cannot respond to it, even with a simple denial as permitted by Rule 8(b), with a pleading that can be interposed in good faith or without prejudice to himself.

5C Charles Alan Wright & Arthur R. Miller, Federal Practice & Procedure § 1376 at 311 (3d ed. 2004) (footnote omitted); see Humpherys v. Nager, 962 F. Supp. 347, 352-53 (E.D.N.Y. 1997) ("A 12(b)(6) motion is one made for a failure to state a claim, while a 12(e) motion is proper when a complaint pleads a viable legal theory, but is so unclear that the opposing party cannot respond to the complaint."); but compare Home & Nature Inc. v. Sherman Specialty Co., 322 F. Supp. 2d 260, 265 (E.D.N.Y. 2004) ("Rule 12(e) motion should be denied if a complaint comports with the liberal pleading requirements of Rule 8(a).") (collecting cases).

[HN7] Although motions pursuant to Rule 12(e) are generally disfavored where prompt resort to discovery [*14] may provide an adequate means for ascertaining relevant facts, see id., courts have considered Rule 12(e) relief appropriate in patent infringement cases where a plaintiff has failed to identify any allegedly infringing product or products. See, e.g., In re Papst Licensing, GmbH, Patent Litig., 2001 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 2255, Nos. MDL 1298 & C.A. 99-3118, 2001 WL 179926, at *2 (E.D. La. Feb. 22, 2001) (concluding that the plaintiff's complaint must be amended to specifically identify which of the defendant's products are alleged to have infringed the plaintiff's patents); cf. Creative Copier Servs. v. Xerox

Corp. (In re Indep. Serv. Orgs. Antitrust Litig.), 85 F. Supp. 2d 1130, 1169 (D. Kan. 2000) (denying the plaintiff's motion for summary judgment on a defendant's counterclaim where the plaintiff argued that it did not have adequate notice of which of its devices allegedly infringed the defendant's patents, observing that the plaintiff had already answered the counterclaim and that, if the plaintiff "did not truly know which parts were covered by the patents identified, it could have filed a motion for a more definite statement under Rule 12(e)"). The cases cited by Agilent in opposition to Micromuse's motion [*15] do not suggest that a contrary result is required here, as they stand for the propositions that a pleading need not identify every infringing product where some other limiting parameter has been set forth or at least one purportedly infringing product has been identified. See Symbol Techs., Inc. v. Hand Held Prods., 2003 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21002, No. 03-102-SLR, 2003 WL 22750145, at *3 (D. Del. Nov. 14, 2003) (denying a Rule 12(e) motion where there was a "finite" set of potentially infringing products under identified patents held by the defendant); Oki Elec. Indus. Co., Ltd. v. Lg Semicon Co., Ltd., 1998 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 22507, No. 97 Civ. 20310 (SW), 1998 WL 101737, at *3 (N.D. Cal. Feb. 25, 1998) (denying a motion to dismiss where the plaintiff identified infringing products by specifying that the products concerned were "devices that embody the patented methods, including 4 megabit and higher density DRAMs") (internal quotation marks omitted), aff'd, 243 F.3d 559 (Fed. Cir. 2000).

Agilent's complaint does not specify which products infringed plaintiff's patents; it merely states that the alleged infringements occurred as a result of the fact that Micromuse "makes, sells, or offers products [*16] for sale . . . that infringe Agilent's patents." (Compl. at P 4.) Although Agilent's papers submitted in opposition to Micromuse's various motions suggest that Micromuse possesses at least four infringing products, those products have not been formally accused. Under these circumstances, Micromuse is entitled to know which of its products or services are alleged to have infringed Agilent's patents and a more definite statement setting forth that information is appropriate.

Micromuse has also argued that Agilent's complaint fails to identify the primary infringer with respect to the contributory and inducement claims. Micromuse has cited to a single unpublished authority in support of its argument that such identification is required to render a pleading answerable, and this authority, Net Moneyin, Inc. v. Mellon Fin. Corp., No. 01 Civ. 441 (TUC) (RCC), slip op. (D. Ariz. July 30, 2003), itself cites no other case law directly on point. Micromuse has accordingly failed to establish that relief under Rule 12(e) with respect to the identity of any primary infringers is appropriate.

[HN8] Where a motion made under Rule 12(e) has been granted, the order of the court to provide a more definite [*17] statement must be obeyed within ten days after notice of the order "or within such other time as the court may fix." Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(e). Agilent is directed to comply with the grant of Micromuse's motion for a more definite statement by filing and serving an amended complaint within thirty (30) days of entry of this order and opinion.

III. H-P Will Not Be Deemed A Necessary Party At This Time

Micromuse argues that, if Agilent's complaint is not dismissed, H-P, as co-owner of the '138 Patent, should be joined as a necessary party to this lawsuit, pursuant to Rule 19(a) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. In addition, Micromuse asserts that if H-P is not so joined, the case should be dismissed pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(b)(7).

