

1 accompanying letter stated that the plan would be submitted to the court if plaintiff did not 2 respond. (Id.) The court then entered a scheduling order, providing June 12, 2018, as the 3 discovery deadline and May 14, 2018 as the deadline to amend the pleadings. (Scheduling Order
4 (ECF No. 137).)

5 Plaintiff now moves to reset all discovery dates in the scheduling order, almost two 6 months after the close of discovery. (Mot. to Engage in Full Discovery (ECF No. 144).)
7 Defendants respond that plaintiff failed to demonstrate good cause and excusable neglect. (Resp.
8 (ECF No. 147).) Plaintiff replies that he did not receive the court's scheduling order and that the 9 District Judge should admonish the clerk for failing to provide plaintiff with the court's order.
10 (Reply (ECF No. 152).)

11 Plaintiff also moves for leave to file a second amended complaint, adding five additional 12 defendants and allegations. (Mot. for Leave (ECF No. 146).) Defendants respond that plaintiff's
13 motion is untimely and that the proposed amendments are futile. (Resp. (ECF No. 149).)
14 Plaintiff replies that a request to amend the complaint was sent to opposing counsel on July 18, 15 2018, and that his request went unanswered. (Reply (ECF No. 153).) Plaintiff further argues that 16 the amended complaint seeks to identify "Doe defendants" whose identities were previously 17 unknown.

18 II. MOTION TO ENGAGE IN FULL DISCOVERY

19 Plaintiff moves the court to reset all discovery dates in its scheduling order to allow 20 defendant to engage in discovery. Under Local Rule 26-4

21 [a] motion or stipulation to extend any date set by the discovery plan, scheduling
22 order, or other order must, in addition to satisfying the requirements of LR IA 6-1, 23 be supported by a showing of good cause for the extension. A motion or 24 stipulation to extend a deadline set forth in a discovery plan must be received by 25 the court no later than 21 days before the expiration of the subject deadline. A 26 request made within 21 days of the subject deadline must be supported by a 27 showing of good cause. A request made after the expiration of the subject 28 deadline will not be granted unless the movant also demonstrates that the failure to act was the result of excusable neglect.

1 The good cause standard under LR 26-4 is the same as that for modification of the scheduling
2 order under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 16(b). As stated in Johnson v. Mammoth
3 Recreations, Inc., the good cause standard primarily considers the diligence of the party or parties
4 seeking the extension. 975 F.2d 604, 609 (9th Cir. 1992).

5 In addition to a showing of good cause, a request made after the expiration of a deadline
6 must be accompanied by a showing of excusable neglect. See LR 26-4. In evaluating excusable 7 neglect, the court considers the following factors: “(1) the danger of prejudice to the opposing 8 party; (2) the length of the delay and its potential impact on the proceedings; (3) the reason for the 9 delay; and (4) whether the movant acted in good faith.” Bateman v. U.S. Postal Service, 231 F.3d
10 1220, 23–24 (9th Cir. 2000) (citing Pioneer Inv. Servs. Co. v. Brunswick Assocs., 507 U.S. 380, 11 395 (1993)).

12 Plaintiff moves to extend discovery deadlines almost two months after the close of 13 discovery. Plaintiff requests that the court not rule on defendants’ pending motion for summary 14 judgment until he receives the names of nurses, grievances referencing his broken arm, and 15 relevant videotapes. Defendants argue that plaintiff has failed to demonstrate good cause or 16 excusable neglect in making this request, and that the requested discovery materials do not pertain 17 to the motion for summary judgment. In his reply, plaintiff argues that he was unaware of the 18 court’s March 14, 2018 scheduling order. Plaintiff also requests the court to admonish the clerk’s 19 office for allegedly failing to provide plaintiff with a copy of its scheduling order.

20 The court finds that the motion to amend the scheduling order is untimely and fails to 21 demonstrate good cause and excusable neglect. Plaintiff filed this motion two months after the 22 close of discovery and a month following defendants’ dispositive motion. An extension of all 23 discovery deadlines would severely prejudice defendants, as it would require reopening 24 discovery. Further, plaintiff waited almost a month after the filing of defendants’ motion for 25 summary judgment to request an extension of all discovery dates. Granting plaintiff’s request 26 would severely delay these proceedings. The court is not persuaded by plaintiff’s reason for the 27 delay. Plaintiff does not explain why he could not have obtained the identities of the nurses 28 through engaging in the discovery process at any point in the litigation. Further, plaintiff failed to

1 propound any discovery requests to defendants during the discovery phase, which may have 2 eliminated this issue.

3 Lastly, while plaintiff argues that he did not receive the court’s scheduling order, plaintiff 4 was aware that a scheduling order would be entered, and thus, he is not relieved from the duty of 5 proactively litigating his case.¹ At any point, plaintiff could have requested a copy of the docket
6 to determine if the court entered a scheduling order. Additionally, plaintiff should be aware of 7 the court’s procedure in entering a discovery plan and scheduling order, because the court entered
8 such an order prior to the Ninth Circuit appeal in this case. (See Scheduling Order (ECF No. 70).)
9 The court therefore finds that plaintiff has not demonstrated excusable neglect nor good cause, 10 and will deny his motion to extend the discovery deadlines.

