Good cause supports this stipulation. Specifically, on the morning of August 31, 2017, third party LiveVox requested an additional 7 days to complete its review-and-sign of its 30(b)(6) deposition transcript, which would have otherwise been due on September 1, 2017. Plaintiff and CBE are not opposed to permitting this third party the additional time it requests to complete this process, but Plaintiff would like to have the opportunity to review any changes to the transcript prior to filing her response to CBE's the motion to exclude and strike, and the parties and CBE had agreed that LiveVox will email its corrections to all counsel no later than 12 p.m. PST on September 8, 2017, which will permit Plaintiff enough time to review the changes and properly respond, if at all, in her response to CBE's motion to strike. As it concerns the Reply, CBE's counsel is in trial during the time the reply would otherwise be due as a consequence of the extended response period.

This is the parties' first stipulation to extend the motion, which is not being made for purposes of delay.
