

1 Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 4(e)(1) provides for service “pursuant to the law of the state in 2 which the district court is located, or in which service is effected.” Under Nevada Rule of Civil 3 Procedure (“NRCPP”) 4, parties are required to personally serve summons and the complaint upon 4 defendants. When personal service proves impossible, however, NRCPP 4(e)(1)(i) provides that a party 5 may file a motion for service by publication when the opposing party “resides out of the state, or has 6 departed from the state, or cannot, after due diligence be found within the state, or by concealment seeks 7 to avoid the service of summons.” When service of the summons is made by publication, the summons 8 shall, in addition to any special statutory requirements, also contain a brief statement of the object of 9 the action. NRCPP 4(b).

10 A party moving for service by publication must seek leave of court by filing an affidavit
11 demonstrating she diligently attempted to serve the defendant. There are several factors courts consider 12 to evaluate a party’s due diligence, including the number of attempts made to serve the defendant at his 13 residence and other methods of locating defendants, such as consulting public directories and family
14 members. See Price, 787 P.2d at 786-87; Abreu v. Gilmer, 985 P.2d 746, 747 (Nev. 1999); McNair v.
15 Rivera, 874 P.2d 1240, 1241 (Nev. 1994).

16 Here, the Court finds that Plaintiff has diligently attempted to locate Defendant Bonaventura to 17 enable service. See, e.g., Docket No. 12 at 5 (affidavit detailing service attempts). Plaintiff has 18 attempted to serve Defendant Bonaventura eight times. Each time, various indicia suggested someone 19 was present at Defendant’s residence; however, no one answered the door. The Court will therefore 20 permit Plaintiff to serve Defendant Bonaventura by publication. Because service by publication takes 21 several weeks, the Court will also extend the service deadline.

22 Accordingly, the Court GRANTS the motion for service by publication. The deadline to serve 23 Defendant Bonaventura by publication is extended to January 30, 2016. Plaintiff shall comply with the 24 requirements of Nevada Rule of Civil Procedure 4 and shall:

- 25 (a) Serve Defendant Bonaventura by publication in a newspaper of general
26 circulation in the State of Nevada on a weekly basis for a period of four weeks.
27 (c) After publication is complete, Plaintiff shall file an Affidavit of Publication from 28 the Nevada newspaper.

1 For the reasons discussed above, the pending motion for service by publication is hereby 2 GRANTED and the accompanying request for an extension of the Rule 4(m) deadline is hereby 3 GRANTED.

4 IT IS SO ORDERED.
