Case No.: 2:14-cv-2001-GMN-CWH

ORDER

9 Pending before the Court is the Motion to Dismiss (ECF No. 3) filed by Defendants
10 Bank of New York Mellon, Select Portfolio Servicing, Inc., and National Default Servicing
11 Corporation. Pro se Plaintiff Russell Todd Leff filed a Response in opposition (ECF No. 8)
12 and Defendants filed a Reply (ECF No. 13). For the reasons set forth herein, the Court will 13 grant Defendants’ Motion and dismiss Plaintiff’s Complaint.

14 I. BACKGROUND

15 This case centers upon allegations that Defendants, in attempting to foreclose upon 16 Plaintiff’s residence, violated the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act (“FDCPA”) and the Fair
17 Credit Reporting Act (“FCRA”), tortiously invaded Plaintiff’s Privacy, and committed acts of 18 negligence. (Compl., ECF No. 1).¹

19 Plaintiff is the owner of real property located at 5004 Walbrook Lane, Las Vegas,
20 Nevada, 89148 (“the property”). (Grant, Bargain, Sale Deed, ECF No. 4-1).² Plaintiff
21 purchased the property on April 28, 2005, under a Deed of Trust securing a $482,400 mortgage

23
24 ¹ In light of Plaintiff’s status as a pro se litigant, the Court has liberally construed his filings, holding them to standards less stringent than formal pleadings drafted by attorneys. See Erickson v. Pardus, 551 U.S. 89, 94 (2007).

25 ² As matters of public record, the Court takes judicial notice of the documents submitted in support of Defendants’ Motion to Dismiss, (Req. for Jud. Not., ECF No. 4). See Lee v. City of Los Angeles, 250 F.3d 668, 689 (9th Cir. 2001).

1 loan, which named Countrywide Bank as the lender, CTC Real Estate Services as the trustee,
2 and MERS as nominee and beneficiary. (Deed of Trust, ECF No. 4-2). On April 25, 2011, the 3 beneficial interest under the Deed of Trust was assigned to Defendant New York Mellon.
4 (Assignment, ECF No. 4-3). This assignment was recorded on April 27, 2011. (Id.).
5 Recontrust Company, N.A., was substituted as trustee by a document that was recorded on 6 September 1, 2011. (Substitution of Trustee, ECF No. 4-4).

7 Plaintiff admits that he defaulted upon the mortgage loan on January 1, 2009. (Compl.
8 3:4-6). Defendants recorded a Notice of Default and Election to Sell on October 10, 2014.
9 (ECF No. 4-7).

10 Based upon Defendants' attempt to foreclose upon the property, Plaintiff sets forth
11 claims for (1) violations of the FCRA; (2) invasion of privacy; (3) negligent hiring; (4) and 12 violations of the FDCPA. (Compl. 8:9-17:18).

13 II. LEGAL STANDARD

14 Dismissal is appropriate under Rule 12(b)(6) where a pleader fails to state a claim upon 15 which relief can be granted. Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(6); Bell Atl. Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 16 555 (2007). A pleading must give fair notice of a legally cognizable claim and the grounds on 17 which it rests, and although a court must take all factual allegations as true, legal conclusions
18 couched as a factual allegation are insufficient. Twombly, 550 U.S. at 555. Accordingly, Rule 19 12(b)(6) requires "more than labels and conclusions, and a formulaic recitation of the elements 20 of a cause of action will not do." Id.

21 "To survive a motion to dismiss, a complaint must contain sufficient factual matter, 22 accepted as true, to 'state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face.'" Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556
23 U.S. 662, 678 (2009) (quoting Twombly, 550 U.S. at 555). "A claim has facial plausibility
24 when the plaintiff pleads factual content that allows the court to draw the reasonable inference 25 that the defendant is liable for the misconduct alleged." Id. This standard "asks for more than a

1 sheer possibility that a defendant has acted unlawfully.” Id.