[HN9] "Fed. R. Civ. P. 19 sets forth a two-step test for determining whether the court must dismiss an action for failure to join an indispensable party. First, the court must determine whether an absent party belongs in the suit, i.e., whether the party qualifies as [*18] a 'necessary' party under Rule 19(a)." Viacom Int'l, Inc. v. Kearney, 212 F.3d 721, 724 (2d Cir. 2000). Rule 19(a) provides in relevant part that, [HN10] A person who is subject to service of process and whose joinder will not deprive the court of jurisdiction over the subject matter of the action shall be joined as a party in the action if (1) in the person's absence complete relief cannot be accorded among those already parties, or (2) the person claims an interest relating to the subject of the action and is so situated that the disposition of the action in the person's absence may (i) as a practical matter impair or impede the person's ability to protect that interest or (ii) leave any of the persons already parties subject to a substantial risk of incurring double, multiple, or otherwise inconsistent obligations by reason of the claimed interest. If the person has not been so joined, the court shall order that the person be made a party.

Fed. R. Civ. P. 19(a). Second, [HN11] if a party is deemed necessary, it then must be determined whether the party's absence warrants dismissal pursuant to Rule 19(b), Fed. R. Civ. P. [*19] See Viacom Int'l, 212 F.3d at 725. "If a party does not qualify as necessary under Rule 19(a), then the court need not decide whether its absence warrants dismissal under Rule 19(b)." Id. at 724 (citing Associated Dry Goods Corp. v. Towers Fin. Corp., 920 F.2d 1121, 1123 (2d Cir. 1990)).

[HN12] As a general matter, "United States patent law . . . requires that all co-owners normally must join as plaintiffs in an infringement suit." Int'l Nutrition Co. v. Horphag Research Ltd., 257 F.3d 1324, 1331 (Fed. Cir. 2001); see also Ethicon, Inc. v. United States Surgical Corp., 135 F.3d 1456, 1468 (Fed. Cir. 1998) (stating that, "as a matter of substantive patent law, all coowners must ordinarily consent to join as plaintiff in an infringement suit") (footnote omitted); see generally Waterman v. MacKenzie, 138 U.S. 252, 255-56, 34 L. Ed. 923, 11 S. Ct. 334, 1891 Dec. Comm'r Pat. 320 (1891). As one court has explained, since "all co-owners have standing to sue for infringement, if all the co-owners are not joined in an infringement suit, there may be a risk that the defendant will be subject to multiple suits." E-Z Bowz, L.L.C. v. Prof'l Prod. Research Co., 2003 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 15364, No. 00 Civ. 8670 (LTS) (GWG), 2003 WL 22064257, [*20] at *3 (S.D.N.Y. Sept. 5, 2003) (quoting IBM Corp. v. Conner Peripherals, 1994 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 2884, No. 93 Civ. 20591 (RMW), 1994 WL 409493, at *3 (N.D. Cal. Jan. 28, 1994)); see also Union Trust Nat'l Bank v. Audio Devices, Inc., 295 F. Supp. 25, 27 (S.D.N.Y. 1969) ("That all co-owners be parties to a suit is a necessary requirement if conflicting decisions about the same patent (for example, its validity) are to be avoided."); cf. Vaupel Textilmaschinen KG v. Meccanica Euro Italia S.P.A., 944 F.2d 870, 875 (Fed. Cir. 1991) ("The policy underlying the requirement to join the owner when an exclusive licensee brings suit is to prevent the possibility of two suits on the same patent against a single infringer.").

"Since the introduction of Fed. R. Civ. P. 19 and the 1966 amendments to the rule, however, courts are less concerned with abstract characterizations of the parties and more concerned with whether the rights of the parties can be fairly adjudicated absent joinder of the patent co-owner." E.Z. Bowz, 2003 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 15364, 2003 WL 22064257, at *3 (quoting Michaels of Oregon Co. v. Mil-Tech, Inc., 1995 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 20875, No. 95 Civ. 908 (MA), 1995 WL 852122, [*21] at *1 (D. Or. Oct. 17, 1995)); cf. Howes v. Med. Components, Inc., 698 F. Supp. 574, 576 (E.D. Pa. 1988) ("The adoption of the 1966 amendments to Rule 19 'makes inappropriate any contention that patent co-owners are per se indispensable in infringement suits.'") (quoting Catanzaro v. Int'l Tel. & Tel. Corp., 378 F. Supp. 203, 205 (D. Del. 1974)).

Thus, where the co-owner of a patent or other entity or individual whose interest in a patent might be directly affected by litigation has specifically disclaimed all interest in pursuing litigation related to the patent in favor of the party who has brought the suit, courts have held that joinder of the co-owner or other entity or individual is not necessary. See Vaupel Textilmaschinen, 944 F.2d at 875-76 (concluding that the policy to join an owner when an exclusive licensee bring suit in order to preclude the possibility of duplicative lawsuits was not undercut where, pursuant to express agreements, the right to sue rested solely with the licensee and denying the defendant's Rule 19 motion); E-Z Bowz, 2003 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 15364, 2003 WL 22064257, at *4-5 (holding that the defendant would not [*22] be subject to a substantial risk of incurring inconsistent obligations where the former co-owner of certain patents had relinquished her interest in the patents as well as any rights of action relating to the patents and concluding that the rights of the parties could be fairly adjudicated without joinder of the absent former co-owner); Michaels of Oregon, 1995 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 20875, 1995 WL 852122, at *2-3 (determining that an absent co-owner of certain patents was not a necessary party where that absent co-owner had entered into an agreement with the plaintiff providing that only the plaintiff might file actions for patent infringement); compare Parkson Corp. v. Andritz Sprout-Bauer, Inc., 866 F. Supp. 773, 775 (S.D.N.Y. 1995) (concluding that it was not possible to determine whether an owner was a necessary party to an action brought by an exclusive licensee where the licensing agreement did not unambiguously give the licensee control over whether infringement claims should be brought); Howes, 698 F. Supp. at 577 (concluding that an absent patent co-owner was a necessary party where the defendants might face the risk of relitigation by that co-owner).

