UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF NEVADA

Federal Trade Commission,

Plaintiff

vs.

Ideal Financial Solutions, Inc., et al.,

Defendants

Case No.: 2:13-cv-143-JAD-GWF

Order Approving Receiver's Interim
Application for Order Approving Fees and Expenses of the Receiver and His Professionals

[ECF 242]

11 Receiver Thomas McNamara applies for an interim payment of attorney's fees and costs for 12 work performed as the receiver in this trade-enforcement case.<sup>1</sup> He seeks $3,150.13 for his services 13 for the period of September 1, 2014, through November 30, 2015; and a total of $20,462.12 in 14 attorneys' fees and $484.36 in litigation costs incurred by his counsel for receivership matters.<sup>2</sup> The 15 motion is unopposed, and McNamara has complied with both the plain language of the preliminary 16 injunction and this district's local rules. I find this application appropriate for resolution without oral 17 argument,<sup>3</sup> and I grant his motion and authorize disbursement of the requested amounts from the 18 seized funds.

Discussion

Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 66 governs the appointment of receivers and specifies that
"the practice in administering an estate by a receiver or similar court-appointed officer must accord with the historical practice in federal courts or with a local rule."<sup>4</sup> The District of Nevada's local rules provide that "[a] receiver shall not employ an attorney, accountant, or investigator without first

1 obtaining an order of the Court authorizing such employment. The compensation of such persons 2 shall be fixed by the Court, after hearing, upon the applicant's verified application setting forth in 3 reasonable detail the nature of the services. The application shall state under oath that the applicant
4 has not entered into any agreement, written or oral, express or implied, with any other person 5 concerning the amount of compensation paid or to be paid from the assets of the estate, or any 6 sharing thereof."<sup>5</sup> "The court appointing [a] receiver has full power to fix the compensation of such 7 receiver and the compensation of the receiver's attorney or attorneys."<sup>6</sup> Generally, the Ninth Circuit
8 reviews a district court's fee determination for abuse of discretion.<sup>7</sup>

9 Section XI(J) of the court's preliminary injunction provides for the appointment of a receiver 10 and authorizes the receiver to request certain fees.<sup>8</sup> The receiver is authorized to "[c]hoose, engage, 11 and employ attorneys, accountants, appraisers, investigators, and other independent contractors and 12 technical specialists, as the Receiver deems advisable or necessary in the performance of duties and 13 responsibilities[.]"<sup>9</sup> Additionally, Section XVI of the order provides for the compensation of the 14 receiver and his professionals:

15 The Receiver, and all persons or entities retained or hired by the 16 Receiver as authorized under this Order, shall be entitled to reasonable 17 compensation for the performance of duties undertaken pursuant to 18 this Order and for the cost of actual out-of-pocket expenses incurred
19 by them from the Assets now held by or in the possession or control 20 of, or which may be received by, Receivership Entities. The Receiver shall file with the Court and serve on the parties a request for the payment of reasonable compensation at the time of the filing of any report under this Order. The Receiver shall not increase the fees or rates used as the bases for such fee applications without prior approval of the Court.<sup>10</sup>

1 In support of his application, McNamara submits his declaration, which sets out the fees and 2 expenses incurred by both him and the attorneys retained on his behalf, and provides detailed 3 explanation of the actions taken in furtherance of the receivership.<sup>11</sup> McNamara also declares that 4 his fees, and those of his attorneys, have been discounted 15% from their customary rates.<sup>12</sup> To this 5 declaration McNamara attaches invoices detailing the services for which he and his attorneys seek 6 compensation.<sup>13</sup> As of the date of McNamara's application, the receivership had cash funds of 7 $876,121.56.<sup>14</sup>

8 I find that the motion, McNamara's declaration, and its supporting exhibits satisfy 9 McNamara's request for $3,150.13 for his services for the period of September 1, 2014, through 10 November 30, 2015; and a total of $20,462.12 in attorneys fees and $484.36 in litigation costs 11 incurred by his counsel for receivership matters. I approve the payment of these requested fees and 12 costs.

13 Conclusion

14 Accordingly, with good cause appearing and no reason for delay,

15 It is HEREBY ORDERED that the Interim Application of Receiver for Order Approving 16 Fees and Expenses of the Receiver and His Professionals [ECF 242] is GRANTED. The Receiver 17 is directed to pay the invoices in the amounts of: $3,150.13 in fees to Thomas W. McNamara as 18 Receiver; $2,613.32 in fees and $298.39 in expenses to Receiver's counsel Ballard Spahr; $212.00 in 19 fees to Receiver's local Nevada counsel, Ballard Spahr LLP; and $17,636.80 in fees and $185.97 in 20 expenses to Receiver's counsel McNamara Benjamin.