2 “Generally, a district court may not consider any material beyond the pleadings in ruling
3 on a Rule 12(b)(6) motion.” Hal Roach Studios, Inc. v. Richard Feiner & Co., 896 F.2d 1542, 4 1555 n.19 (9th Cir. 1990). “However, material which is properly submitted as part of the 5 complaint may be considered.” Id. Similarly, “documents whose contents are alleged in a 6 complaint and whose authenticity no party questions, but which are not physically attached to 7 the pleading, may be considered in ruling on a Rule 12(b)(6) motion to dismiss” without 8 converting the motion to dismiss into a motion for summary judgment. E.g., Branch v. Tunnell,
9 14 F.3d 449, 454 (9th Cir. 1994). On a motion to dismiss, a court may also take judicial notice
10 of “matters of public record.” Mack v. South Bay Beer Distrib., 798 F.2d 1279, 1282 (9th Cir.
11 1986). Otherwise, if a court considers materials outside of the pleadings, the motion to dismiss 12 is converted into a motion for summary judgment. Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(d).

13 If the court grants a motion to dismiss for failure to state a claim, leave to amend should 14 be granted unless it is clear that the deficiencies of the complaint cannot be cured by 15 amendment. DeSoto v. Yellow Freight Sys., Inc., 957 F.2d 655, 658 (9th Cir. 1992). Pursuant 16 to Rule 15(a), the court should “freely” give leave to amend “when justice so requires,” and in 17 the absence of a reason such as “undue delay, bad faith or dilatory motive on the part of the 18 movant, repeated failure to cure deficiencies by amendments previously allowed, undue 19 prejudice to the opposing party by virtue of allowance of the amendment, futility of the 20 amendment, etc.” Foman v. Davis, 371 U.S. 178, 182 (1962).

21 III. DISCUSSION

22 In the instant Motion, Defendants argue that Plaintiff’s claims should be dismissed
23 pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(b)(6). The Court will address each of Plaintiff’s
24 claims in turn. The Court also acknowledges at the outset that the Complaint filed in this case
25 is in large part identical to the complaints filed in Aquino v. PNC Mortgage, No. 2:15-cv-0068-

1 GMN-GWF, 2015 WL 6432944 (D. Nev. Oct. 21, 2015), and Hernandez v. Wells Fargo Home
2 Mortgage, No. 2:14-cv-1500-JCM-VCF, 2015 WL 1204985 (D. Nev. Mar. 16, 2015).

3 A. Violations of the FCRA

4 While it is not entirely clear, Plaintiff's first cause of action appears to allege a violation
5 of Sections 1681e(b) and 1681s-2(b) of the FCRA, 15 U.S.C. § 1681 et seq. against 6 Defendants. See (Compl. 8:9-12:2). Congress enacted the FCRA in 1970 "to ensure fair and 7 accurate credit reporting, promote efficiency in the banking system, and protect consumer
8 privacy." Safeco Ins. Co. of Am. v. Burr, 551 U.S. 47, 53 (2007).

9 Plaintiff alleges that Defendants violated Section 1681e(b) of the FCRA by failing "to 10 maintain, and . . . follow reasonable procedures to assure maximum possible accuracy of 11 Plaintiff's credit report." (Compl. 9:26-28). However, by its clear terms, § 1681e(b) applies
12 only to consumer reporting agencies ("CRAs"). 15 U.S.C. § 1681e(b). Plaintiff does not allege 13 that any of Defendants are CRAs.

14 With regard to the allegations related to Plaintiff's claim that Defendants violated 15 Section 1681s-2(b), Plaintiff alleges, "On or about October 28, 2014, Plaintiff obtained his 16 consumer credit report from the major credit-reporting agencies. Plaintiff discovered
17 Defendants were illegally reporting the alleged debt to the credit-reporting agencies. Plaintiff 18 on November 17, 2014 filed disputes with the credit reporting agencies." (Compl. 5:27-6:4).
19 Section 1681s-2(b) imposes certain duties on those who furnish information to CRAs upon 20 notice of a dispute. However, "[t]hese duties arise only after the furnisher receives notice of 21 dispute from a CRA; notice of a dispute received directly from the consumer does not trigger
22 furnishers' duties under subsection (b)." Gorman v. Wolpoff & Abramson, LLP, 584 F.3d 1147, 23 1166 (9th Cir. 2009).

