JOINT PRETRIAL ORDER

Pursuant to Local Rule 16-3, and this Honorable Court's July 26, 2022 Order (ECF No. 171), Plaintiff/Counterdefendant Hall CA-NV, LLC ("Hall") and Defendant/Counterclaimant Ladera Development, LLC ("Ladera") (collectively "the Parties") hereby submit the following Proposed Joint Pretrial Order:

(1) A concise statement of the nature of the action and the parties' contentions;

On March 21, 2018, Hall CA-NV, LLC filed this action against Ladera Development, LLC 8 with respect to causes of action stemming from Ladera's alleged breach of a certain Intercreditor Agreement with Hall. Ladera brought three counterclaims against Hall, including Fraudulent Misrepresentation, Negligent Misrepresentation, and Declaratory Relief seeking a declaration that the Intercreditor Agreement was void or voidable.

13 In connection with the Cal-Neva resort restoration project, Hall (the Senior Lender) and 14 Ladera (the Junior Lender) entered into an Intercreditor Agreement. The Intercreditor Agreement 15 prohibited Ladera from taking certain actions as the junior lender, including in the event of the 16 borrower's bankruptcy. Here, the borrower did, in fact, file bankruptcy. This Court ruled that 17 "Hall has successfully shown Defendant Ladera is liable for breach of contract for contesting 18 19 Plaintiff Hall's superior loan status in the Bankruptcy Court." (ECF No. 171, 726/22 Order at 20  $2.)^{1}$

21 On March 29, 2022, this Court entered an Order granting partial summary judgment in 22 favor of Hall on Ladera's counterclaims and defenses, including Fraudulent Inducement, 23 Negligent Misrepresentation, and defenses of Unilateral Mistake, Mutual Mistake, and Failure to 24 Comply with a Condition Precedent. The Court found that the Intercreditor Agreement was 25

1 enforceable, but that Hall was not entitled to "the title insurance that Defendant Ladera acquired
2 to solely protect its interest in the Property." (ECF No. 157, 3/29/22 Order at 21.)

On July 26, 2022, this court entered a further Order reconsidering its previous holding and now ruling that "Plaintiff Hall is entitled to the insurance proceeds from the Ladera Insurance Policy." (ECF No. 171, 7/26/22 Order at 14.) The Court stated that "Plaintiff Hall has successfully shown Defendant Ladera is liable for breach of contract for contesting Plaintiff Hall's superior loan status in the Bankruptcy Court," but that "Plaintiff Hall's damages for this breach remain unresolved." (Id. at 2.)

Hall contends that the amount of such damages remains to be resolved at trial, as well as entry of a final judgment in favor of Hall in accordance with, and to more specifically implement, the Court's summary judgment rulings on Hall's breach of contract claims and declaratory judgment claim. Pursuant to the declaratory relief ruling, Hall will seek final judgment on that ensue, which provides for enforcement of the relief granted with respect to the recovery by Hall against the Ladera title insurance policy.

Ladera contends that Hall is not entitled to any damages because it failed to produce 17 evidence of its alleged damages during discovery and because it failed to provide "a computation 18 19 of each category of damages" as required by Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(a)(1)(A)(iii). See Fed. R. Civ. P. 20 37(c)(1); Hoffman v. Constr. Protective Servs., Inc., 541 F.3d 1175, 1177 (9th Cir. 2008) (affirming the 21 preclusion of damages evidence as a sanction "for failure to disclose damage calculations under 22 Rule 26(a)"). Hall's response is that most of the documentation is invoices for attorney's fees and 23 costs in the current litigation, and thereby could not be produced in the discovery period as they 24 were protected by privilege and attorney work product and were changing monthly until the Court 25 ruled in favor of Hall. 26

27 Ladera further contends that Hall seeking attorneys' fees in the current action is premature.
28 This action is not yet over and Hall would first need to be adjudicated as the prevailing party. To the extent Hall is seeking attorneys' fees related to the bankruptcy proceeding and its state court 1 2 action against Ladera that was removed to the bankruptcy court as a related adversarial action, (1) 3 Hall should have moved for those fees in the bankruptcy action; and (2) at a minimum, Hall should 4 have disclosed its alleged damages and the attorneys' fees invoices on which they are purportedly 5 based during discovery in this case. As Hall did neither, Ladera contends Hall is not entitled to 6 present such evidence now and is precluded from obtaining attorneys' fees as an element of 7 damages in this case. Hall's position is that it is the prevailing party pursuant to this Court's Orders 8 from March 29, 2022 (ECF 157) and July 26, 2022 (ECF 171), it was not necessary or required to 9 10 move for fees in the bankruptcy action, and Hall has timely produced its invoicing to support oral 11 testimony on its fees and costs to establish the element of its breach of contract damages. Further, 12 Hall contends it timely disclosed its witnesses on attorney fees in it Rule 26 disclosure, expert 13 witness designation, and stipulation regarding the testimony of one of Hall's counsel.

