23
24 Pending before the Court are two Motions to Stay Proceedings filed by Pro Se Plaintiff 25 Todd Robben. In his motions, Robben states that criminal charges, which he disputes, were 26 recently filed against him in California state court. Robben has filed several motions in connection 27 with these criminal proceedings, which are currently pending, and states that he has immediate 28 court hearings scheduled. Robben also states that his car has been impounded.

1 District courts have discretion to stay the proceedings before them in light of their inherent 2 power to control their own dockets and promote judicial economy. Lockyer v. Mirant Corp., 398
3 F.3d 1098, 1110 (9th Cir. 2005); Landis v. North Am. Co., 299 U.S. 248, 255 (1936). “[A] trial
4 court may, with propriety, find it is efficient for its own docket and the fairest course for the parties
5 to enter a stay of an action before it, pending resolution of independent proceedings which bear 6 upon the case. This rule applies whether the separate proceedings are judicial, administrative, or 7 arbitral in character . . . .” Yong v. I.N.S., 208 F.3d 1116, 1119-20 (9th Cir. 2000) (quoting Leyva 8 v. Certified Grocers of Cal., Ltd., 593 F.2d 857, 863 (9th Cir. 1979)). However, a stay should 9 generally be for a limited duration, have a defined end point, and should not be granted “if there 10 is even a fair possibility” that the stay will harm another party, unless the moving party makes a 11 showing of hardship or inequity. Dependable Highway Express, Inc. v. Navigators Ins. Co., 498
12 F.3d 1059, 1066 (9th Cir. 2007) (quoting Landis, 299 U.S. at 255).

13 The Court finds that Robben has demonstrated good cause for a limited stay of his civil 14 cases pending before this Court. Robben’s criminal proceedings will make it extremely difficult 15 for him to effectively participate in his civil cases, in which he must meet filing and discovery 16 deadlines. Therefore, and in light of Robben’s pro se status, the Court exercises its discretion to 17 issue a stay of 60 days of Robben’s civil actions pending before it.
