Order Staying Case and Denying Motion Without Prejudice

[ECF No. 16]

10
11 As I noted in Freedom Mortgage v. Las Vegas Development Group,¹ in the years
12 following Las Vegas's real estate crash, lenders and investors were at odds over the legal effect
13 of a homeowners association's (HOA's) nonjudicial foreclosure of a superpriority lien on a 14 lender's first trust deed. The Nevada Supreme Court settled the debate in SFR Investments Pool
15 1, LLC v. U.S. Bank,² making winners out of the investors who purchased foreclosure properties
16 in HOA sales and losers of the lenders who gambled on the opposite result, elected not to satisfy
17 the HOA liens to prevent foreclosure, and thus saw their interests wiped out by sales that often 18 yielded a small fraction of the loan balance.

19 The Nevada Supreme Court recently reaffirmed the SFR principles in Saticoy Bay v.
20 Wells Fargo and expressly held that "the Due Process Clauses of the United States and Nevada
21 Constitutions are not implicated in an HOA's nonjudicial foreclosure of a superpriority lien."³
22 But when a Ninth Circuit panel considered the same issue in Bourne Valley Court Trust v. Wells
23 Fargo Bank, it held that Chapter 116's nonjudicial foreclosure scheme "facially violated

2 both Bourne Valley and Saticoy Bay have indicated their intent to file petitions for certiorari in 3 the United States Supreme Court,⁵ so the constitutionality of portions of Nevada’s non-judicial 4 foreclosure statute may ultimately be decided by the United States Supreme Court.⁶

5 This case concerns a non-judicial foreclosure sale. Wilmington Trust challenges that sale
6 as a violation of its right to due process, among other things.⁷ A dismissal motion that implicates 7 Bourne Valley and Saticoy Bay is pending.⁸ To save the parties from the need or inclination to 8 invest resources further briefing the effect of these decisions before the United States Supreme 9 Court has ruled on the petitions for certiorari review, I sua sponte stay all proceedings in this 10 case and deny the pending motion to dismiss without prejudice.

11 Discussion

12 A district court has the inherent power to stay cases to control its docket and promote the 13 efficient use of judicial resources.⁹ When determining whether a stay is appropriate pending the 14 resolution of another case—often called a “Landis stay”—the district court must weigh: (1) the 15 possible damage that may result from a stay, (2) any “hardship or inequity” that a party may suffer if required to go forward, (3) “and the orderly course of justice measured in terms of the simplifying or complicating of issues, proof, and questions of law” that a stay will engender.¹⁰ After weighing these considerations, I find that a Landis stay is appropriate here. I address these considerations in reverse order.

A. A stay will promote the orderly course of justice.

At the center of this case is an HOA-foreclosure sale under NRS Chapter 116 and the competing arguments that the foreclosure sale either extinguished the mortgagor’s security interest or had no legal effect because the statutory scheme violates due process. The United States Supreme Court’s consideration of petitions for certiorari in Bourne Valley and Saticoy Bay has the potential to be dispositive of this case or at least of discrete issues that it presents. As the jurisprudence in this area of unique Nevada law continues to evolve, the parties in the scores of foreclosure-challenge actions pending in this courthouse file new motions or move to supplement the ones that they already have pending, often resulting in docket-clogging entries and an impossible-to-follow chain of briefs in which arguments are abandoned and replaced. Staying this case pending the Supreme Court’s disposition of the petitions for certiorari in Bourne Valley and Saticoy Bay will permit the parties to evaluate—and me to consider—the viability of the claims under the most complete precedent. This will simplify and streamline the proceedings and promote the efficient use of the parties’ and the court’s resources.

B. Hardship and inequity

All parties in this action face the prospect of hardship if I resolve the claims or issues in this case before the petitions for certiorari have been decided. A stay will prevent further unnecessary briefing and the expenditures of time, attorney’s fees, and resources that could be wasted—or at least prematurely spent—should the Supreme Court take up these cases.

C. Damage from a stay

The only potential damage that may result from a stay is that the parties will have to wait longer for resolution of this case and any motions that they have filed or intend to file in the ¹⁰ Lockyer v. Mirant Corp., 398 F.3d 1098, 1110 (9th Cir. 2005).

1 future. But a delay would also result from any rebriefing or supplemental briefing that may be 2 necessitated if the Supreme Court grants certiorari and resolves this circuit-state split. So it is not 3 clear to me that a stay pending the Supreme Court's disposition of the petitions for certiorari will 4 ultimately lengthen the life of this case. I thus find that any possible damage that the extension 5 of this stay may cause the parties is minimal.

6 D. The length of the stay is reasonable.

7 Finally, I note that a stay of this case pending the disposition of the petitions for certiorari
8 in Bourne Valley and Saticoy Bay is expected to be reasonably short. The petition in Bourne 9 Valley is due April 3, 2017, and the petition in Saticoy Bay is due April 25, 2017. Because the 10 length of this stay is directly tied to the petition proceedings in those cases, it is reasonably brief, 11 and it is not indefinite.

12 Conclusion

13 IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that this case is STAYED. Once the United States
14 Supreme Court proceedings in Bourne Valley and Saticoy Bay have concluded, any party 15 may move to lift this stay.

16 IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the pending motion to dismiss [ECF No. 16] is 17 DENIED without prejudice to its refiling within 20 days of the order lifting the stay.