24 Here, Plaintiff does not allege that Defendants received notice of dispute from a CRA.
25 Furthermore, even if the Court were to construe the Complaint as alleging that Defendants had

1 received a notice of dispute, the Complaint contains only conclusory allegations implying that
2 Defendants' response was insufficient pursuant to the FCRA. See (Compl. 9:26-28) ("Plaintiff
3 attests that . . . the Defendants failed to maintain, and failed to follow reasonable procedures to 4 assure maximum possible accuracy of Plaintiffs credit report, concerning the accounts in 5 question, thus violating U.S.C. §1681, et seq. Further, Plaintiff alleges that Defendants failed
6 to conduct a proper and lawful reinvestigation."). Accordingly, the Court finds that Plaintiff
7 has failed to state a claim for relief that is plausible on its face, and Plaintiff's claim arising 8 under the FCRA will be dismissed.

9 B. Invasion of Privacy

10 Plaintiff's second cause of action asserts a claim of invasion of privacy against 11 Defendants. (Compl. 12:3-20). In support of this claim, Plaintiff alleges that Defendants 12 improperly obtained his personal and private information, resulting in an invasion of his 13 privacy. (Id. at 12:11-13). Plaintiff also states, without elaboration, that Defendants "may also 14 be guilty of identity theft under the state and federal law." (Id. at 12:16-17).

15 "A cause of action for invasion of privacy requires: (1) an intentional intrusion by 16 defendant; (2) on the solitude or seclusion of the plaintiff; (3) that would be highly offensive to 17 a reasonable person." Downs v. River City Grp., LLC, No. 3:11-cv-0885-LRH-WGC, 2012 WL 18 1684598, at *4 (D. Nev. May 11, 2012). The tort has a public disclosure requirement, which 19 contemplates disclosure to more than individuals or small groups. Kuhn v. Account Control
20 Tech., Inc., 865 F. Supp. 1443, 1448 (D. Nev. 1994).

21 Plaintiff's invasion of privacy claim fails for multiple reasons. First, the Court finds that 22 Plaintiff's claim is preempted by federal law. Section 1681t(b) of the FCRA, which discusses 23 the statute's relationship to state laws, reads in pertinent part:

24 No requirement or prohibition may be imposed under the laws of any State—

25 (1) with respect to any subject matter regulated under—

1 (F) section 1681s-2 of this title, relating to the responsibilities of persons who 2 furnish information to consumer reporting agencies

3 15 U.S.C.A. § 1681t(b). The Ninth Circuit has recognized a tension between § 1681t(b)(1)(F), 4 which appears “to preempt all state law claims based on a creditor’s responsibilities under § 5 1681s2,” and § 1681h(e), which “suggests that [invasion of privacy] claims can proceed against 6 creditors as long as the plaintiff alleges falsity and malice.” Gorman, 584 F.3d at 1166.
7 Though the Ninth Circuit has not settled the issue, the Court finds the holding of O’Connor v.
8 Capital One, N.A., persuasive in this case. No. 14-cv-0177-KAW, 2014 WL 2215965 (N.D.
9 Cal. May 29, 2014).

10 “Courts have interpreted § 1681t(b)(1)(F) to preclude all state common law and statutory 11 claims, to effect Congress’ intent to limit a plaintiff’s recovery against furnishers of credit 12 information to only the remedies provided under the FCRA.” O’Connor, 2014 WL 2215965, at 13 *8 (internal quotations omitted); Miller v. Bank of Am., Nat. Ass’n, 858 F. Supp. 2d 1118, 1124
14 (S.D. Cal. 2012).

15 Here, Plaintiff’s causes of action rely on Defendants’ purported status as “debt 16 collectors.” See (Compl. 7:8). In this respect, the alleged invasion of privacy—Defendants’ 17 improper obtainment of Plaintiff’s social security number—is regulated by federal law and, as 18 such, is preempted by the FCRA. See O’Connor, 2014 WL 2215965, at *8.

