

1 I. ANALYSIS

2 Summary judgment is appropriate if the movant shows “there is no genuine dispute as to 3 any material fact and the movant is entitled to judgment as a matter of law.” Fed. R. Civ. P.
4 56(a), (c). A fact is material if it “might affect the outcome of the suit under the governing law.”
5 Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, Inc., 477 U.S. 242, 248 (1986). A dispute is genuine if “the evidence 6 is such that a reasonable jury could return a verdict for the nonmoving party.” Id.

7 The party seeking summary judgment bears the initial burden of informing the court of 8 the basis for its motion and identifying those portions of the record that demonstrate the absence
9 of a genuine issue of material fact. Celotex Corp. v. Catrett, 477 U.S. 317, 323 (1986). The 10 burden then shifts to the non-moving party to set forth specific facts demonstrating there is a
11 genuine issue of material fact for trial. Fairbank v. Wunderman Cato Johnson, 212 F.3d 528, 531
12 (9th Cir. 2000); Sonner v. Schwabe N. Am., Inc., 911 F.3d 989, 992 (9th Cir. 2018) (“To defeat
13 summary judgment, the nonmoving party must produce evidence of a genuine dispute of material 14 fact that could satisfy its burden at trial.”). I view the evidence and reasonable inferences in the 15 light most favorable to the non-moving party. James River Ins. Co. v. Hebert Schenk, P.C., 523
16 F.3d 915, 920 (9th Cir. 2008).

17 The Supreme Court of Nevada recently resolved a case on materially indistinguishable
18 facts. 7510 Perla Del Mar Ave Trust v. Bank of America, N.A. (Perla), No. 75603, 2020 WL
19 966026 (Nev. Feb. 27, 2020) (en banc). In Perla, Bank of America, through its counsel Miles, 20 Bauer, Bergstorm & Winters, LLP (Miles Bauer), sent a letter to the HOA’s foreclosure agent, 21 Nevada Association Services, Inc. (NAS) requesting the superpriority amount and offering to 22 pay that amount. Id. at *1. NAS received the letter but did not respond to it. Id. Instead, NAS
23 proceeded with the foreclosure sale. Id. There was evidence that at the time Miles Bauer sent the

1 letter to NAS, NAS had a policy of rejecting checks “for less than the full amount if it was 2 accompanied by a condition,” and Miles Bauer was aware of that policy. Id. at *2. The Supreme 3 Court of Nevada held that “[b]ecause NAS had a known policy of rejecting any payment for less
4 than the full lien amount, . . . the Bank’s obligation to tender the superpriority portion of the lien
5 was excused, as it would have been rejected.” Id. at *3. Excuse of tender, like tender itself, cures
6 the default of the superpriority portion of the lien by operation of law. Id. at *2 n.1.

7         Here, Bank of America, through Miles Bauer, sent a letter to Alessi requesting the 8 superpriority amount and offering to pay that amount. ECF No. 59-1. Alessi received that letter
9 but did not respond.<sup>1</sup> ECF Nos. 59-1; 61-5. Alessi’s Rule 30(b)(6) witness, David Alessi,
10 testified that during the relevant time period, Alessi would not accept checks from Miles Bauer
11 that had conditional language. ECF No. 61-7 at 6, 8. David Alessi testified that Miles Bauer 12 knew of Alessi’s policy. Id. at 7. Miles Bauer attorney Rock Jung confirms that based on the 13 many letters he sent to Alessi, he knew that during the relevant time frame Alessi would not 14 accept a check for less than the entire HOA lien amount. ECF No. 61-13. “As a result, [Bank of 15 America] was excused from making a formal tender in this instance because, pursuant to 16 [Alessi’s] known policy, even if the Bank had tendered a check for the superpriority portion of 17 the lien, [Alessi] would have rejected it.” Perla, 2020 WL 966026, at *3. Consequently, Bank of

20 <sup>1</sup> Trust argues there is no evidence Alessi received the letter. David Alessi testified that Alessi
21 did not have in its file any correspondence from Miles Bauer related to this property. ECF No.
22 71-2 at 2. However, David Alessi also testified that Alessi received so many Miles Bauer letters
23 that the fact that correspondence is not in Alessi’s file is not dispositive of whether Alessi received the correspondence. ECF No. 61-7 at 7-8. Jennifer Schuette, an employee of Southern Highlands’ management company, avers that the Miles Bauer letter, which was addressed to Southern Highlands in care of Alessi, was found in Southern Highlands’ files. ECF No. 59-1 at 2-3. The letter was sent to 9500 West Flamingo Road, Suite 205, which is Alessi’s address. See ECF No. 60-4. No genuine dispute remains that Alessi received the letter.

1 America “preserved its interest in the property such that [Trust] purchased the property subject to 2 the Bank’s first deed of trust.” Id.

3 Trust makes several arguments as to why I nevertheless should not grant summary
4 judgment in Bank of America’s favor. None precludes the entry of judgment.

