KEVIN KEITH KOLTERMAN,

Case No. 2:21-cv-01251-CLB

Plaintiff,

ORDER DENYING MOTION TO
REMAND AND GRANTING CROSS-MOTION TO AFFIRM

KILOLO KIJAKAZI,¹
Acting Commissioner of Social Security,

[ECF Nos. 20, 21]

Defendant.

This case involves the judicial review of an administrative action by the Commissioner of Social Security (“Commissioner”) denying Kevin Kolterman’s (“Kolterman”) application for disability insurance benefits and supplemental security income pursuant to Titles II and XVI of the Social Security Act. Currently pending before the Court is Kolterman’s motion for reversal and remand. (ECF No. 20.) The Commissioner filed a response and cross-motion to affirm, (ECF Nos. 21, 22)², and Kolterman filed a reply, (ECF No. 23). Having reviewed the pleadings, transcripts, and the Administrative Record (“AR”), (ECF No. 15), the Court concludes that the Commissioner’s finding that Kolterman could perform other work that exists in significant numbers in the national economy was supported by substantial evidence. Therefore, the Court denies Kolterman’s motion for remand, (ECF No. 20), and grants the Commissioner’s cross-motion to affirm. (ECF No. 21).

I. STANDARDS OF REVIEW

A. Judicial Standard of Review

This court's review of administrative decisions in social security disability benefits

¹ Kilolo Kijakazi is now the Acting Commissioner of Social Security and is automatically substituted as a party pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 25(d).

² ECF Nos. 21 and 22 are identical documents.

1 cases is governed by 42 U.S.C. § 405(g). See Akopyan v. Barnhart, 296 F.3d 852, 854 2 (9th Cir. 2002). Section 405(g) provides that “[a]ny individual, after any final decision of 3 the Commissioner of Social Security made after a hearing to which he was a party, 4 irrespective of the amount in controversy, may obtain a review of such decision by a civil 5 action . . . brought in the district court of the United States for the judicial district in which 6 the plaintiff resides.” The court may enter, “upon the pleadings and transcript of the record, 7 a judgment affirming, modifying, or reversing the decision of the Commissioner of Social 8 Security, with or without remanding the cause for a rehearing.” Id.

9 The court must affirm an Administrative Law Judge’s (“ALJ”) determination if it is 10 based on proper legal standards and the findings are supported by substantial evidence 11 in the record. Stout v. Comm'r Soc. Sec. Admin., 454 F.3d 1050, 1052 (9th Cir. 2006); see 12 also 42 U.S.C. § 405(g) (“findings of the Commissioner of Social Security as to any fact, 13 if supported by substantial evidence, shall be conclusive”). “Substantial evidence is more 14 than a mere scintilla but less than a preponderance.” Bayliss v. Barnhart, 427 F.3d 1211, 15 1214 n.1 (9th Cir. 2005) (internal quotation marks and citation omitted). “It means such 16 relevant evidence as a reasonable mind might accept as adequate to support a 17 conclusion.” Richardson v. Perales, 402 U.S. 389, 401 (1971) (quoting Consolidated 18 Edison Co. v. NLRB, 305 U.S. 197, 229 (1938)); see also Webb v. Barnhart, 433 F.3d 19 683, 686 (9th Cir. 2005).

20 To determine whether substantial evidence exists, the court must look at the 21 administrative record as a whole, weighing both the evidence that supports and 22 undermines the ALJ’s decision. Orteza v. Shalala, 50 F.3d 748, 749 (9th Cir. 1995) 23 (citation omitted). Under the substantial evidence test, a court must uphold the 24 Commissioner’s findings if they are supported by inferences reasonably drawn from the 25 record. Batson v. Comm'r, Soc. Sec. Admin., 359 F.3d 1190, 1193 (9th Cir. 2004).
26 “However, if evidence is susceptible of more than one rational interpretation, the decision 27 of the ALJ must be upheld.” Orteza, 50 F.3d at 749 (citation omitted). The ALJ alone is 28 responsible for determining credibility and for resolving ambiguities. Meanel v. Apfel, 172

1 F.3d 1111, 1113 (9th Cir. 1999).

2 It is incumbent on the ALJ to make specific findings so that the court does not 3 speculate as to the basis of the findings when determining if substantial evidence supports 4 the Commissioner's decision. The ALJ's findings should be as comprehensive and 5 analytical as feasible and, where appropriate, should include a statement of subordinate 6 factual foundations on which the ultimate factual conclusions are based, so that a 7 reviewing court may know the basis for the decision. See Gonzalez v. Sullivan, 914 F.2d 8 1197, 1200 (9th Cir. 1990).