Although [*23] the complaint alleges that Agilent and H-P jointly own the '138 Patent, it further alleges that Agilent enjoys the exclusive right to enforce the '138 Patent against Micromuse. In opposition to Micromuse's motion, Agilent has submitted a redacted version of an August 22, 2003 agreement between Agilent and H-P (the "August Agreement") regarding their respective rights concerning the enforcement of the '138 Patent. According to the August Agreement, H-P grants to Agilent "the exclusive right to license the ['138] Patent to Micromuse." (Declaration of Megan Whyman Olesck, dated Jan. 15, 2004 ("Olesck Decl."), Exh. X at P 1.) H-P further grants to Agilent "the exclusive right to enforce the ['138] Patent to and against Micromuse" including by "filing and prosecuting the Agilent Patent Suit to final judgment, including appeals." n1 (Id.) H-P has also agreed that

As between the parties, Agilent shall have the full power and authority to control the Agilent Patent Suit and any settlement thereof and shall retain one hundred percent (100%) of any damages or compensation received in connection with the Agilent Patent Suit or settlement thereof.

(Id. at P 3.)

N1 The "Agilent Patent Suit" is defined as "a patent infringement lawsuit against Micromuse." (Olesek Decl., Exh. X, preamble.)

[*24]

Based on the terms of the August Agreement, it does not appear that H-P's absence from this lawsuit will subject Micromuse to any "substantial risk of incurring double, multiple, or otherwise inconsistent obligations," Fed. R. Civ. P. 19(a), because H-P has no independent capacity to file a patent infringement action against Micromuse based on the '138 Patent, having expressly disclaimed any interest in pursuing a claim against Micromuse with respect to the '138 Patent. In light of the broad contractual language by which H-P has granted Agilent the exclusive right to enforce the '138 Patent against Micromuse, the absence of any provision in the August Agreement stating that H-P agrees to be bound by the outcome of this litigation is not determinative here. Likewise, the absence of an affirmative representation that H-P has relinquished its right to sue Micromuse for any purported past infringement does not, contrary to the argument advanced by Micromuse, require joinder of H-P. On the facts now available, it thus appears that complete relief can be accorded among those already parties.

Micromuse has noted, however, that the August Agreement [*25] makes explicit reference to the existence of a Master Patent Ownership and License Agreement and that the August Agreement is an agreement among Agilent and H-P "together with Hewlett Packard Development Company, L.P." (Olesek Decl., Exh. X, preamble), an entity that, according to Micromuse, may also have an interest in the '138 Patent. Micromuse has further observed that the redacted form of the August Agreement does not set forth its effective term or termination provisions and suggests that the absence of such provisions raises questions of whether H-P enjoys a reversion, termination, or expiration interest in the '138 Patent, questions which may, in turn, affect any determination as to whether H-P is a necessary party here. See, e.g., Moore U.S.A. Inc. v. Standard Register Co., 60 F. Supp. 2d 104, 109-110 (W.D.N.Y. 1999) (concluding that [HN13] a licensor was a necessary party to a patent infringement action despite the existence of an agreement with the plaintiff licensee granting the licensee sole and exclusive rights to sue for infringement where the agreement was of fixed term and where the licensor retained a reversionary interest in the patent).

Although the [*26] facts presently available do not establish that H-P is a necessary party, Micromuse's observations suggest that developments resulting from discovery may cause the issue of H-P's joinder to be revisited. Accordingly, Micromuse's motion to join H-P is denied at this time and leave is hereby granted to renew the motion after further discovery.

IV. Gray Cary Will Not Be Disqualified At This Time

Micromuse has moved to disqualify Gray Cary from representing Agilent in this matter on the grounds that, for many years, Gray Cary provided extensive legal representation to Network Harmoni, a company acquired by Micromuse in August 2003. Micromuse argues that Network Harmoni's suite of proprietary intelligent software agents is now part of Micromuse's product offerings and, under the current complaint, potentially the target of Agilent's patent infringement claims. Micromuse asserts that Gray Cary thus formerly represented Network Harmoni in matters substantially related to the subject matter of this action and must be disqualified from representing Agilent as a result. Agilent opposes Micromuse's motion, arguing that in its representation of Network Harmoni Gray Cary was at all [*27] times in an adverse relationship to Micromuse and that Gray Cary's prior representation of Network Harmoni involved no confidential information about the product or products at issue in the present action. n2 n2 Following briefing on Micromuse's motion, Agilent moved for leave to submit a supplemental declaration, claiming the need to respond to certain contentions in Micromuse's reply papers, and Micromuse opposed the motion. Agilent's motion for leave to submit the supplemental declaration is granted. [HN14] Although submission of supplemental papers is often more of a hindrance than a help, the issues addressed in the supplemental papers presented here are carefully cabined and respond to arguably new contentions contained in reply papers on the underlying motion. Where this is true, and where, as here, the opposing party has disclaimed any prejudice resulting from the submission of the supplemental papers, there is no evidence of bad faith by the party seeking to submit the supplemental papers, and "the parties will be best served by the Court's deciding the . . . issue presented to it on the most complete factual basis possible," Nat'l Union Fire Ins. Co. v. BP Amoco P.L.C., 2003 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 4810, No. 03 Civ. 200

(GEL), 2003 WL 1618534, at *1 (S.D.N.Y. Mar. 27, 2003), leave to submit supplemental papers is appropriately granted.

