

1 Documents that have been traditionally kept secret, including grand jury transcripts and 2 warrant materials in a pre-indictment investigation, come within an exception to the general right 3 of public access. See Kamakana, 447 F.3d at 1178. Otherwise, "a strong presumption in favor of 4 access is the starting point." Id. (internal quotation marks and citation omitted). "The 5 presumption of access is 'based on the need for federal courts, although independent—indeed, 6 particularly because they are independent—to have a measure of accountability and for the 7 public to have confidence in the administration of justice.'" Center for Auto Safety v. Chrysler
8 Group, LLC, 809 F.3d 1092, 1096 (9th Cir. 2016), cert. denied, 137 S.Ct. 38 (Oct. 3, 2016)
9 (quoting United States v. Amodeo (Amodeo II), 71 F.3d 1044, 1048 (2nd Cir. 1995); Valley 10 Broad Co. v. U.S. Dist. Ct., D. Nev., 798 F.2d 1289, 1294 (9th Cir. 1986)).

11 There are two possible standards a party must address when it seeks to file a document 12 under seal: the compelling reasons standard or the good cause standard. Center for Auto Safety, 13 809 F.3d at 1096-97. Under the compelling reasons standard, "a court may seal records only 14 when it finds 'a compelling reason and articulate[s] the factual basis for its ruling, without 15 relying on hypothesis or conjecture.'" Id. (quoting Kamakana, 447 F.3d at 1179). The court must 16 "'conscientiously balance[] the competing interests of the public and the party who seeks to keep 17 certain judicial records secret.'" Id. "What constitutes a 'compelling reason' is 'best left to the 18 sound discretion of the trial court.'" Id. (quoting Nixon v. Warner Comm., Inc., 435 U.S. 589, 599 19 (1978)). "Examples include when a court record might be used to 'gratify private spite or 20 promote public scandal,' to circulate 'libelous' statements, or 'as sources of business information 21 that might harm a litigant's competitive standing.'" Id.

22 The good cause standard, on the other hand, is the exception to public access that has 23 been typically applied to "sealed materials attached to a discovery motion unrelated to the merits

1 of the case." Id. (citation omitted). "The 'good cause language comes from Rule 26(c)(1), which 2 governs the issuance of protective orders in the discovery process: The court may, for good 3 cause, issue an order to protect a party or person from annoyance, embarrassment, oppression, or 4 undue burden or expense.'" Id.

5 The Ninth Circuit has clarified that the key in determining which standard to apply is 6 whether the documents proposed for sealing accompany a motion that is "more than tangentially 7 related to the merits of a case." Center for Auto Safety, 809 F.3d at 1101. If that is the case, the 8 compelling reasons standard is applied. If not, the good cause standard is applied.

9 Here, Defendants seek to file exhibits under seal in connection with their motion for 10 summary judgment which is unquestionably "more than tangentially related to the merits of a 11 case." Therefore, the compelling reasons standard applies.

12 This court, and others within the Ninth Circuit, have recognized that the need to protect 13 medical privacy qualifies as a "compelling reason" for sealing records. See, e.g., San Ramon
14 Regional Med. Ctr., Inc. v. Principal Life Ins. Co., 2011 WL89931, at *n.1 (N.D. Cal. Jan. 10, 15 2011); Abbey v. Hawaii Employers Mut. Ins. Co., 2010 WL4715793, at * 1-2 (D. HI. Nov. 15, 16 2010); G. v. Hawaii, 2010 WL 267483, at *1-2 (D.HI. June 25, 2010); Wilkins v. Ahern, 2010
17 WL3755654 (N.D. Cal. Sept. 24, 2010); Lombardi v. TriWest Healthcare Alliance Corp., 2009
18 WL 1212170, at * 1 (D.Ariz. May 4, 2009). This is because a person's medical records contain 19 sensitive and private information about their health. While a plaintiff puts certain aspects of his 20 medical condition at issue when he files an action alleging deliberate indifference to a serious 21 medical need under the Eighth Amendment, that does not mean that the entirety of his medical 22 records filed in connection with a motion (which frequently contain records that pertain to 23 unrelated medical information) need be unnecessarily broadcast to the public. In other words, the

1 plaintiff's interest in keeping his sensitive health information confidential outweighs the public's 2 need for direct access to the medical records.

3 Here, the referenced exhibits contain Plaintiff's sensitive health information, medical 4 history and treatment records. Balancing the need for the public's access to information regarding 5 Plaintiff's medical history, treatment, and condition against the need to maintain the 6 confidentiality of Plaintiff's medical records weighs in favor of sealing these exhibits. Therefore,
7 Defendants' motion (ECF No. 62) is GRANTED.¹

21 ¹ The court has concurrently issued a Report and Recommendation that Defendants' motion for 22 summary judgment be denied without prejudice with respect to the Eighth Amendment 23 deliberate indifference to serious medical need and conditions of confinement claims as Plaintiff was not given an opportunity to review these sealed records before filing his response to the motion. In the future, Defendants are directed to ensure that Plaintiff is given ample opportunity, along with his reader, to review the records before he submits his response to any renewed motion for summary judgment as to these claims.