9 B. Standards Applicable to Disability Evaluation Process

10 The individual seeking disability benefits bears the initial burden of proving 11 disability. Roberts v. Shalala, 66 F.3d 179, 182 (9th Cir. 1995). To meet this burden, the 12 individual must demonstrate the "inability to engage in any substantial gainful activity by 13 reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be 14 expected . . . to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months." 42 U.S.C. § 15 423(d)(1)(A). More specifically, the individual must provide "specific medical evidence" in 16 support of their claim for disability. See 20 C.F.R. § 404.1514. If the individual establishes 17 an inability to perform their prior work, then the burden shifts to the Commissioner to show 18 that the individual can perform other substantial gainful work that exists in the national 19 economy. Reddick v. Chater, 157 F.3d 715, 721 (9th Cir. 1998).

20 The first step requires the ALJ to determine whether the individual is currently 21 engaging in substantial gainful activity ("SGA"). 20 C.F.R. §§ 404.1520(b), 416.920(b).
22 SGA is defined as work activity that is both substantial and gainful; it involves doing 23 significant physical or mental activities, usually for pay or profit. 20 C.F.R. §§ 404.1572(a)- 24 (b), 416.972(a)-(b). If the individual is currently engaging in SGA, then a finding of not 25 disabled is made. If the individual is not engaging in SGA, then the analysis proceeds to 26 the second step.

27 The second step addresses whether the individual has a medically determinable 28 impairment that is severe or a combination of impairments that significantly limits the 1 individual from performing basic work activities. 20 C.F.R. §§ 404.1520(c), 416.920(c). An 2 impairment or combination of impairments is not severe when medical and other evidence 3 establish only a slight abnormality or a combination of slight abnormalities that would have 4 no more than a minimal effect on the individual's ability to work. 20 C.F.R. §§ 404.1521, 5 416.921; Social Security Rulings ("SSRs") 85-28 and 96-3p. If the individual does not have 6 a severe medically determinable impairment or combination of impairments, then a finding 7 of not disabled is made. If the individual has a severe medically determinable impairment 8 or combination of impairments, then the analysis proceeds to the third step.

9 The third step requires the ALJ to determine whether the individual's impairment or 10 combination of impairments meets or medically equals the criteria of an impairment listed 11 in 20 C.F.R. Part 404, Subpart P, Appendix 1. 20 C.F.R. §§ 404.1520(d), 404.1525, 12 404.1526, 416.920(d), 416.925, 416.926. If the individual's impairment or combination of 13 impairments meets or equals the criteria of a listing and meets the duration requirement
14 (20 C.F.R. §§ 404.1509, 416.909), then a finding of disabled is made. 20 C.F.R. §§ 15 404.1520(h), 416.920(h). If the individual's impairment or combination of impairments 16 does not meet or equal the criteria of a listing or meet the duration requirement, then the 17 analysis proceeds to the next step.

18 Prior to considering step four, the ALJ must first determine the individual's residual 19 functional capacity ("RFC"). 20 C.F.R. §§ 404.1520(e), 416.920(e). The RFC is a function-20 by-function assessment of the individual's ability to do physical and mental work-related 21 activities on a sustained basis despite limitations from impairments. SSR 96-8p. In making 22 this finding, the ALJ must consider all of the symptoms, including pain, and the extent to 23 which the symptoms can reasonably be accepted as consistent with the objective medical 24 evidence and other evidence. 20 C.F.R. §§ 404.1529 and 416.929; SSRs 96-4p, 96-7p.
25 To the extent that objective medical evidence does not substantiate statements about the 26 intensity, persistence, or functionally-limiting effects of pain or other symptoms, the ALJ 27 must make a finding on the credibility of the individual's statements based on a 28 consideration of the entire case record. The ALJ must also consider opinion evidence in 1 accordance with the requirements of 20 C.F.R. §§ 404.1527 and 416.927 and SSRs 96-2 2p, 96-5p, 96-6p, and 06-3p.