(2) A statement of the basis for this court's jurisdiction with specific legal citations;

This Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this action pursuant to 28 U.S.C § 1332(a).

(3) A statement of all uncontested facts deemed material in the action;

1. New Cal-Neva Lodge, LLC ("Borrower") previously owned a certain property that straddles the border of Nevada and California located in Crystal Bay, Washoe County, Nevada and in Placer County, California (the "Property").

2. Borrower acquired the Property in February 2013 and operated a resort hotel on it known as the "Cal-Neva Lodge."

3. On June 26, 2013, Borrower and Plaintiff Hall CA-NV, LLC ("Plaintiff Hall") entered into a letter of engagement by which Plaintiff Hall tentatively agreed to provide Borrower with a loan for $29,000,000 "to pay expenditures related to the renovation of improvements on the Property."
(ECF No. 145 Ex. 2 ("June 26 Letter").)

4. Per the letter, final approval of the loan would be based upon certain conditions being met 1 2 such as a renovation plan approved by Plaintiff Hall.  $(Id.)^2$

3 5. Over the next fifteen months, Plaintiff Hall and Borrower negotiated the terms of the 4 loan, reviewed construction plans, and made modifications before the loan closed on September 5 30, 2014. (See ECF No. 139 Ex. 1 ("Construction Loan Agreement").)

6. Under this agreement, Plaintiff Hall would loan the money out over time with monthly installments as needed. (Id. § 12.)<sup>3</sup>

7. Borrower and Defendant Ladera entered into an agreement whereby Defendant Ladera 9 10 would loan $6,000,000 to Borrower "in connection with the refinance, renovation, ownership and operation" of the Property, which loan also closed on September 30, 2014. (ECF No. 139 Ex. 3 ("Junior Loan Agreement").)

8. Defendant Ladera indicated that the loan was worth the risk involved if Ladera's loan were to be second in priority only to Plaintiff Hall's loan, which Plaintiff Hall acknowledged in an internal memorandum dated September 15, 2014. (ECF No. 145 Ex. 11 ("Hall Memo") at 2 ("Ladera is requiring a 2nd lien secured by the property, and a pledge of the Borrower partnership interest.").)4

9. Before the September 30, 2014 closing date, Plaintiff Hall and Defendant Ladera entered 19 20 into a separate agreement, whereby Plaintiff Hall's loan would be senior to Defendant Ladera's 21 loan. (ECF No. 139 Ex. 4 ("Intercreditor Agreement").)

22 10. The Intercreditor Agreement imposed a number of duties onto Defendant Ladera, 23 including:

Senior Lender has the sole and exclusive right, as against Junior Lender, to adjust settlement of insurance claims under the insurance policies in the event of any covered loss or destruction. All proceeds of such insurance related to the Property shall inure to the Senior Lender, and Junior Lender shall cooperate (if necessary) in a reasonable manner in effecting the payment of such insurance proceeds to Senior Lender. In the event Senior Lender permits the Borrower to utilize the proceeds of insurance to replace any part of the Property, the consent of Senior Lender shall be deemed to include the consent of Junior Lender." (Id. at 5.)<sup>5</sup>

8 11. Plaintiff Hall purchased a title insurance policy from Old Republic National Title 9 Insurance Company ("Old Republic"), which Old Republic has taken the position fails to cover 10 any superior mechanics' lien arising from Penta's prior work on the Property. (ECF No. 145 Ex. 11 22 ("Hall Insurance Policy") at LAD006948, LAD006973 (omitting standard coverage for "[t]he 12 lack of priority of the lien of the Insured Mortgage upon the Title . . . as security for each and 13 every advance of proceeds of the loan secured by Insured Mortgage over any statutory lien for 14 services, labor, or material arising from construction of an improvement or work related to the 15 16 land when the improvement or work is either (i) contracted for or commenced on or before Date 17 of Policy; or (ii) contracted for, commenced, or continued after Date of Policy if the construction 18 is financed, in whole or in part, by proceeds of the loan secured by the Insured Mortgage that the 19 Insured has advanced or is obligated on Date of Policy to advance ").)<sup>6</sup> 20 12. 14. Before the parties closed the loans in September 2014, some construction work was 1 2 performed on the Property from fall 2013 to January 2014. This work included the following: 3 work on a model room, repair the roof, replace the boiler, remove trees, and abatement work for 4 asbestos. (ECF No. 145 Ex. 5 ("Jaynes Depo") at 89:2–22.)