5 A. Statute of Limitations

6 I have previously ruled that the four-year catchall limitation period in Nevada Revised 7 Statutes § 11.220 applies to claims under Nevada Revised Statutes § 40.010 brought by a 8 lienholder seeking to determine whether an HOA sale extinguished a deed of trust. See Bank of 9 Am., N.A. v. Country Garden Owners Ass’n, No. 2:17-cv-01850-APG-CWH, 2018 WL 1336721,
10 at *2 (D. Nev. Mar. 14, 2018). The HOA sale took place on October 3, 2012. ECF No. 61-8.
11 Bank of America filed its complaint on March 4, 2016. ECF No. 1. Because Bank of America’s 12 complaint was brought within four years of the HOA foreclosure sale, its claim to determine 13 adverse interests in property under § 40.010 is timely.

14 B. Adequate Remedy at Law

15 Generally, a party cannot obtain an equitable remedy when it has an adequate remedy at 16 law. Las Vegas Valley Water Dist. v. Curtis Park Manor Water Users Ass’n, 646 P.2d 549, 551
17 (Nev. 1982). However, because Bank of America’s obligation to tender was excused, Bank of 18 America need not resort to equity to preserve its deed of trust. Perla, 2020 WL 966026, at *2
19 n.1. Even if equitable principles apply, Bank of America seeks not just repayment of its loan,
20 but the right to resort to this particular property as security for repayment. Money damages
21 would not restore Bank of America’s lien priority. See Bank of Am., N.A. v. Diamond Fin., LLC, 22 42 N.E.3d 1151, 1156-57 (Mass. 2015) (concluding a legal remedy was inadequate because 23 “money damages would not restore the plaintiff to its rightful senior position”); Bank of N.Y.

1 Mellon v. Withers, 771 S.E.2d 762, 765 (N.C. Ct. App. 2015) (“Due to land’s unique nature,
2 damage claims against individuals are an inadequate substitute for a first position lien on real 3 property.”).

4 C. Bona Fide Purchaser and Other Equitable Principles

5 Because Bank of America was excused from making a formal tender, its interest in the 6 property was preserved by operation of law and the HOA foreclosure sale is void as to its deed of 7 trust. Perla, 20020 WL 966026, at *2 n.1 & *3; see also Bank of Am., N.A. v. SFR Investments
8 Pool 1, LLC, 427 P.3d 113, 121 (Nev. 2018) (en banc) (Because “valid tender cured the default
9 as to the superpriority portion of the HOA’s lien, the HOA’s foreclosure on the entire lien
10 resulted in a void sale as to the superpriority portion.”). A “party’s status as a [bona fide 11 purchaser] is irrelevant when a defect in the foreclosure proceeding renders the sale void.” Bank
12 of Am., N.A., 427 P.3d at 121. For these same reasons, I do not weigh the equities if tender was 13 excused because “the voiding of the foreclosure sale as to the superpriority portion of the lien is 14 ultimately the result of the operation of law and not equitable relief.” Salomon v. Bank of Am., 15 N.A., No. 75200-COA, 2019 WL 3231009, at *2 n.3 (Nev. App. July 17, 2019).

16 Finally, Bank of America “has not waived its right to protect its deed of trust, is not estopped
17 from asserting that right, nor does it have unclean hands because it allowed [the HOA’s]
18 foreclosure to proceed without interceding to halt the foreclosure.” As discussed above, Bank of 19 America was excused from tendering and the deed of trust was preserved by operation of law.
20 Even if equitable principles applied, Bank of America was excused from satisfying the 21 superpriority portion of the lien before the foreclosure, so it “was under no obligation to 22 intercede or halt the foreclosure once it protected its own interest.” Bank of New York Mellon v.

1 Green Valley S. Owners Ass'n, No. 1, No. 2:17-CV-2024-KJD-EJY, 2019 WL 4393356, at *6
2 (D. Nev. Sept. 13, 2019).

3 D. Summary

4 In sum, Bank of America has met its initial burden at summary judgment in showing that 5 tender of the superpriority portion of the HOA's lien was excused, thereby rendering the sale
6 void as to the deed of trust. Trust has not presented evidence raising a genuine dispute in 7 response. Consequently, Trust purchased the property subject to the deed of trust. Because 8 Bank of America has prevailed on its declaratory relief claim, I dismiss as moot its alternative
9 damages claims against defendants Southern Highlands and Alessi, and I also deny as moot
10 Southern Highlands' motion for summary judgment.

11 II. CONCLUSION

12 I THEREFORE ORDER that defendant Bernini Dr Trust's motion for summary
13 judgment (ECF No. 60) is DENIED.

14 I FURTHER ORDER that plaintiff Bank of America, N.A.'s motion for summary
15 judgment (ECF No. 61) is GRANTED. The clerk of court is instructed to enter judgment in 16 favor of plaintiff Bank of America, N.A. and against defendant Bernini Dr Trust as follows: It is 17 declared that the homeowners association's non-judicial foreclosure sale conducted on October 18 3, 2012 did not extinguish the deed of trust, and the property located at 10725 Bernini Drive in 19 Las Vegas, Nevada remains subject to the deed of trust.

20 I FURTHER ORDER that plaintiff Bank of America, N.A.'s alternative damages claims 21 against defendants Southern Highlands Community Association and Alessi & Koenig, LLC are 22 DISMISSED as moot.

1 I FURTHER ORDER that defendant Southern Highlands Community Association's 2 motion for summary judgment (ECF No. 59) is DENIED as moot.

3 I FURTHER ORDER that the clerk of court is instructed to enter judgment accordingly
4 and to close this case.

5 DATED this 3rd day of March, 2020.
