UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF NEVADA

TAMMY VO,

Plaintiff,

v.

AMERICAN BROKERS CONDUIT; et al.,

Defendants.

3:09-cv-0654-LRH-VPC

ORDER

Before the court is plaintiff Tammy Vo’s (“Vo”) motion to remand filed on November 11, 2009. Doc. #5¹. Defendants filed an opposition on November 20, 2009. Doc. #15. Thereafter, Vo filed a reply on November 29, 2009. Doc. #18.

Also before the court is Vo’s motion to stay filed on November 11, 2009. Doc. #6.

I. Facts and Procedural History

On July 12, 2007, Vo purchased real property through a mortgage and note executed by defendant American Brokers Conduit. She eventually defaulted on her mortgage and defendants initiated foreclosure proceedings.

Subsequently, on September 18, 2009, Vo filed a complaint in state court alleging fourteen separate causes of action against defendants. Doc. #1, Exhibit 2. Defendants removed the matter to federal court on federal question grounds. Doc. #1. Thereafter, Vo filed the present motion to 1 remand. Doc. #3.

2 II. Legal Standard

3 Under 28 U.S.C. § 1441, “any civil action brought in a State court of which the district
4 courts of the United States have original jurisdiction, may be removed by the defendant or the 5 defendants, to the district court of the United States for the district and division embracing the 6 place where such action is pending.” 28 U.S.C. § 1441(a).

7 Removal of a case to a United States district court may be challenged by motion. 28 U.S.C.
8 § 1441(c). A federal court must remand a matter if there is a lack of jurisdiction. Id. Removal
9 statutes are construed restrictively and in favor of remanding a case to state court. See Shamrock
10 Oil & Gas Corp. v. Sheets, 313 U.S. 100, 108-09 (1941); Gaus v. Miles, Inc., 980 F.2d 564, 566
11 (9th Cir. 1992). On a motion to remand, the removing defendant faces a strong presumption against 12 removal, and bears the burden of establishing that removal is proper. Gaus, 980 F.2d at 566-67;
13 Sanchez v. Monumental Life Ins. Co., 102 F.3d 398, 403-04 (9th Cir. 1996).

14 III. Discussion

15 A case may be removed to federal court if the action arises under federal law. See 28 U.S.C.
16 § 1331; 28 U.S.C. § 1441. A case arises under federal law if the complaint establishes either that 17 federal law created the cause of action, or that the plaintiff’s right to relief “requires resolution of a 18 substantial question of federal law.” Franchise Tax Bd. of Cal v. Constr. Laborers Vacation Trust
19 for S. Cal., 463 U.S. 1, 13 (1983); see also, Caterpillar Inc. v. Williams, 482 U.S. 386, 382 (1987).

20 Here, Vo argues that there is no federal question because all of her claims are rooted in 21 either state law or common law. Thus, according to Vo, there are no federal causes of action
22 supporting removal.

23 However, federal question jurisdiction will lie over state law claims that implicate
24 significant federal issues. Grable & Sons Metal Prod. v. Darue Engineering & MFG., 545 U.S. 308,
25 312 (2005). In her complaint, Vo repeatedly references the defendants’ violations of federal laws
26

1 including defendants' concealment of information in violation of federal securities and banking
2 laws. Further, her thirteenth cause of action for conspiracy directly references the Truth in Lending
3 Act, the Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act, and the Home Ownership Protection Act. See Doc.
4 #1, Exhibit 1.

5 Vo argues that these are "incidental" references to federal laws referred to only as a
6 compilation to the state violations. See Doc. #17. However, the court finds that these references are
7 not incidental; they are part of the requisite framework for her claims. Vo's conspiracy claim
8 necessarily depends on the resolution of federal law because in order to have conspired to violate
9 her rights defendants must have first violated the federal statutes at issue. Thus, on the face of the 10 complaint, there are questions of federal law establishing federal question jurisdiction. See e.g., 11 California ex. Rel Lockyer v. Dynergy, Inc., 375 F.3d 831, 841 (9th Cir. 2004) (finding that 12 removal was proper because the state causes of action turned on the defendant's compliance with 13 federal regulations).

14 IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that plaintiff's motion to remand (Doc. #5) is DENIED.

15 IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that plaintiff's motion to stay pending the motion to remand
16 (Doc. #6) is DENIED as moot.

17 IT IS SO ORDERED.

18 DATED this 14th day of January, 2010.
