UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF NEVADA

ANTHONY CROSS,

Plaintiff,

Case No. 3:13-cv-00433-MMD-WGC

ORDER

v.

RON JAEGER, et al.,

Defendants.

I. SUMMARY

Before the Court are Plaintiff’s objections to various non-dispositive orders entered by Magistrate Judge William G. Cobb.¹ For the reasons discussed below, Plaintiff’s objections are overruled and denied.

II. BACKGROUND

The relevant background facts are recited in the Court’s previous orders. The claims remaining are Counts I, I-A, V and V-A in the Amended Complaint (“FAC”) against Defendant Sergeant Ron Jaeger for allegedly violating the First Amendment and Article 1, Section 9 of the Nevada Constitution on September 30, 2011, when he did not give Plaintiff the form required with a disciplinary appeal and thereafter intercepted and denied his emergency grievance. (ECF No. 7.) Plaintiff was housed at Southern Desert Correctional Center (“SDCC”) at the time of the incident. (ECF No. 7 at 1.)

¹ The Court addresses in a separate Order Plaintiff’s pending objections to the Magistrate Judge’s Report and Recommendation on the parties’ motions for summary judgment and related rulings (ECF No. 298).

1 III. LEGAL STANDARD

2 Magistrate judges are authorized to resolve pretrial matters subject to district
3 court review under a “clearly erroneous or contrary to law” standard. 28 U.S.C. § 4 636(b)(1)(A); see also Fed. R. Civ. P. 72(a); L.R. IB 3-1(a) (“A district judge may 5 reconsider any pretrial matter referred to a magistrate judge in a civil or criminal case 6 pursuant to LR IB 1-3, where it has been shown that the magistrate judge’s ruling is 7 clearly erroneous or contrary to law.”)

8 This standard of review is significantly deferential to the initial ruling. “A finding is 9 clearly erroneous when although there is evidence to support it, the reviewing body on 10 the entire evidence is left with the definite and firm conviction that a mistake has been 11 committed.” Concrete Pipe & Prods. of Cal., Inc. v. Constr. Laborers Pension Trust for 12 S. Cal., 508 U.S. 602, 622 (1993) (internal quotation marks and citation omitted). The 13 reviewing court “may not simply substitute its judgment for that of the deciding court.”
14 Grimes v. City & Cty. of San Francisco, 951 F.2d 236, 241 (9th Cir. 1991) (citation 15 omitted).

16 IV. PLAINTIFF’S OBJECTIONS

17 A. ECF No. 256

18 Plaintiff objects to Judge Cobb’s order directing the Clerk not to issue several 19 subpoenas for document production that Plaintiff had requested the Clerk to issue.
20 (ECF No. 256.) Judge Cobb found that Plaintiff was trying to circumvent the court’s prior 21 orders that discovery has been completed in this case. (ECF No. 220.) Plaintiff argues 22 that Fed. R. Civ. R. 45 on its face does not limit subpoenas to be issued only during 23 discovery. Rule 45 permits subpoenas to be issued to a third party for documents and is 24 a tool for obtaining discovery. Because the discovery period has closed, the Magistrate 25 Judge’s decision to deny the request to issue subpoenas is not clearly erroneous or 26 contrary to law.

27 B. ECF No. 262

28 Judge Cobb granted Defendant’s request to file his employment records under

1 seal, finding that compelling reasons exist to prevent public disclosure of confidential 2 personnel records. (ECF No. 252.) Plaintiff objects and cites to previous rulings relating 3 to confidential documents and privilege logs. (ECF No. 262.) However, the standard for 4 designating documents as confidential and withholding them from production is not the 5 same as the standard for filing documents with the court under sealed. In the former, 6 the opposing party does not receive the documents while they do in the latter. In any 7 event, the Magistrate Judge’s finding that compelling reasons exist to seal Defendant’s 8 personnel records is not clearly erroneous or contrary to law.

9 C. ECF No. 263

10 Plaintiff objects to Judge Cobb’s order granting his motion for reconsideration
11 and directing Defendant to file under seal SDCC Operational Procedure (“OP”) 12 740.03(7). (ECF No. 263.) Plaintiff argues that he had sought to compel Defendant to 13 produce a copy of the Ely State Prison (“ESP”) OP 403 as Plaintiff’s Exhibit R in support 14 of Plaintiff’s motion for summary judgment, and does not want to and cannot be 15 compelled to rely on SDCC OP 740.03(7). (Id.) In Plaintiff’s motion for reconsideration, 16 he argues that ESP OP 403 is relevant because he had been blocked from obtaining 17 relevant document as to SDCC and is forced to prove his case by comparing “NDOC 18 authority in administrative regulations, to the Ely State Prison (ESP), Operational 19 Procedures (OP).” (ECF No. 250 at 2.) Judge Cobb found that because the procedures 20 for resolving emergency grievances at SDCC as outlined in SDCC OP 740.03(7) are 21 pertinent to the issues raised in this case, Plaintiff should receive a copy and directed 22 Defendant to file a copy marked as an exhibit to Plaintiff’s motion for summary 23 judgment. (ECF No. 253.) Since Plaintiff has SDCC OP 740.03(7), there is no need for 24 him to rely on ESP Operational Procedures to argue what procedures may or may not 25 be available at SDCC. The Court finds that Judge Cobb’s decision is not clearly 26 erroneous or contrary to law.

