1 2 3 4 UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT 5 DISTRICT OF NEVADA 6 7 DESIREE NELSON, 8 Case No. 2:16-cv-02402-JCM-CWH Plaintiff. 9 ORDER VS. 10 CAROLYN W. COLVIN, Acting Commissioner of Social Security, 11 12 Defendant. 13 Presently before the court is Plaintiff Desiree Nelson's amended complaint (ECF No. 8), filed 14 15 on June 21, 2017. Given that the court has granted Plaintiff leave to proceed in forma pauperis, the court now re-screens Plaintiff's amended complaint under 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2). 16 17 Screening the Amended Complaint 18 Upon granting a request to proceed in forma pauperis, a court must screen the complaint under 19 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2). In screening the complaint, a court must identify cognizable claims and 20 dismiss claims that are frivolous, malicious, file to state a claim on which relief may be granted, or seek 21 monetary relief from a defendant who is immune from such relief. 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2). Dismissal 22 for failure to state a claim under § 1915(e)(2) incorporates the standard for failure to state a claim under 23 Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(b)(6). Watison v. Carter, 668 F.3d 1108, 1112 (9th Cir. 2012). To survive § 1915 review, a complaint must "contain sufficient factual matter, accepted as true, to state a 24 25 claim to relief that is plausible on its face." See Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009). 26 In considering whether the complaint is sufficient to state a claim, all allegations of material fact are taken as true and construed in the light most favorable to the plaintiff. Wyler Summit P'ship v. 27 28 Turner Broad. Sys. Inc., 135 F.3d 658, 661 (9th Cir. 1998) (citation omitted). Although the standard

Nelson v. Colvin

under Rule 12(b)(6) does not require detailed factual allegations, a plaintiff must provide more than mere labels and conclusions. Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 555 (2007). A formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of action is insufficient. Id.

Plaintiff's amended complaint challenges a decision by the Social Security Administration ("SSA") denying benefits. Before filing suit, a plaintiff must exhaust administrative remedies. See 42 U.S.C. § 405(g); see also Bass v. Social Sec. Admin., 872 F.2d 832, 833 (9th Cir. 1989) (per curiam) ("Section 405(g) provides that a civil action may be brought only after (1) the claimant has been party to a hearing held by the Secretary, and (2) the Secretary has made a final decision on the claim"). Generally, if the SSA denies a claimant's application for disability benefits, he can request reconsideration of the decision. If the claim is denied at the reconsideration level, a claimant may request a hearing before an Administrative Law Judge ("ALJ"). If the ALJ denies the claim, a claimant may request review of the decision by the Appeals Council. If the Appeals Council declines to review the ALJ's decision, a claimant may then request judicial review. See generally 20 C.F.R. §§ 404, 416.

Once a plaintiff has exhausted administrative remedies, he can obtain judicial review of an SSA decision denying benefits by filing suit within sixty days after notice of a final decision. 42 U.S.C. § 405(g). An action for judicial review of a determination by the SSA must be brought "in the district court of the United States for the judicial district in which the plaintiff resides." Id. The complaint should state the nature of plaintiff's disability, when plaintiff claims he became disabled, and when and how he exhausted his administrative remedies. The complaint should also contain a plain, short, and concise statement identifying the nature of plaintiff's disagreement with the SSA's determination and show that plaintiff is entitled to relief. A district court can affirm, modify, reverse, or remand a decision if plaintiff has exhausted his administrative remedies and timely filed a civil action. However, judicial review of the Commissioner's decision to deny benefits is limited to determining: (a) whether there is substantial evidence in the record as a whole to support the findings of the Commissioner; and (b) whether the correct legal standards were applied. Morgan v. Commissioner of the Social Security Adm., 169 F.3d 595, 599 (9th Cir. 1999).

Here, Plaintiff alleges that on August 19, 2016, the Appeals Council denied her request for review, and, at that time, the ALJ's decision became the final decision of the Commissioner. Thus, it appears Plaintiff has exhausted her administrative remedies. This case was commenced on October 14, 2016, which was within sixty days. Additionally, Plaintiff's amended complaint includes sufficient facts to state a claim for relief.

II. Conclusion

Based on the foregoing and good cause appearing therefore,

IT IS ORDERED that:

- 1. The Clerk of the Court must serve the Commissioner of the Social Security Administration by sending a copy of the summons and amended complaint (ECF No. 8) by certified mail to: (1) Office of Regional Chief Counsel, Region IX, Social Security Administration, 160 Spear St., Suite 899, San Francisco, California 94105-1545; and (2) the Attorney General of the United States, Department of Justice, 950 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., Room 4400, Washington, D.C. 20530.

- 2. The Clerk of Court must issue summons to the United States Attorney for the District of Nevada and deliver the summons and Complaint to the U.S. Marshal for service.
- 3. From this point forward, Plaintiff must serve on Defendant or, if appearance has been entered by an attorney, on the attorney, a copy of every pleading, motion or other document submitted for consideration by the court. Plaintiff must include with the original paper submitted for filing a certificate stating the date that a true and correct copy of the document was personally served or sent by mail to the defendants or counsel for the defendants. The court may disregard any paper received by a district judge or magistrate judge that has not been filed with the Clerk, and any paper received by a district judge, magistrate judge or the Clerk that fails to include a certificate of service.