[HN15] Motions to disqualify counsel have long been disfavored in this Circuit. See, e.g., Evans v. Artek Sys. Corp., 715 F.2d 788, 791-92 (2d Cir. 1983) (enumerating the reasons for which disqualification motions are disfavored); Bennett Silvershein Assoc. v. Furman, 776 F. Supp. 800, 802 (S.D.N.Y. 1991) ("The Second Circuit has indeed been loathe to separate a client from his chosen attorney . . .") (collecting cases). "Disqualification motions are often made for tactical reasons, and thereby unduly interfere with a party's right to employ counsel of his choice." Skidmore v. Warburg Dillon Read L.L.C., 2001 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 6101, No. 99 Civ. 10525 (NRB), 2001 WL 504876, at *2 (S.D.N.Y. May 11, 2001) (citing Board of Educ. v. Nyquist, 590 F.2d 1241, 1246 (2d Cir. 1979)). Moreover, disqualification motions, "even when made in the best of faith . . . inevitably cause delay." Evans, 715 F.2d at 792 (quoting Nyquist, 590 F.2d at 1246). A "high standard of proof" is therefore required from one who moves to disqualify counsel. Id. at 791 (quoting Government of India v. Cook Industries, Inc., 569 F.2d 737, 739 (2d Cir. 1978)). [*29] The appearance of impropriety alone does not warrant disqualification. See Nyquist, 590 F.2d at 1246-47.

[HN16] In determining whether an attorney can oppose his former client, courts evaluate whether the new matter is substantially related to the subject matter of the prior representation. An attorney may be disqualified from representing a client in a particular case if:

- (1) the moving party is a former client of the adverse party's counsel;
- (2) there is a substantial relationship between the subject matter of the counsel's prior representation of the moving party and the issues in the present lawsuit; and
- (3) the attorney whose disqualification is sought had access to, or was likely to have had access to, relevant privileged information in the course of his prior representation of the client.

Id. at 791. "Under this standard, proof of substantial similarity must be 'patently clear' to warrant disqualification." Decora Inc. v. DW Wallcovering, Inc., 899 F. Supp. 132, 136 (S.D.N.Y. 1995) (quoting Government of India, 569

F.2d at 739-40) (additional citations omitted). A "substantial relationship" exists where [*30] facts pertinent to the problems underlying the prior representation are relevant to the subsequent representation. See U.S. Football League v. Nat'l Football League, 605 F. Supp. 1448, 1459-60 & n.25 (S.D.N.Y. 1985) ("It is the congruence of factual matters, rather than areas of law, that establishes a substantial relationship between representations for disqualification purposes.") (emphasis in original).

According to Micromuse, Network Harmoni evolved from a research project in network visualization software conducted at Curtin University in Perth, Australia. In 1996, the founders of the project formed NDG Software, Inc., and in November 1998 the company received its first venture funding and moved its headquarters from Australia to San Diego, California. It is alleged that Gray Cary initially provided advice, counsel and representation in establishing and structuring this U.S.-based company and its operations, and served as outside counsel. Subsequently, NDG Software, Inc., changed its name to Network Harmoni, Inc.

During the time of Gray Cary's representation, Network Harmoni developed and licensed to its customers, including Agilent and Micromuse, proprietary [*31] intelligent software agents designed to provide users with information on the status and security of computer networks, systems and applications. Micromuse contends that Gray Cary, during its five-year relationship with Network Harmoni, represented Network Harmoni in its corporate affairs, employment issues, in prosecuting its patents and trademarks and handling other patent and trademark-related matters, in evaluating third-party patents, and in drafting and negotiating licensing agreements, financing instruments and other corporate-related documents.

Over the course of its representation of Network Harmoni, Gray Cary is alleged to have drafted and filed several patent applications with the United States Patent and Trademark Office relating to certain aspects of Network Harmoni's software products and was informed of virtually all attributes and potential uses of Network Harmoni's suite of proprietary intelligent software agents, as well as the company's plans for future software applications and services.

According to Micromuse, Gray Cary represented Network Harmoni in its negotiations to be purchased by Micromuse, and Network Harmoni and Micromuse executed a non-disclosure agreement [*32] to assure that the parties could have full and complete discussions without the use of such information for non-acquisition purposes.

It is further alleged that in three rounds of financing,

Gray Cary was allowed to participate on the same basis as the initial preferred investors and became a shareholder of Network Harmoni, and until September 1999, one of its lawyers served as a member of its board of directors. Gray Cary sold its stock in connection with Network Harmoni's acquisition by Micromuse.

