 21 COMES NOW Defendant, DEL MONTE FOODS COMPANY ("Del Monte"), and files this 22 Opposition to Plaintiff's Notice of Recent and Supplemental Authority. In support thereof, Del
 23 Monte sets forth the following:

24 On September 24, 2007, the Plaintiff filed a Notice with this Court concerning the United 25 States District Court for the Southern District of California's decision in Kennedy v. Natural Balance
 26 Pet Food, Inc., et. al., 2007 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 57766 (August 8, 2007).
 27

1 Defendant Del Monte respectfully submits that Kennedy v. Natural Balance does not speak
2 to the issues before this Court with regard to the pending Fed. R. Civ. P. 12 (b) (6) motions.

3 Kennedy v. Natural Balance does involve an allegation that the marking “Made in the 4 U.S.A.” was improper. However, the similarities between Kennedy v. Natural Balance and the 5 instant lawsuit end there. The Plaintiff in Kennedy v. Natural Balance advances two claims – a 6 claim for violation of the California Consumer Legal Remedies Act (“CLRA”), and a claim for 7 unfair competition in violation of California Business and Professions Code (“UCL”). Both of these 8 claims are based on the marking of pet food as “Made in the U.S.A..”

9 The Defendants in Kennedy v. Natural Balance argued for dismissal on three grounds. First, 10 Defendant Natural Balance Pet Foods, Inc. (“Natural Balance”) argued that the Plaintiff failed to 11 provide notice of suit as required under the CLRA. Second, Natural Balance asserted that the 12 Plaintiff did not state a claim under the UCL because the alleged foreign rice protein was not “made”
13 or “manufactured” in a foreign land within the meaning of the UCL. Third, Defendant Wilbur-Ellis
14 Company (“Wilbur Ellis”) argued that it played no role in the labeling, marking of the pet food 15 products at issue and that Plaintiff failed to state a claim under either the CLRA or the UCL as 16 against it.

17 The Court granted Wilbur Ellis’ motion and dismissed all claims against it without prejudice.
18 The Court also granted Natural Balance’s motion in part and denied in part as well.

19 The instant lawsuit does not concern the CLRA or the UCL. Thus, the arguments advanced 20 and decided in Kennedy v. Natural Balance are not analogous or instructive to those advanced by 21 Del Monte. Del Monte has asserted arguments that are specific to the Nevada Deceptive Trade
22 Practices Act (“DTPA”). To wit, Del Monte has argued that the Plaintiff has failed to state a claim 23 for restitution, disgorgement and/or injunctive relief under the DTPA. Kennedy v. Natural Balance
24 is of no import to this issue. The DTPA is a uniquely worded and different statute when compared 25 to the CLRA and UCL. Further, the issue of restitution, disgorgement, and/or injunctive relief was 26 not in question in Kennedy v. Natural Balance.

27 Further, Del Monte’s motion to dismiss asserts that Plaintiff has failed to state a cause of 28 action for unjust enrichment. This issue was not addressed by the Court in Kennedy v. Natural

1 Balance. Similarly, Del Monte's arguments regarding the lack of private cause of action under 2 Federal Law were not addressed by the Court in Kennedy v. Natural Balance.

3 For the above reasons, Kennedy v. Natural Balance is of no value to this Court when 4 deciding the motions to dismiss currently pending before it, and it was not necessary for this Court to 5 be notified of this decision in a Notice of Recent and Supplemental Authority. None of the issues 6 raised by Del Monte concerning Plaintiff's deficient Complaint were addressed by the court in 7 Kennedy v. Natural Balance.
