CELY TABLIZO,

Plaintiff,

v.

CITY OF LAS VEGAS,

Defendant.

Case No. 2:14-cv-00763-APG-VCF

(Consolidated with 2:14-cv-00887-APG-VCF)

ORDER DENYING MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

(ECF No. 57)

10 Plaintiff Cely Tablizo moves for reconsideration of my Order (ECF No. 56) precluding
11 her from introducing evidence or testimony at trial concerning her alleged damages. I barred that 12 evidence because Tablizo failed to comply with her disclosure obligations under Federal Rule of 13 Civil Procedure 26(a)(1)(A)(iii).

14 Tablizo argues that she should be entitled to seek reinstatement to her prior position with 15 the City. ECF No. 57 at 3. However, Tablizo did not request that relief in her Complaint (ECF 16 No. 1 at 6) and she has never disclosed to the City that she is seeking such relief. It would be 17 unfair to allow her to request it for the first time 17 days before trial.

18 Tablizo next contends that the City discovered her lost wage claim damages when it
19 deposed her. However, as I stated in my Order, Tablizo's deposition testimony was not helpful 20 on this point. ECF No. 52-1 at 4-6 (testifying that her highest salary "was about 63,000.
21 Something like that," and she was out of work "I think eight months or so."). Such vague
22 testimony demonstrates why Rule 26(a)(1)(A)(iii) puts the burden squarely upon the plaintiff to
23 disclose her damages computations and supporting materials. "Computation" does not mean
24 vague, unsupported generalities.

25 Tablizo has offered no valid reason for me to change my prior order. Her failure to 26 provide adequate disclosures under Rule 26(a)(1)(A)(iii) was not harmless.