In opposition to Micromuse's motion it is alleged that Gray Cary first became aware of a potential claim against Micromuse by Agilent on September 19, 2003, when Agilent approached Gray Cary about the possibility of Gray Cary handling the matter for Agilent. It is also alleged that on December 8, 2003, an ethical wall was established to isolate all attorneys working on Agilent matters from any and all information related to any matter in which Network Harmoni had been a client for the firm.

Agilent asserts that Gray Cary never had an attorney-client relationship with Micromuse and that such a relationship may not be inferred from Micromuse's disclosure of confidential business information [*33] to Network Harmoni and its then-counsel Gray Cary during negotiations for the acquisition of Network Harmoni. At present, however, there appears to be no dispute that [HN17] Micromuse is entitled to seek Gray Cary's disqualification based on Gray Cary's prior representation of Micromuse's wholly owned subsidiary, Network Harmoni. See generally Hartford Accident & Indem. Co. v. RJR Nabisco, Inc., 721 F. Supp. 534, 539-40 (S.D.N.Y. 1989) (concluding that the plaintiff's law firm would be deemed to have previously represented the defendant where the plaintiff's law firm had previously represented the defendant corporation's subsidiary and the defendant corporation had taken in active role with regard to the law firm's representation of its subsidiary); cf. Decora, 899 F. Supp. at 137 (concluding that the plaintiff could properly seek disqualification of the defendant's attorney in a patent infringement action where the attorney had previously represented the plaintiff's parent corporation, thereby learning certain of the plaintiff's trade secrets).

Assuming without deciding that the first prong of the test set forth in Evans has therefore been satisfied, [*34] Micromuse's motion for disqualification is denied nonetheless, since, to date, Micromuse has not met its burden of proof with respect to establishing a "substantial relationship" between Gray Cary's former representation of Network Harmoni and its current representation of Agilent. It has not been shown that Gray Cary gave Network Harmoni advice on the validity of the patents in suit, including whether there was infringement by Network Harmoni of the patents in suit. All that has been established is that Gray Cary advised Network Harmoni on corporate governance issues, employment matters, original equipment manufacturer ("OEM") agreements, patent and trademark filings, and financing instruments. [HN18] Prior general business representation by the plaintiff's law firm of an entity related to the defendant on matters unrelated to the lawsuit at issue does not meet the high burden of establishing a conflict. See, e.g., In re Maritima Aragua, S.A., 847 F. Supp. 1177, 1182-83 (S.D.N.Y. 1994).

The Micromuse products and services alleged to be violative of the Agilent patent will be identified as a consequence of the granting of Micromuse's motion for a more definite statement. [*35] Thereafter, discovery may be sought with respect to the knowledge and participation of Gray Cary in the development of any such accused products or services. Should this discovery yield additional facts establishing that the prior representation of Network Harmoni by Gray Cary dealt with issues presented in this action, leave is granted to Micromuse to renew its disqualification motion, which motion is denied at this time.

Conclusion

For the reasons set forth above, Micromuse's motion to dismiss the complaint is denied and its motion for a more definite statement is granted. Agilent is directed to comply with the grant of Micromuse's motion for a more definite statement by filing and serving an amended complaint within thirty (30) days of entry of this order and opinion. In addition, Micromuse's motions to add H P as a party and to disqualify Gray Cary are denied at this time with leave to renew. Agilent's motion to file a supplemental declaration is granted.

It is so ordered.

SYMBOL TECHNOLOGIES, INC., Plaintiff, v. HAND HELD PRODUCTS, INC. and HHP-NC, INC., Defendants.

Civil Action No. 03-102-SLR

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE DISTRICT OF DELAWARE

2003 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21002

November 14, 2003, Decided

DISPOSITION: [*1] Motions decided. Claims dismissed. Allegations stricken.

CASE SUMMARY:

PROCEDURAL POSTURE: Plaintiff patent holder alleged that defendant competitor infringed, induced others to infringe, and/or committed acts of contributory infringement of, one or more claims of each of the patent holder's numerous patents. The patent holder sought a declaratory judgment that the patents were noninfringed, invalid, and unenforceable. The competitor brought numerous motions to dismiss.

OVERVIEW: The competitor was acquired by its parent company, which was a direct competitor of the patent holder. Shortly thereafter, the parent company's in-house counsel corresponded with the patent holder's in-house patent counsel indicating that certain parent company patents might "present problems" to one of the patent holder's product lines. Having concluded that the totality of circumstances sufficiently demonstrated a reasonable apprehension of suit, nonetheless, the court held that the patent holder did not establish a reasonable apprehension of suit with respect to each of the named competitor patents. At most, the affidavit and accompanying documents filed to support the complaint suggest that only those patents referenced in the correspondence from the parent company were proper subjects of a declaratory judgment suit. Consequently, the court dismissed those competitor patents which were not the subject of the correspondence. With respect to the remaining patents, the court found that the parent holder engaged in the manufacture and production of products sufficiently similar to competitor's patents.

OUTCOME: The competitor's motions were granted in part and dismissed in part.

[HN4] Declaratory judgment pursuant to 28 U.S.C.S. § 2201 requires that there be (1) an explicit threat or other action by the patentee, which creates a reasonable apprehension on the part of the declaratory plaintiff that it will face an infringement suit, and (2) present activity which could constitute infringement or concrete steps taken with the intent to conduct such activity. In reaching its conclusion, the court must apply a totality of the circumstances standard.