3 After making the RFC determination, the ALJ must then turn to step four to 4 determine whether the individual has the RFC to perform their past relevant work. 20 5 C.F.R. §§ 404.1520(f), 416.920(f). Past relevant work means work performed either as the 6 individual actually performed it or as it is generally performed in the national economy 7 within the last 15 years or 15 years prior to the date that disability must be established. In 8 addition, the work must have lasted long enough for the individual to learn the job and 9 performed at SGA. 20 C.F.R. §§ 404.1560(b), 404.1565, 416.960(b), 416.965. If the 10 individual has the RFC to perform their past work, then a finding of not disabled is made.
11 If the individual is unable to perform any past relevant work or does not have any past 12 relevant work, then the analysis proceeds to the fifth and final step.

13 The fifth and final step requires the ALJ to determine whether the individual is able 14 to do any other work considering their RFC, age, education, and work experience. 20 15 C.F.R. §§ 404.1520(g), 416.920(g). If the individual is able to do other work, then a finding 16 of not disabled is made. Although the individual generally continues to bear the burden of 17 proving disability at this step, a limited evidentiary burden shifts to the Commissioner. The 18 Commissioner is responsible for providing evidence that demonstrates that other work 19 exists in significant numbers in the national economy that the individual can do. Lockwood 20 v. Comm'r, Soc. Sec. Admin., 616 F.3d 1068, 1071 (9th Cir. 2010).

21 II. CASE BACKGROUND

22 A. Procedural History

23 Kolterman applied for disability insurance benefits (“DIB”) and supplemental 24 security income (“SSI”) on August 15, 2018, with an alleged disability onset date of June 25 15, 2014. (AR 13, 88-89, 219-25.) Kolterman’s application was denied initially on January 26 26, 2019, and upon reconsideration on May 10, 2019. (AR 88-89, 125-27.) Kolterman 27 subsequently requested an administrative hearing and on September 24, 2020, Kolterman 28 and his attorney appeared at a telephonic hearing before an ALJ. (AR 32-57.) A vocational

1 expert (“VE”) also appeared at the hearing via telephone. (Id.) The ALJ issued a written 2 decision on October 21, 2020, finding that Kolterman was not disabled because he could 3 perform other work that exists in significant numbers in the national economy. (AR 13-26.) 4 Kolterman appealed, and the Appeals Council denied review. (AR 1-6.) Accordingly, the 5 ALJ’s decision became the final decision of the Commissioner. Having exhausted all 6 administrative remedies, Kolterman filed a complaint for judicial review on July 1, 2021.
7 (See ECF No. 1.)

8 B. ALJ’s Decision

9 In the written decision, the ALJ followed the five-step sequential evaluation process 10 set forth in 20 C.F.R. §§ 404.1520 and 416.920. (AR 13-26.) Ultimately, the ALJ disagreed 11 that Kolterman has been disabled from June 15, 2014, the alleged onset date, through the 12 date of his decision. (AR 26.) The ALJ held that, based on Kolterman’s RFC, age, 13 education, and work experience, Kolterman could perform other work that exists in 14 significant numbers in the national economy. (AR 25-26.)

15 In making this determination, the ALJ started at step one. Here, the ALJ found 16 Kolterman had not engaged in substantial gainful activity since the alleged onset date of 17 June 15, 2014. (AR 17.) At step two, the ALJ found Kolterman had the following severe 18 impairments: Parkinson’s disease; cervical and lumbar spine degenerative disc disease; 19 and obesity. (AR 17-19.) At step three, the ALJ found Kolterman did not have an 20 impairment or combination of impairments that either met or medically equaled the severity
21 of those impairments listed in 20 C.F.R. Part 404, Subpart P, Appx. 1; 20 C.F.R. §§
22 404.1520(d), 404.1525, 404.1526, 416.920(d), 416.925, and 416.926. (AR 19.)