19 However, even if Plaintiff’s claim were not preempted, Plaintiff has failed to state a 20 viable claim for relief. Plaintiff has not alleged any facts which suggest an intrusion occurred 21 that would be “highly offensive to a reasonable person.” Indeed, Plaintiff fails to make any 22 allegation indicating that an “intentional intrusion” occurred at all. Thus, there are no facts to 23 suggest a plausible claim for relief. Accordingly, the Court will dismiss this claim.

24 C. Negligent Hiring

25 Plaintiff’s third cause of action asserts that Defendants negligently hired or supervised

1 their employees. Specifically, Plaintiff asserts that:

2 Defendants were aware of their wrongful conduct in creating an
3 alleged debt of which the Plaintiff is not obligated; [a]dditionally, 4 Plaintiff is not able to discern the amount and character of the 5 alleged debt. Defendants knew and approved of its [sic]
6 unscrupulous employees and agents, attorney debt collectors, and 7 debt collection actions against the Plaintiff. Defendants negligently,
8 wantonly, and/or intentionally hired, trained, retained, or supervised
9 unscrupulous debt collectors

7 (Compl. 12:28-13:4).

8 “To state a claim for negligent training and supervision in Nevada, Plaintiff must show 9 (1) a general duty on the employer to use reasonable care in the training and/or supervision of 10 employees to ensure that they are fit for their positions; (2) breach; (3) injury; and (4)
11 causation.” Montes v. Bank of Am. NA, 2:13-cv-660-RCJ-VCF, 2013 WL 5882778, at *7 (D.
12 Nev. Oct. 30, 2013) (citing Okeke v. Biomat USA, Inc., 927 F. Supp. 2d 1021, 1028 (D. Nev.
13 2013)).

14 “Claims for negligent training and supervision are based upon the premise that an 15 employer should be liable when it places an employee, who it knows or should have known
16 behaves wrongfully, in a position in which the employee can harm someone else.” Okeke, 927 17 F. Supp. 2d at 1028. However, an “employee’s wrongful behavior does not in and of itself give 18 rise to a claim for negligent training and supervision.” Id.

19 Claims for negligent hiring, on the other hand, depend on an employer breaching its 20 “general duty . . . to conduct a reasonable background check on a potential employee to ensure 21 that the employee is fit for the position.” Rockwell v. Sun Harbor Budget Suites, 112 Nev.
22 1217, 1227 (1996) (quoting Burnett v. C.B.A. Security Serv., 107 Nev. 787, 789 (1991)).

23 In his Complaint, Plaintiff failed to plead any facts to establish that Defendants knew or 24 should have known that their employees would behave wrongfully, or even that Plaintiff was 25 treated wrongfully by Defendants’ employees at all. In addition, Plaintiff has not alleged that

1 Defendants failed to conduct reasonable background checks, or alleged any facts which 2 indicates negligence in their hiring processes.

3 Furthermore, Plaintiff's cause of action is premised on the alleged debt collection being 4 wrongful conduct. See (Compl. 12:28-13:8). However, as discussed below, Plaintiff has failed
5 to plead facts that suggest Defendants are debt collectors as defined by the FDCPA, or that 6 Defendants actually engaged in any debt collection activity. Therefore, Plaintiff has failed to 7 plead facts that give rise to a reasonable inference that conduct undertaken by Defendants'
8 employees was wrongful. Accordingly, Defendants' Motion to Dismiss will be granted as to 9 this claim.

10 D. Violations of the FDCPA

11 In his fourth cause of action, Plaintiff alleges that Defendants violated provisions of the 12 FDCPA, 15 U.S.C. § 1692. The FDCPA "prohibits 'debt collector[s]' from making false or 13 misleading representations and from engaging in various abusive and unfair practices." Heintz
14 v. Jenkins, 541 U.S. 291, 292 (1995).