Civil Procedure > Justiciability > Case or Controversy

[HN5] Test for finding a "controversy" for jurisdictional purposes is a pragmatic one and cannot turn on whether the parties use polite terms in dealing with one another or engage in more bellicose saber rattling. The question is whether the relationship between the parties can be considered a "controversy," and that inquiry does not turn on whether the parties have used particular "magic words" in communicating with one another. Therefore, the absence of an explicit threat of suit, while a factor, is not dispositive.

[HN6] Fraud is a clear exception to the otherwise broad notice-pleading standards under Fed. R. Civ. P. 9. A claim of patent unenforceability is premised upon inequitable conduct before the Patent & Trademark Office (PTO), which is a claim sounding in fraud. A plaintiff alleging unenforceability, therefore, must plead with particularity those facts which support the claim the patent holder acted fraudulently before the PTO.

MEMORANDUM ORDER

I. INTRODUCTION

Currently before the court are the following motions by the defendants Hand Held Products, Inc. and HHP-NC, Inc. (collectively "HHP"): 1) motion to dismiss U.S. Patent No. 5,591,956 of Count II for lack of subject matter jurisdiction; 2) motion to dismiss U.S. Patent No. 5,130,520 of Count I from the action because HHP holds a valid license; 3) motion to dismiss plaintiff's infringement and [*3] noninfringement claims from Counts I and II pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 8 and 12(b)(6) for failure to state a claim; 4) motion to dismiss Count II of the complaint pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(1) and 12(b)(6) for lack of subject matter jurisdiction for failure to satisfy the jurisdictional requirements of 28 U.S.C. § 2201; 5) motion to dismiss plaintiff's invalidity and unenforceability claims from Count II pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 8 and 12(b)(6) for failure to give notice of the bases for claims of invalidity and unenforceability; 6) motion to strike plaintiff's unenforceability allegations pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(6) for failure to plead fraud with particularity; and 7) motion for a more definite statement as to Counts I and II. (D.I. 10) For the reasons and to the extent stated below, the court grants in part and denies in part HHP's motions.

II. BACKGROUND [*4]

Plaintiff Symbol Technologies, Inc. ("Symbol") and HHP are competitors in the hand-held optical scanner industry, each holding patents and manufacturing a variety of products. Symbol is the owner of U.S. Patent Nos. 5,029,183; 5,130,520; 5,157,687; 5,479,441; 5,521,366; 5,646,390; 5,702,059; 5,783,811; 5,818,028; 6,00,612; 6,019,286; and 6,105,871 (collectively, the "Symbol Patents"). HHP is the owner of U.S. Patent Nos. 5,286,960; 5,291,008; 5,391,182; 5,420,409; 5,463,214; 5,569,902; 5,591,956; 5,723,853; 5,723,868; 5,773,806; 5,773,810; 5,780,834; 5,784,102; 5,786,586; 5,793,967; 5,801,918; 5,825,006; 5,831,254; 5,837,985; 5,838,495; 5,900,613; 5,914,476; 5,929,418; 5,932,862; 5,942,741; 5,949,052; 5,949,054; 5,965,863; 6,015,088; 6,060,722; 6,161,760; 6,298,176; 6,491,223; D392,282; D400,199, and D400,872 (collectively the "HHP Patents").

In September 1999, HHP was acquired by Welch Allyn, Inc. ("Welch Allyn"), a direct competitor of Symbol. Later that fall, Welch Allyn announced that it intended to acquire another competitor of Symbol's, PSC, Inc., with whom Symbol was engaged in patent litigation.

On March 13, 2000, Welch Allyn's in-house counsel sent an email to Symbol's [*5] in-house patent counsel indicating that certain Welch Allyn patents might "present problems" to Symbol's Golden Eye product line. (D.I. 19)

On June 6, 2000, Welch Allyn began negotiating with Symbol on behalf of Welch Allyn's newly acquired subsidiary, PSC, Inc. (Id.) Later that month, a meeting was held between Symbol and Welch Allyn to discuss the licensing of certain patents held by HHP relating to the Golden Eye product line. At that meeting, a list of twenty-three (23) patents was presented to Symbol which Welch Allyn viewed as relevant. (Id.)

On June 28, 2000, a second list was provided to Symbol by HHP in response to a request made at the earlier meeting. This second list contained only ten (10) patents, eight of which were previously listed on the first list, and two of which were new additions. The June 28 letter indicated that these patents should be the topic of further licensing discussions between the parties. (Id.)

On November 30, 2000, Symbol acquired Telxon, a Texas company that was at the time engaged in patent-related disputes with Welch Allyn. Previously that year, Welch Allyn had sent a list of patents to Telxon, identical to the first list sent to [*6] Symbol, and suggested that Telxon's products might be infringing. Welch Allyn had also previously raised infringement issues with Metanetics, a Telxon subsidiary. (Id.)

Relations between Symbol and Welch Allyn deteriorated completely when Welch Allyn filed a lawsuit against Symbol in North Carolina regarding a certain contract that they shared to provide products to the United States Postal Service. (Id.)