23 Next, the ALJ determined Kolterman has the RFC to perform medium work as 24 defined by 20 C.F.R. §§ 404.1567(c) and 416.967(c) except:

25 he can frequently reach, handle, and finger bilaterally. The claimant can 26 frequently stoop, kneel, crouch, and climb ramps and stairs, but he can never 27 crawl or climb ladders, ropes, or scaffolds. The claimant can occasionally 28 balance. The claimant cannot work at unprotected height. He must avoid concentrated exposure to moving mechanical parts. The claimant cannot work in extreme cold or extreme heat. He should avoid concentrated

1 exposure to vibrations.

2 (AR 19.)

3 The ALJ found Kolterman's medically determinable impairments could reasonably 4 be expected to cause the symptoms alleged; however, Kolterman's statements 5 concerning the intensity, persistence, and limiting effects of those symptoms were not 6 entirely consistent with the medical evidence and other evidence in the record. (AR 20.) 7 In reaching this conclusion, the ALJ reviewed and discussed the objective medical 8 evidence, medical opinions, and factors weighing against Kolterman's credibility. (AR 19-9 24.) The ALJ then determined that Kolterman is not capable of performing past relevant 10 work, as an elevator constructer or elevator constructer helper, as actually or generally 11 performed. (AR 24-25.)

12 Relying on the testimony of the VE, the ALJ determined that Kolterman's age, 13 education, work experience, and RFC would allow him to perform other occupations 14 existing in significant numbers in the national economy, such as: store laborer, linen room 15 attendant, or day worker. (AR 25-26.) Accordingly, the ALJ held that Kolterman had 16 not been under a disability since the alleged onset date of June 15, 2014, through the 17 date of the decision, and denied Kolterman's claim. (AR 26.)

18 III. ISSUE

19 Kolterman seeks judicial review of the Commissioner's final decision denying DIB
20 and SSI under Titles II and XVI of the Social Security Act. (ECF No. 20.) Kolterman raises 21 a single issue for this Court's review: Whether the ALJ properly evaluated the medical 22 opinion of consultative examiner Shanna Baltar, D.O., in determining Kolterman's physical 23 RFC. (Id. at 11-17.)

24 IV. DISCUSSION

25 Within the administrative record, an ALJ may encounter medical opinions from 26 three types of physicians: treating, examining, and non-examining. See Valentine v.
27 Comm'r of Soc. Sec. Admin., 574 F.3d 685, 692 (9th Cir. 2009). For claims filed on or after 28 March 27, 2017, no deference or specific evidentiary weight, including controlling weight,

1 will be given to any medical opinions or prior administrative medical findings, including 2 those from a plaintiff's medical sources. 20 C.F.R. §§ 404.1520c(a), 416.920c(a). When 3 evaluating the persuasiveness of medical opinions and prior administrative medical 4 findings, the most important factors considered are supportability and consistency. Id.
5 (emphasis added). When a finding is made on persuasiveness, there must be an 6 explanation of how the ALJ considered the supportability and consistency factors for a 7 medical source's medical opinions or prior administrative medical findings within the 8 determination or decision. Id.; see also 20 C.F.R. §§ 404.1520c(b)(2), 416.920c(b)(2).

9 The more relevant the objective medical evidence and supporting explanations 10 presented by a medical source are to support their medical opinions or prior administrative 11 medical findings, the more persuasive the medical opinions or prior administrative medical 12 findings will be. Id. at §§ 404.1520c(c)(1), 416.920c(c)(1). The more consistent a medical 13 opinion or prior administrative medical finding is with the evidence from other medical 14 sources and nonmedical sources in the claim, the more persuasive the medical opinion or 15 prior administrative medical finding will be. Id. at §§ 404.1520c(c)(2), 416.920c(c)(2).

16 The ALJ will consider the following additional factors when evaluating the 17 persuasiveness of medical opinions and prior administrative medical findings, however, 18 the ALJ is not required to explain how the factors were considered:

19 (1) relationship of the claimant with the medical source:
20 (i) length of the treatment relationship,
21 (ii) frequency of examinations,
22 (iii) purpose of the treatment relationship, 23 (iv) extent of the treatment relationship, and 24 (v) examining relationship; 25 (2) specialization of the medical source providing the opinions or findings; and 26 (3) other factors that tend to support or contradict a medical opinion or prior 27 administrative medical finding. Id. at §§ 404.1520c(c)(3)-(5), 416.920c(c)(3)-(5).