27 D. ECF Nos. 273, 277, 283

28 As the Court previously noted, whether Jaeger had authority to address Plaintiff’s

1 grievance on September 30, 2011, has been a contentious issue in discovery. (ECF No.
2 255 at 2.) The Court overruled Plaintiff's objections to Judge Cobb's decisions as to the 3 discovery disputes relating to Jaeger's authority to address Plaintiff's grievance. (Id. at 4 4.) Plaintiff has continued to try to obtain discovery, including requesting to re-open 5 discovery, on the issue of Jaeger's supervisory authority and objecting to Judge Cobb's 6 decisions to deny his requests. (ECF Nos. 266, 269, 273, 275, 277, 279, 281, 283.) For 7 the same reasons articulated in the Court's previous Order, Judge Cobb's rulings are 8 not clearly erroneous or contrary to law. (ECF No. 255.)

9 Plaintiff also objects to Judge Cobb's order to deny his request to re-open 10 discovery relating to SDCC Operating Procedure 740. (ECF No. 277.) In his Order, 11 Judge Cobb observed that there is "little substantive difference between SDCC OP 740 12 in effect in September 2011 versus the version which followed." (ECF No. 269 at 5.)
13 Judge Cobb nevertheless directed the parties to provide additional information relating 14 to the version of SDCC OP 740 in effect in September 2011. (Id. at 5-6.) With respect to 15 Plaintiff, Judge Cobb ordered that Plaintiff file a notice of relevance to provide the 16 following information:

- 17 a) when he received the September 2011 version of SDCC OP 740;
- 18 b) what substantive distinction exists between the September 2011 and October 2011 versions of SDCC OP 740 and how those distinctions, if 19 any, impact Plaintiff's case; and,
- 20 c) what specific new discovery Plaintiff proposes should be undertaken with respect to SDCC OP 740.

21 (ECF No. 269 at 6.) In a subsequent Order, Judge Cobb denied Plaintiff's request to re-22 open discovery relating to SDC OP 740, noting that Plaintiff did not file a notice of 23 relevance. (ECF No. 275.)

24 Plaintiff correctly pointed out that he did file a document entitled "Notice of 25 Compliance with this Court's Order (Doc. # 269)" (ECF No. 272) ("Notice") on 26 December 18, 2015. (ECF No. 277.) In his Notice, Plaintiff asserts that he "finds no 27 significant distinction between the two (2) versions of the SDCC OP 740"—the 28 September 2011 version that was filed with Defendant's errata in October 2015 and the

1 October 2011 version that was disclosed in March 2015. (ECF No. 272 at 3.) He 2 challenges Defendant's contention that he could have used the October 2011 version
3 because it was not in effect. (Id.) While this point is well taken, the fact that Defendant
4 did not produce the version of SDCC OP 740 in effect until October 2015 does not 5 serve as a valid basis to re-open discovery. The specific issues that Plaintiff identifies as 6 additional discovery do not stem from information unique to the September 2011
7 version of SDCC OP 740. Thus, while Judge Cobb may have missed Plaintiff's Notice
8 on the docket, his decision to deny Plaintiff's request to re-open discovery is not clearly 9 erroneous or contrary to law.

10 E. ECF No. 285

11 Plaintiff objects to Judge Cobb's order to deny his motion for appointment of 12 counsel by reasserting his contentions that Judge Cobb erred in his previous rulings, 13 including his rulings denying Plaintiff's requests to re-open discovery, and that Judge 14 Cobb exhibited bias in favor of Defendant and against Plaintiff. (ECF No. 285.) The 15 Court disagrees that Judge Cobb erred or that he has favored Defendant over Plaintiff.
16 Plaintiff argues that appointed counsel would help address the issues he faced with 17 respect to discovery into Jaeger's authority. (ECF No. 278.) Plaintiff is essentially trying 18 to re-open discovery. The Court previously overruled Plaintiff's objection to Judge 19 Cobb's order denying his motion for appointment of counsel. (ECF No. 179 at 5.)
20 Plaintiff offers no valid reason for the Court to reconsider its earlier ruling.

21 In addition, the facts of this case do not present "exceptional circumstances" to 22 warrant the Court requesting counsel to represent Plaintiff, and Plaintiff has 23 demonstrated that he is able to articulate his claims. See Terrell v. Brewer, 935 F.2d 24 1015, 1017 (9th Cir. 1991) (the court may exercise its discretion to request counsel only 25 under "exceptional circumstances" which "requires an evaluation of both the likelihood 26 of success on the merits and [the plaintiff's ability to] articulate his claims pro se in light 27 of the complexity of the legal issues involved."). Plaintiff's refusal to accept the Court's 28 rulings, and his uncivil expressions of his disagreements, does not render his case

1 complex, or present exceptional circumstances.

2 F. ECF No. 296

3 Plaintiff objects to the Magistrate Judge's denial of his motion to impose sanctions on 4 Jaeger for spoliation of evidence. (ECF No. 296.) The Magistrate Judge found that 5 Plaintiff failed to identify any document that Jaeger destroyed, the NDOC organization 6 chart that Plaintiff seeks does not exist and if it did, it was not in Jaeger's possession.
7 (ECF No. 295 at 9-10.) Moreover, Plaintiff was not prejudiced by the NDOC's failure to 8 preserve the organization chart because the chart is not determinative of Plaintiff's 9 claims. (Id. at 10-11.) The Court finds that the Magistrate Judge's decision is not clearly 10 erroneous or contrary to law and overrules Plaintiff's objection.

11 V. CONCLUSION

12 The Court notes that the parties made several arguments and cited to several 13 cases not discussed above. The Court has reviewed these arguments and cases and 14 determines that they do not warrant discussion or reconsideration as they do not affect 15 the outcome of this Order.

16 It is therefore ordered that Plaintiff's Objections or Motions for District Judge to 17 Reconsider Order (ECF Nos. 256, 262, 263, 273, 277, 283, 285, 296) are overruled and 18 denied.
