Order Staying Case Pending
Issuance of Mandate in *Bourne Valley

11 As I noted in Freedom Mortgage v. Las Vegas Development Group,<sup>1</sup> in the years
12 following Las Vegas's real estate crash, lenders and investors were at odds over the legal effect
13 of a homeowners association's (HOA's) nonjudicial foreclosure of a superpriority lien on a 14 lender's first trust deed. The Nevada Supreme Court settled the debate in *SFR Investments Pool
15 1, LLC v. U.S. Bank*, holding that "NRS 116.3116(2) gives an HOA a true superpriority lien, 16 proper foreclosure of which will extinguish a first deed of trust."<sup>2</sup> The SFR decision made 17 winners out of the investors who purchased foreclosure properties in HOA sales and losers of the 18 lenders who gambled on the opposite result, elected not to satisfy the HOA liens to prevent 19 foreclosure, and thus saw their interests wiped out by sales that often yielded a small fraction of 20 the loan balance.

21 But last Friday in a reversal of fortune, two members of a Ninth Circuit panel held in 22 Bourne Valley Court Trust v. Wells Fargo Bank that Chapter 116's nonjudicial foreclosure 23 scheme "facially violated mortgage lenders' constitutional due process rights" before it was 28 <sup>2</sup> SFR Inv. Pool 1 v. U.S. Bank, 334 P.3d 408, 419 (Nev. 2014).

1 amended in 2015.<sup>3</sup> The opinion, to which Judge Wallace filed a lengthy dissent, makes no
2 mention of the Nevada Supreme Court's own interpretation of Chapter 116's notice provisions in 3 the SFR opinion and the state's highest court's conclusion that the statutory scheme does not 4 offend due process.<sup>4</sup> Nor does the majority's analysis take into consideration Nevada's rules of 5 statutory construction that cloak the state's laws with the presumption of constitutionality<sup>5</sup> or the 6 canon of constitutional avoidance.<sup>6</sup> In an August 15, 2016, emergency motion to stay publication
7 of the Bourne Valley opinion, counsel for the purchaser indicated that he will be filing a petition 8 for rehearing. To save the parties from the need or inclination to invest resources briefing the 9 effect of Bourne Valley before the post-opinion motions are exhausted, I sua sponte stay all 10 proceedings in this case pending the Ninth Circuit's issuance of the mandate.

11 Discussion

12 A district court has the inherent power to stay cases to control its docket and promote the 13 efficient use of judicial resources.<sup>7</sup> When determining whether a stay is appropriate pending the 21 court judges in the District of Nevada have rejected the banks' due-process challenges. See due process).

28 v. Navigators Ins. Co., 498 F.3d 1059, 1066 (9th Cir. 2007).

1 resolution of another case—often called a “Landis stay”—the district court must weigh: (1) the 2 possible damage that may result from a stay, (2) any “hardship or inequity” that a party may 3 suffer if required to go forward, (3) “and the orderly course of justice measured in terms of the 4 simplifying or complicating of issues, proof, and questions of law” that a stay will engender.<sup>8</sup>
5 After weighing these considerations, I find that a Landis stay is appropriate here. I address these 6 considerations in reverse order.

7 A. A stay will promote the orderly course of justice.

8 At the center of this case is an HOA-foreclosure sale under NRS Chapter 116 and the 9 competing arguments that the foreclosure sale either extinguished the bank’s security interest
10 under the SFR holding or had no legal effect because the statutory scheme violates due process.
11 The Bourne Valley opinion and any modification of that opinion have the potential to be 12 dispositive of this case or at least of discrete issues that it presents. As the jurisprudence in this 13 area of unique Nevada law continues to evolve, the parties file new motions or move to 14 supplement the ones that they already have pending, often resulting in docket-clogging entries
15 and an impossible-to-follow chain of briefs in which arguments are abandoned and replaced. I
16 alone have dozens of cases challenging HOA foreclosures, with scores of dispositive motions
17 pending—many of which raise the very issue decided by the Bourne Valley majority. Staying 18 this case pending the mandate in Bourne Valley will permit the parties to evaluate—and me to 19 consider—the viability of the claims under the most complete precedent, thus simplifying the 20 proceedings and promoting the efficient use of the parties’ and the court’s resources.

21 B. Hardship and inequity

22 Both parties face the prospect of hardship if I resolve the claims or issues in this case
23 before the Ninth Circuit issues the mandate in Bourne Valley. A stay will prevent unnecessary 24 briefing and the expenditures of time, attorney’s fees, and resources that could be wasted—or at 25 least prematurely spent—should the panel or the en banc court issue a subsequent opinion.

28 <sup>8</sup> Lockyer v. Mirant Corp., 398 F.3d 1098, 1110 (9th Cir. 2005).

1 C. Damage from a stay

2 The only potential damage that may result from a stay is that the parties will have to wait 3 longer for resolution of this case and any motions that they have filed or intend to file in the 4 future. But a delay would also result from any rebriefing or supplemental briefing that may be 5 necessitated if the panel or the en banc court rehears the matter. So it is not clear to me that a
6 stay pending the Bourne Valley mandate will ultimately lengthen the life of this case. I thus find 7 that any possible damage that a stay may cause the parties is minimal.

8 D. The length of the stay is reasonable.

9 Finally, I note that the stay pending the mandate in this case is expected to be reasonably
10 short. The 14-day clock is running on post-opinion petitions.<sup>9</sup> Absent court order, the mandate
11 must issue seven days after the deadline for a petition expires or, if a petition is filed, seven days
12 after the petition is resolved.<sup>10</sup> Accordingly, the length of this stay is directly tied to the Ninth 13 Circuit's issuance of its mandate in Bourne Valley, and it is not indefinite.

14 Conclusion

15 IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that this case is administratively STAYED. Once the 16 Ninth Circuit issues the mandate in Bourne Valley Court Trust v. Wells Fargo Bank, case number 17 15-15233 (2:13-cv-649-PMP-NJK), any party may move to lift the stay. Until that time, all 18 proceedings in this action are stayed.