28 When an ALJ finds two or more equally persuasive medical opinions or prior administrative medical findings about the same issue that are equally well-supported and consistent with the record, but are not exactly the same, then the ALJ must articulate, within the claimant's determination or decision, how the ALJ considered the other most 1 persuasive factors for those medical opinions or prior administrative medical findings. Id.

2 at §§ 404.1520c(b)(3), 416.920c(b)(3).

3 Kolterman filed his claims for DIB and SSI in August of 2018. (AR 13, 88-89, 219-4 25.) For this reason, the ALJ was required to follow 20 C.F.R. §§ 404.1520c and 416.920c 5 when considering and articulating how the ALJ considered medical opinions or prior 6 administrative medical findings. To evaluate whether the ALJ properly assessed 7 Kolterman's physical limitations in determining his RFC, the Court will look for whether the 8 ALJ applied the proper legal standards under 20 C.F.R. §§ 404.1520c and 416.920c and, 9 whether there was substantial evidence in the record to support the ALJ's decision.

10 A. There is Substantial Evidence in the Record to Support the ALJ's 11 Decision regarding Kolterman's RFC

12 Kolterman argues the ALJ erred when determining Kolterman's RFC because he 13 improperly evaluated consultative examiner Dr. Baltar's opinion. (ECF No. 20 at 11-17.)
14 Kolterman contends that the ALJ improperly rejected Dr. Baltar's opinion in a conclusory 15 manner and did not adequately discuss the supportability and consistency factors as 16 required under the regulations. (Id.) In response, the Commissioner states that although 17 Kolterman disagrees with the ALJ's conclusion, his mere disagreement is not a basis to 18 overturn the ALJ's decision in this case and at best, Kolterman's arguments present a 19 competing interpretation of the record, which does not constitute reversible error. (ECF 20 No. 21 at 5 (citing Shaibi v. Berryhill, 883 F.3d 1102, 1108 (9th Cir. 2018))).

21 As an initial matter, the Court finds the ALJ applied the proper legal standards under 22 20 C.F.R. §§ 404.1520c and 416.920c, as he appropriately assessed the supportability 23 and consistency of Dr. Baltar's opinion as the regulations dictate, including providing an 24 explanation of how the supportability and consistency factors were considered when 25 assessing Dr. Baltar's medical opinions.

26 As to Kolterman's physical limitations, the ALJ specifically found that Kolterman 27 had the ability to perform medium work except:

28 he can frequently reach, handle, and finger bilaterally. The claimant can frequently stoop, kneel, crouch, and climb ramps and stairs, but he can never

1 crawl or climb ladders, ropes, or scaffolds. The claimant can occasionally
2 balance. The claimant cannot work at unprotected height. He must avoid 3 concentrated exposure to moving mechanical parts. The claimant cannot 4 work in extreme cold or extreme heat. He should avoid concentrated 5 exposure to vibrations.

6 (AR 19.) In considering the opinion of Dr. Baltar, the ALJ concluded that Dr. Baltar's
7 opinion was "persuasive" in part regarding Kolterman's strength capabilities, but the ALJ
8 found the remaining portion of Dr. Baltar's opinion about Kolterman's postural movements 9 and manipulative functioning inconsistent with the overall record (AR 23). Specifically, the 10 ALJ found as follows:

11 Dr. Baltar opined that the claimant had no standing, walking or sitting 12 limitations. The claimant could lift and carry 50 pounds occasionally and 25 13 pounds frequently. The claimant could occasionally balance and frequently 14 climb. He could occasionally reach, handle, finger, and feel. (Exhibit 5F/6).
15 This opinion is supported by explanation based upon the doctor's physical 16 examination of the claimant. The opinion is consistent with the claimant's 17 imaging results that failed to show compression of nerve or nerve root 18 (Exhibits 6F; 9F/2; 13F/3; 16F/9). The opinion is consistent with the overall 19 evidence of record such as the claimant's consistently normal strength, 20 intact sensation, and normal gait (Exhibit 22F/3, 9, 57, 58). As such, the 21 undersigned finds the opinion concerning medium exertion persuasive.
22 However, the limitations concerning the claimant's postural movements and 23 manipulative functioning is not consistent with the overall evidence of 24 records such as physical examinations with minimal shaking, intact strength, 25 and intact sensation (Exhibits 22F/6; 20F/5). In addition, the opinion 26 concerning the claimant's occasionally manipulative limitations is not 27 consistent with the claimant's testimony that he could use a smart phone, 28 including text messaging, access the internet, use zippers and buttons, and use utensils (Hearing Testimony). Therefore, the undersigned does not find the remainder of the opinion persuasive.