On January 21, 2003, Symbol filed a two-count complaint alleging that HHP has infringed the Symbol Patents and seeking declaratory judgment that the HHP Patents are not infringed, invalid and/or unenforceable. (D.I. 1)

In Count I of the complaint, Symbol alleges that "HHP infringed and continues to infringe, has induced and continues to induce others to infringe, and/or has committed and continues to commit acts of contributory infringement of, one or more claims of each of the Symbol Patents." (D.I. 1 at 6) In Count II of the complaint, Symbol seeks a declaratory judgment that the HHP Patents are noninfringed, invalid, and unenforceable. (Id.)

III. DISCUSSION

A. HHP's Motion to Dismiss U.S. Patent No. 5,591,956

HHP contends that the court is without subject-matter [*7] jurisdiction as to U.S. Patent No. 5,591,956 ("956 patent"). (D.I. 11) At oral arguments before the court on October 28, 2003, HHP's counsel affirmatively stated that the '956 patent is dedicated to the public; therefore, this patent will be dismissed from the complaint.

B. HHP's Motion to Dismiss U.S. Patent No. 5,130,520

HHP contends that U.S. Patent No. 5,130,520 ("520 patent") should be dismissed because it is the subject of a valid license from Symbol. Symbol contends that there is a license for the '520 patent, but that it pertains to a narrow field of use. [HN1] It is established law that a licensee that exceeds the scope of its license may be held liable for infringement. See General Talking Pictures Co., 304 U.S. 175, 82 L. Ed. 1273, 58 S. Ct. 849, 1938 Dec. Comm'r Pat. 831 (1938); Eli Lilly & Co. v. Genentech, Inc., 1990 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 18619, 17 U.S.P.Q.2d 1531, 1534 (S.D. Ind. 1990). Consequently, HHP's motion to dismiss the '520 patent will be denied.

C. HHP's Motion to Dismiss Infringement and Noninfringement Claims from Count I and II for Failure to State a Claim, Motion to Dismiss Symbol's Claims of Invalidity and Unenforceability, and Motion for a More [*8] Definite Statement

HHP contends that Symbol's complaint is facially defective under Fed. R. Civ. P. 8(a), as it fails to provide sufficient notice of which of HHP's products infringe claims under the Symbol Patents and which of Symbol's products may infringe HHP Patents. (D.I. 11 at 16) HHP, however, has failed to cite any precedent binding upon this court that requires a complaint to identify the basis of an infringement claim with such particularity. n1 [HN2] It is established law that liberal pleading requirements are designed to put the parties on notice generally as to the nature of the cause of action. Conley v. Gibson, 355 U.S. 41, 47, 2 L. Ed. 2d 80, 78 S. Ct. 99 (1957); Weston v. Pennsylvania, 251 F.3d 420, 429 (3d Cir. 2001). Particularly in complex litigation, it is through the discovery process that the parties refine and focus their claims. At this stage in the litigation, the court declines to dismiss Symbol's claims until adequate discovery has been completed.

n1 The court notes that HHP attempts to bootstrap Fed. R. Civ. P. 11 requirements into Rule 8, without actually alleging that Symbol's complaint is frivolous. (D.I. 11 at 9-10) In the absence of an actual motion by HHP to the contrary, the court will assume that Symbol's counsel has complied with their ethical obligations under Fed. R. Civ. P. 11.

In the alternative, HHP moves the court to require Symbol to provide a more definite statement pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(e). [HN3] A motion under Rule 12(e) is to correct a pleading that is "so vague or ambiguous that a party cannot reasonably be required to frame a responsive pleading." The purpose, however, of Rule 12(e) is not to make it easier for the moving party to prepare its case. Fed. R. Civ. P. 12 advisory committee's note. In this case, the crux of HHP's motion is that Symbol's complaint is simply too large. There are, however, a finite number of claims and a finite number of infringing products. Consequently, the court finds that traditional mechanisms of discovery are the proper tools to refine the scope of this litigation. HHP's motions in this regard will be denied.

D. HHP's Motions to Dismiss Count II for Lack of Subject Matter Jurisdiction

HHP contends that the court is without subject matter jurisdiction as to the HHP Patents, as there is not an actual controversy within the meaning of § 2201. (Id.) See Vetra Fitness, Inc. v. TNWK Corp., 162 F.3d 1379, 1383 (Fed. Cir. 1998). [*10]

[HN4] Declaratory judgment pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2201 requires that there be "(1) an explicit threat or other action by the patentee, which creates a reasonable apprehension on the part of the declaratory plaintiff that it will face an infringement suit, and (2) present activity which could constitute infringement or concrete steps taken with the intent to conduct such activity." BP Chemicals Ltd. v. Union Carbide Corp., 4 F.3d 975, 978 (Fed. Cir. 1993). In reaching its conclusion, the court must apply a totality of the circumstances standard. See C.R. Bard, Inc. v. Schwartz, 716 F.2d 874, 880 (Fed. Cir. 1983).

The recent contentious and litigious history between the parties weighs in favor of a finding that Symbol has a reasonable apprehension of suit. In EMC Corp. v. Norand Corp., 89 F.3d 807 (Fed. Cir. 1996), the Federal Circuit stated that the [HN5] "test for finding a 'controversy' for jurisdictional purposes is a pragmatic one and cannot turn on whether the parties use polite terms in dealing with one another or engage in more bellicose saber rattling." Id. at 811. The Court of Appeals continued [*11] and emphasized that "the question is whether the relationship between the parties can be considered a 'controversy,' and that inquiry does not turn on whether the parties have used particular 'magic words' in communicating with one another." Id. at 812. Therefore, the absence of an explicit threat of suit, while a factor, is not dispositive. See BP Chemicals Ltd. v. Union Carbide Corp., 4 F.3d 975, 979 (Fed. Cir. 1993) ("Declaratory judgment jurisdiction does not require direct threats.").

