16 Defendants Primerica Life Insurance Company, Primerica Financial Services, 17 Inc. (“Primerica Financial”), and Citigroup Inc. filed a Notice of Removal (Doc. #1) on 18 October 20, 2008. Defendants removed the action to this Court on the basis of diversity 19 jurisdiction and assert that Plaintiff Zolia Slack fraudulently joined Primerica Financial to 20 destroy this Court’s diversity jurisdiction.

21 The Court is obligated to address subject matter jurisdiction sua sponte.
22 Williams v. United Airlines, Inc., 500 F.3d 1019, 1021 (9th Cir. 2007). The Court has 23 diversity jurisdiction in civil actions that take place between citizens of different states and 24 involve a matter in controversy in excess of $75,000. 28 U.S.C. § 1332(a). “Diversity
25 jurisdiction requires complete diversity between the parties—each defendant must be a 26 citizen of a different state from each plaintiff.” In re Digimarc Corp. Derivative Litig., 549

1 F.3d 1223, 1234 (9th Cir. 2008). The Court must remand an action if the Court finds it
2 lacks subject matter jurisdiction. 28 U.S.C. § 1447(c); Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(h)(3).

3 Here, the Amended Complaint alleges both Plaintiff and Primerica Financial are 4 Nevada residents. Because complete diversity does not exist on the face of the Amended
5 Complaint, this Court's subject matter jurisdiction depends on a finding of fraudulent 6 joinder. When a "plaintiff fails to state a cause of action against a resident defendant, and 7 the failure is obvious according to the settled rules of the state, the joinder of the resident
8 defendant is fraudulent and removal is proper." Gardner v. UICI, 508 F.3d 559, 561 (9th 9 Cir. 2007) (quotations omitted). The party seeking removal bears the burden of establishing 10 removal jurisdiction. California ex rel. Lockyer v. Dynegy, Inc., 375 F.3d 831, 838, 11 amended by 387 F.3d 966 (9th Cir. 2004); see also McCabe v. Gen. Foods Corp., 811 F.2d 12 1336, 1339 (9th Cir. 1987) ("The defendant seeking removal to the federal court is entitled 13 to present the facts showing the joinder to be fraudulent."). Because proper subject matter
14 jurisdiction is necessary for the Court to hear this case, the Court orders the parties to brief
15 the alleged fraudulent joinder of Primerica Financial and the Court's diversity jurisdiction.

16 IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that both parties shall file cross briefs on 17 whether this Court has proper subject matter jurisdiction in light of Plaintiff's alleged 18 fraudulent joinder of Primerica Financial by March 3, 2009. The parties shall file cross 19 responses no later than March 13, 2009. The parties shall not file replies.
