UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF NEVADA

Global Ecology Corporation,
Plaintiff
v.
Pacific Stock Transfer Company,
Defendant

Case No.: 2:15-cv-00944-JAD-VCF

Order

10 This action was removed from the Eighth Judicial District Court on May 19, 2015. Doc. 1.
11 Prior to removal, Plaintiff Global Ecology filed an ex parte application for an order to show cause.
12 Doc. 1-2 at 2. The state court judge granted the motion and set the matter for hearing in June. Doc.
13 1-2 at 43.

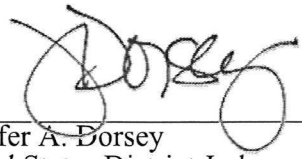

14 Obviously, the removal has resulted in the vacation of that state court hearing. See 28 U.S.C.
15 s 1446(d). The question remains of what effect to give the state court's granting of the ex parte
16 motion for order to show cause. Doc. 1-2 at 2. In this court, ex parte requests for relief must comply
17 with Local Rule 7-5. That rule requires that the movant provide a statement showing compelling
18 reasons why the matter cannot be submitted with notice to the other parties. L.R. 7-5.

19 Having reviewed the ex parte application, I do not find compelling reasons, and I thus 20 dissolve the order granting the order to show cause. Doc. 1-2 at 43; see also Resolution Trust Corp.
21 v. Bayside Dev., 43 F.3d 1230, 1239 (9th Cir. 1994) (recognizing that, upon removal, the district
22 court may re-examine the state court's orders); 28 U.S.C. s 1450 ("All . . . orders . . . had in such 23 action prior to its removal shall remain in full force and effect until dissolved or modified by the 24 district court."). I recognize this information may have been omitted because the motion was 25 submitted under the different state-court standards. Accordingly, if Global Ecology desires ex parte
26 relief or a preliminary injunction, it should file a new motion in this court that complies with the
