Based on this report, the court will convene a settlement conference for those parties who signified they would like to participate (the “settling parties”). Given the number of parties, the court is interested in recommendations from counsel concerning the most efficient and cost effective means to hold the settlement conference. The court is willing to convene one settlement conference, or it will consider some other proposal that may be more streamlined.

Based upon the foregoing,

IT IS ORDERED as follows:

1. The settling parties shall meet and confer and submit a proposed procedure for a settlement conference no later than Friday, May 30, 2014. If no consensus is reached, the parties may submit competing proposals for the format of the settlement conference on that same date, and the court will decide how best to proceed.
2. Thereafter, the court will set a settlement conference.
3. Pending the settlement conference, discovery will be STAYED, and the court will decide the joint motion to stay discovery (#162) after the settlement conference.

Dated May 15, 2014.