Further, it is relevant under Federal Circuit precedent that at oral argument HHP did not affirmatively state that it would not bring suit. In C.R. Bard Inc., the Court of Appeals held that a plaintiff had a reasonable apprehension of suit when the defendant in a declaratory judgment declined to affirmatively state at oral arguments that he would not bring a suit for infringement against the plaintiff. n2 716 F.2d at 881.

n2 The court is not entirely comfortable with the notion that a plaintiff might bring a declaratory judgment against a defendant for the purpose of forcing an admission of the defendant's intent to enforce its patent rights. The court is also uncomfortable with the notion that a defendant might plead that the plaintiff has no reasonable apprehension of suit, and then file in another forum once the declaratory judgment has been dismissed for want of subject matter jurisdiction. Nonetheless, the Federal Circuit in C.R. Bard made it clear that the failure to deny an intent to sue for infringement is a factor to be considered.

Having concluded that the totality of circumstances sufficiently demonstrates a reasonable apprehension of suit, nonetheless, Symbol has not established a reasonable apprehension of suit with respect to each of the named HHP Patents. At most, the affidavit and accompanying documents filed to support the complaint suggest that only those patents referenced in the June 28, 2000 correspondence from Welch Allyn are proper subjects of a declaratory judgment suit. n3 Consequently, the court will dismiss without prejudice those HHP Patents which were not the subject of the June 28, 2000 correspondence.

n3 Those patents are: U.S. Patent Nos. 5,286,960; 5,900,613; 5,723,868; 5,780,834; 5,784,102; 5,825,006; 5,831,254; 6,060,722; 5,929,418; and 5,965,863.

With respect to the remaining HHP Patents, the court finds that Symbol satisfies the "present activity" requirement of § 2201. It is sufficient that Symbol engages in the manufacture and production of products sufficiently similar to HHP's patents. See Millipore Corp. v. University Patents, Inc., 682 F. Supp. 227, 232 (D. Del. 1987). [*13] Moreover, the fact that HHP's own correspondence to Symbol suggests that licensing of its patents may be needed is sufficient for the court to conclude that there is "present activity" as required under § 2201.

E. HHP's Motion to Strike Symbol's Allegations of Unenforceability for Failure to Plead with Particularity

The court will dismiss Symbol's claims for unenforceability without prejudice. [HN6] Fraud is a clear exception to the otherwise broad notice-pleading standards under Fed. R. Civ. P. 9. A claim of patent unenforceability is premised upon inequitable conduct before the Patent & Trademark Office ("PTO"), which is a claim sounding in fraud. A plaintiff alleging unenforceability, therefore, must plead with particularity those facts which support the claim the patent holder acted fraudulently before the PTO. As Symbol has failed to adequately plead its bases for unenforceability of the remaining HHP Patents, that portion of Count II will be dismissed without prejudice.

IV. CONCLUSION

At Wilmington this 14th day of November, 2003, having held oral argument and reviewed HHP's motion to dismiss pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 8(a), 9 [*14], 12(b)(1), 12(b)(6) and 12(f), or in the alternative for a more definite statement pursuant to Rule 12(e) (D.I. 10), and Symbol's response thereto;

IT IS ORDERED that:

1. HHP's motion to dismiss Count II of Symbol's complaint with respect to U.S. Patent No. 5,591,956 is granted. (D.I. 10-1)

2. HHP's motion to dismiss U.S. Patent No. 5,130,520 of Count I is denied. (D.I. 10-2)

3. HHP's motion to dismiss infringement and noninfringement claims from Counts I and II of the complaint pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 8 and 12(b)(6) is denied. (D.I. 10-3)

4. HHP's motion to dismiss Count II of the complaint pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(1) and 12(b)(6) for lack of subject matter jurisdiction is granted with respect to *U.S. Patent Nos. 5,291,008; 5,391,182; 5,420,409; 5,463,214; 5,697,902; 5,723,853; 5,773,806; 5,773,810; 5,786,586; 5,793,967; 5,801,918; [15] 5,837,985; 5,838,495; 5,914,476; 5,932,862; 5,942,741; 5,949,052; 5,949,054; 6,015,088; 6,161,760; 6,298,176; 6,491,223; D392,282; D400,199;

and D400,872, and is denied with respect to U.S. Patent Nos. 5,286,960; 5,900,613; 5,723,868; 5,780,834; 5,784,102; 5,825,006; 5,831,254; 6,060,722; 5,929,418; and 5,965,863. (D.I. 10-4)

5. HHP's motion pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 8 and 12(b)(6) to dismiss Symbol's invalidity and unenforceability claims from Count II is denied. (D.I. 10-5)

6. HHP's motion to strike Symbol's allegations of unenforceability pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(6) or 12(f) is granted. (D.I. 10-6)

7. HHP's motion for a more definite statement is denied. (D.I. 10-7)