22 (AR 23-24.) Finally, in assessing Kolterman's limitations, the ALJ noted:

23 [b]ased upon the claimant's degenerative disc disease and Parkinson's 24 disease, in conjunction with his mild tremors, normal strength, intact 25 sensation, normal coordination, and normal gait, the undersigned finds that 26 the claimant is capable of medium work. The undersigned finds that the 27 claimant's cervical degenerative disc disease and mild shaking is supportive 28 of the undersigned's finding that the claimant can frequently reach, handle, and finger bilaterally. The claimant's mild shaking, in conjunction with his normal gait, normal coordination, and negative Romberg are supportive of the undersigned's finding that he can frequently stoop, kneel, crouch, and climb ramps and stairs, but he can never crawl or climb ladders, ropes, or

1 scaffolds. The claimant can occasionally balance. Moreover, the claimant 2 cannot work at unprotected height and he must avoid concentrated exposure
3 to moving mechanical parts. In an effort not to exacerbate the claimant's 4 symptoms of shaking and pain, the undersigned finds that he cannot work 5 in extreme cold or extreme heat and he should avoid concentrated exposure 6 to vibrations. In sum, the undersigned has considered all testimony at the 7 hearing, the medical evidence in the record, and the opinion evidence and 8 has concluded that the claimant is not precluded from work within the 9 residual functional capacity described above.

10 (AR 24.)

11 In determining Kolterman's RFC, the ALJ provided a thorough review of the record 12 including medical evidence and subjective testimony regarding Kolterman's physical 13 impairments, noting evidence that supported limitations and evidence that contradicted 14 disabling allegations. (AR 19-24.) As noted above, the ALJ provided a thorough review of 15 the evidence throughout the record that supported his RFC determination and specifically 16 noted the supportability and consistency of Dr. Baltar's opinion. (Id.) Additionally, the ALJ 17 did not provide conclusory reasons for rejecting Dr. Baltar's opinion, but rather the ALJ 18 provided a thorough explanation of the inconsistency of Dr. Baltar's opinion to the 19 remainder of the evidence and provided specific reasons for finding this opinion 20 inconsistent.

21 In sum, the ALJ properly considered all the relevant evidence in determining 22 Kolterman's physical limitations, including complete assessments of the opinion of Dr.
23 Baltar following the criteria articulated in the regulations. (AR 19-24.) The ALJ reasonably 24 found Dr. Baltar's opinion to be not persuasive. (AR 23.) The ALJ's thorough evaluation of 25 the supportability and consistency of these opinions supports the ALJ's conclusions as to 26 Kolterman's RFC. "Where evidence is susceptible to more than one rational interpretation, 27 it is the ALJ's conclusion that must be upheld." Shaibi, 883 F.3d at 1108 (citing Burch v.
Barnhart, 400 F.3d 676, 679 (9th Cir. 2005)); see also Fair v. Bowen, 885 F.2d 597, 604 (9th Cir. 1989) (In Social Security cases, federal courts "are not triers of fact" and a court
"may not substitute its judgment for that of the [ALJ].")

28 For the above reasons, the Court finds that the ALJ's RFC determination is 1 supported by substantial evidence.

2 V. CONCLUSION

3 Having reviewed the Administrative Record as a whole, and weighing the evidence 4 that supports and detracts from the Commissioner's conclusion, the Court finds the ALJ's 5 decision was supported by substantial evidence and is free of legal error.

6 Accordingly, IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that Kolterman's motion to remand 7 (ECF No. 20) is DENIED, and the Commissioner's cross-motion to affirm (ECF No. 21) is 8 GRANTED;

9 IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the Clerk ENTER JUDGMENT and CLOSE THIS 10 CASE.