15 "In order to establish a claim under the FDCPA, [a] plaintiff must show: (1) that he is a 16 consumer within the meaning of 15 U.S.C. §§ 1692a(3) and 1692c(d); (2) that the debt arises
17 out of a transaction entered into for personal purposes; (3) that the defendant is a debt collector
18 within the meaning of 15 U.S.C. § 1692a(6); and (4) that the defendant violated one of the 19 provisions of the FDCPA, 15 U.S.C. §§ 1692a-1692o." Gutierrez v. Wells Fargo Bank, C 08-
20 5586-SI, 2009 WL 322915, at *2 (N.D. Cal. Feb. 9, 2009); see also Spartalian v. Citibank, 21 N.A., No. 2:12-cv-0742-MMD-PAL, 2013 WL 5437347, at *3 (D. Nev. Sept. 27, 2013).

22 Plaintiff alleges that he is a "consumer" within the meaning of 15 U.S.C. § 1692a(3), 23 and that the debt arises out of a transaction incurred for household purposes. See (Compl.
24 13:19-21). Defendants do not challenge these allegations, but instead argues that Plaintiff's
25 FDCPA claims fail as a matter of law because Plaintiff has failed to plead factual content

1 indicating that Defendants are debt collectors or that Defendants violated any of the 2 aforementioned provisions. The Court agrees.

3 In order to be liable under the FDCPA, Defendants must fall within the statutory 4 definition of “debt collector” and must have been engaged in the collection of a debt. Gutierrez,
5 2009 WL 322915, at *2; see Izenberg v. ETS Servs. LLC, 589 F. Supp. 2d 1193, 1198-99 (C.D.
6 Cal. 2008). A “debt collector” is defined as (1) “any person who uses any instrumentality of 7 interstate commerce or the mails in any business the principal purpose of which is the 8 collection of any debts, or (2) who regularly collects or attempts to collect, directly or 9 indirectly, debts owed or due or asserted to be owed or due another.” 15 U.S.C. § 1692a(6).

10 “The Ninth Circuit, while rejecting the per se rule adopted by other Courts of Appeal
11 that a creditor cannot be [a] debt collector[], has held that a plaintiff must plead factual content 12 that allows the court to draw the reasonable inference that [a defendant] is a debt collector.”
13 O’Connor, 2014 WL 2215965, at *5; see Schlegel v. Wells Fargo Bank, N.A., 720 F.3d 1204,
14 1208 n.2 (9th Cir. 2013). Although this factual content need not be particularly detailed, Rule 8 15 demands “more than labels and conclusions” or a “formulaic recitation of the elements of a 16 cause of action.” Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 678.

17 Although Plaintiff repeatedly refers to Defendants as “debt collectors,” see, e.g., 18 (Compl. 13:20), Plaintiff has not set forth allegations showing that this is the case. Plaintiff
19 merely asserts that Defendants “continue to make attempts at extortion via erroneous credit 20 reporting and intending illegal foreclosure on Plaintiff’s property.” (Compl. 13:27-18).
21 Plaintiff fails to plead any facts that suggest (1) that the “principal purpose” of Defendants’
22 business is debt collection, (2) that Defendants regularly collect or attempt to collect, debts
23 owed or due another, or (3) that Defendants were assigned a defaulted loan for the purposes of 24 debt collection, which is generally required for a finding of debt collector status under the 25 FDCPA. Brown v. U.S. Bank Nat’l Ass’n, C 12-4587-HRL, 2013 WL 4538131, at *3 (N.D. Cal.

1 Aug. 23, 2013); see also Nool v. HomeQ Servicing, 653 F. Supp. 2d 1047, 1053 (E.D. Cal.
2 Sept. 4, 2009) (citing Perry v. Stewart Title Co., 756 F.2d 1197, 1208 (5th Cir. 1985)). In other
3 words, Plaintiff's conclusory allegations are devoid of substance.

4 Furthermore, in alleging a violation of the FDCPA, Plaintiff merely restates several 5 provisions of 15 U.S.C. §§ 1692a-1692o, without pleading any facts which would suggest any 6 one of these provisions has been violated. For these reasons, the Court finds that Plaintiff fails
7 to set forth a plausible claim for relief. Therefore, Plaintiff's claim arising under the FDCPA 8 will be dismissed.

9 IV. CONCLUSION