11 III. MOTION FOR LEAVE TO FILE A SECOND AMENDED COMPLAINT

12 As a general rule, “a party may amend its pleadings once as a matter of course” within 13 twenty-one days of service, or within twenty-one days after service of a responsive pleading or 14 motion under Rule 12(b), (e), or (f). Fed. R. Civ. P. 15(a)(1). Otherwise, a party must obtain the 15 opposing party’s consent or leave of the court. Fed. R. Civ. P. 15(a)(2). The court has broad 16 discretion to grant or deny leave to amend, but should grant leave when “justice so requires.” Id.;
17 see also Mir v. Fosburg, 646 F.3d 342, 347 (9th Cir. 1980). The court may consider “bad faith, 18 undue delay, prejudice to the opposing party, futility of amendment, and whether the plaintiff has 19 previously amended the complaint.” United States v. Corinthian Colls., 655 F.3d 984, 995 (9th 20 Cir. 2011).

21 However, once the court issues a pretrial scheduling order pursuant to Rule 16 of the 22 Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, the court must first apply the governing “good cause” standard.
23 See Johnson v. Mammoth Recreations, Inc., 975 F.2d 604, 607-608 (9th Cir. 1992). The good 24 cause standard “primarily considers the diligence of the party seeking the amendment.” Id. In 25 addition, the carelessness of the party “is not compatible with a finding of diligence and offers no

26
27 ¹Defendants mailed a copy of their proposed discovery plan and scheduling order to plaintiff on February 28 26, 2018, and plaintiff is aware that a proposed discovery was indeed filed with the court. (See Proposed Disc. Plan (ECF No. 136); see also Resp. (ECF No. 153) at 2.)

1 reason for a grant of relief.” Id. at 609. As stated in the section above, a request made to modify
2 the pretrial scheduling order after the expiration of a deadline must be accompanied by a showing
3 of excusable neglect. See LR 26-4. The court considers the following factors when evaluating 4 excusable neglect: (1) the danger of prejudice to the non-moving party; (2) the length of the delay
5 and the impact on the proceedings; (3) the reason for the delay; and (4) whether the movant acted
6 in good faith. See Bateman v. U.S. Postal Service, 231 F.3d 1220, 23–24 (9th Cir. 2000) (citing 7 Pioneer Inv. Servs. Co. v. Brunswick Assocs., 507 U.S. 380, 395 (1993)).

8 In Johnson, the Ninth Circuit applied Rule 16’s good cause standard when the plaintiff 9 moved to amend his complaint to add an additional party, rather than making a specific request to 10 amend the scheduling order. See 975 F.2d at 608-09. There, the court held that plaintiff had not 11 demonstrated good cause when he failed to heed signs that not all parties were named in the 12 action. Id. at 609. Further, the court noted that plaintiff held the burden to properly prosecute his 13 case, and his failure to pay attention to the discovery responses is the same type of case 14 management issue Rule 16 seeks to cure. Id. at 610.

15 Though plaintiff has not specifically requested a modification of the scheduling order, a 16 motion to amend the pleadings after the court-ordered deadline is a de facto request to modify the 17 scheduling order. See Johnson, 975 F.2d at 608-09. Given that the scheduling order provided 18 May 14, 2018 as the deadline to amend the pleadings and that plaintiff moved to amend the 19 complaint after the deadline, the court will evaluate plaintiff’s motion according to the excusable
20 neglect standard under the Local Rules. See LR 26-4.

21 Having reviewed plaintiff’s motion to amend, the court finds that plaintiff has failed to 22 demonstrate excusable neglect. Amending the complaint at this stage in the proceedings severely 23 prejudices defendants, as the motion to amend was filed almost a month following the filing of 24 defendants’ motion for summary judgment. Additionally, amending the complaint will 25 significantly delay the proceedings, virtually restart the discovery process, and force defendants
26 to conduct discovery on plaintiff’s new allegations and additional defendants. While plaintiff does 27 indeed identify the previously unknown Doe defendants, the court is not persuaded by plaintiff’s
28 reasons for the delay, which he attributes to defendants’ failure to respond to his July 27, 2018

1 letter requesting leave to amend. Whether or not defendants responded to plaintiff's letter does 2 not excuse this untimely motion. The court will therefore recommend that the motion for leave to 3 file a second amended complaint be denied.

4 IV. ORDER AND RECOMMENDATION

5 IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that plaintiff's motion to engage in full discovery (ECF
6 No. 144) is DENIED.

7 IT IS FURTHER RECOMMENDED that plaintiff's motion for leave to file a second 8 amended complaint (ECF No. 146) be DENIED.

9 V. NOTICE

10 This report and recommendation is submitted to the United States district judge assigned 11 to this case under 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1). A party who objects to this report and recommendation 12 may file a written objection supported by points and authorities within fourteen days of being 13 served with this report and recommendation. Local Rule IB 3-2(a). Failure to file a timely
14 objection may waive the right to appeal the district court's order. Martinez v. Ylst, 951 F.2d 15 1153, 1157 (9th Cir. 1991).
