UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF NEVADA

SHARON BARNUM, et al.,)	Case No. 2:16-cv-02866-RFB-NJK
Plaintiff(s),)	ORDER
v.)	(Docket No. 42, 69)
EQUIFAX INFORMATION SERVICES, LLC,) Defendant(s).)

16 Pending before the Court is Plaintiffs’ motion to compel. Docket No. 42. A response was filed
 17 thereto, and a reply. Docket Nos. 59, 65. A few weeks after the reply was filed, Plaintiffs filed a motion
 18 to submit supplemental authority, Docket No. 69, which spawned another response and another reply,
 19 Docket Nos. 71, 74. A few weeks after that supplemental motion was fully briefed, Plaintiffs then filed
 20 a motion to extend the discovery cutoff that indicates that a primary document underlying the dispute
 21 at issue in the motion to compel is now in doubt. See, e.g., Docket No. 75 at 21. While Plaintiffs
 22 indicate the latest dispute may impact the motion to compel, see id., they provide insufficient guidance
 23 on how that may be and how the Court can rule on the motion to compel at this point given the issues
 24 being raised.

25 The Court declines to sift through seven briefs that appear to touch on the dispute at issue in the 26 motion to compel (not including the forthcoming briefing on the motion to extend). At the same time, 27 the Court seeks to minimize any further delay in resolving that dispute. Accordingly, the parties shall 28 meet-and-confer on the underlying dispute in relation to the changed landscape by December 22, 2017.

1 To the extent a dispute remains, the parties shall file, by December 29, 2017, a joint statement regarding
2 each discovery request for which a dispute exists. That joint statement must separately address each
3 disputed request, providing the text of the request, the specific objections to it, Defendant's arguments
4 supporting each objection, and then Plaintiffs' arguments opposing each objection. Cf. C.D. Cal. Local 5 Rule 37-2.1 (outlining similar procedure for presenting discovery disputes in the form of joint 6 stipulations). Because this is a joint submission, the page limitations established in the local rules shall 7 not apply, although counsel shall be as concise as the subject matter permits.¹ The joint statement must 8 be complete in itself. The parties may not incorporate by reference arguments made elsewhere. The joint 9 statement shall attach any declarations or exhibits that the parties wish to be considered.

10 As the original movants, Plaintiffs shall be responsible for compiling and filing the joint 11 statement, and the parties shall confer on the best mechanism for accomplishing that. Cf. C.D. Cal. Local 12 Rule 37-2.2. This must be a cooperative process. The Court expects counsel to be transparent with one 13 another as to their arguments, including circulating their written arguments with sufficient time to 14 respond thereto in their own section of the joint submission.

15 The pending motion to compel (Docket No. 42) is DENIED without prejudice and the pending
16 motion to supplement (Docket No. 69) is DENIED as moot.

17 IT IS SO ORDERED.

27 ¹ To be clear, the parties must meaningfully develop their arguments. Merely identifying an 28 objection or response thereto will not suffice. Cf. Kor Media Group, LLC v. Green, 294 F.R.D. 579, 582 n.3 (D. Nev. 2013) (courts may deem waived arguments that are not meaningfully developed).