15. To complete this work, Borrower hired the PENTA Building Group ("Penta"). Plaintiff Hall's 30(b)(6) witness, Michael Jaynes, admits that he was aware of this construction work by late 2013. (Id. at 63:8-11.)<sup>8</sup>

16. Under Nevada Revised Statutes Chapter 108, contractors generally enjoy a lien on properties on which they have performed work. Nev. Rev. Stat. § 108.225. These liens are prior over subsequent deeds of trust and mortgages. Nev. Rev. Stat. §§ 108.2453, 108.2457. As such, Penta arguably had a first-in-line lien on the Property, giving Penta's lien priority over Plaintiff Hall's and Defendant Ladera's deeds of trust.9

17. Between the 2013 work and the closing of the loans, Plaintiff Hall and Penta made several representations that at least appeared to posit that Penta had not performed any work on the Property before the closing of the loans.

18. First, there was a document titled "Contractor's Agreement and Consent to Assignment 18 of Construction Documents," which Penta and Plaintiff Hall signed on September 29, 2014. (ECF 19 20

No. 145 Ex. 17 ("Contractor's Agreement").) This document states:

Under the Agreement, no work of any kind (including the destruction or removal of any existing improvements, site work, clearing, grubbing, draining, or fencing) has been commenced or performed on the property described in the Agreement and no equipment, or materials have been delivered to the property described in the agreement for any purpose whatsoever. The Contractor's Agreement defines the term "Agreement" collectively to include "any other 1 2 agreements executed by [Penta] and [Borrower] in connection with the [Property]." (Id.)<sup>10</sup>

3 19. Second, the deeds of trust providing Defendant Ladera with a lien on the Property list 4 Defendant Ladera as having a "second priority lien." (ECF No. 145 Ex. 13 ("Deeds of Trust") at 5 1.) This is in spite of the fact that Penta arguably had the first-in-line lien, making Plaintiff Hall 6 the second-in-line lien and Defendant Ladera the third-in-line lien.<sup>11</sup> 7

20. Third, several places in the Junior Loan Agreement indicate that Defendant Ladera will be 8 granted "a second priority lien on the" Property. (Junior Loan Agreement at 2.) Under an article titled "CONDITIONS PRECEDENT TO LENDING," Defendant Ladera's lien "must be duly perfected and in a second priority lien position subject only to the deed of trust securing" Plaintiff Hall's lien.  $(Id. at 6.)^{12}$

13 21. Fourth, the Intercreditor Agreement states that Defendant Ladera's "Junior Note is 14 secured by (i) that certain second lien Deed of Trust, Security Agreement, Assignment of Rents 15 and Fixture Filing to be recorded in the real property records." (Intercreditor Agreement at 1.) 16 This agreement also included two lists of documents called the "Junior Loan Documents" and the 17 "Senior Loan Documents," and stated that "true, correct and complete copies" of the Senior Loan 18 Documents had been delivered to Ladera and "true, correct and complete copies" of the Senior 19 20 Loan Documents had been delivered to Hall. (Id. at 6.) The documents were not attached to the 21 Intercreditor Agreement; the titles were merely listed. (Id. at Exs. B, C.) 33. Ladera did not immediately withdraw its plan as demanded by Hall. Four days later, on August 14, 2017, Hall filed a complaint against Ladera in Nevada state court, along with an ex parte application for a temporary restraining order (TRO) and motion for preliminary injunction. 34. Two days later the state court granted Hall a TRO on August 16, 2017, ordering Ladera to withdraw its Second Amended Plan and Disclosure Statement and prohibiting Ladera "from supporting and voting for any Bankruptcy plan other than a Bankruptcy plan that Hall approves and deems to be more beneficial to Hall." (HALL013248-54.)

35. On August 22, 2017, Ladera filed a Notice of Removal, removing the state court action to the pending bankruptcy matter as a related adversary case. (HALL013255.)

36. On August 24, 2017, the parties appeared at a hearing in the removed bankruptcy action 18 before the Honorable Gregg W. Zive.

20 37. On August 25, 2017, the bankruptcy judge (Judge Zive) issued an order terminating the 21 TRO, stating that the TRO "is orally dissolved as of the date and time of the August 24 hearing 22 and is of no force or effect on Ladera." (Case 17-05039-gwz, ECF No. 13.)

38. On September 5, 2017, Hall and Ladera filed a stipulation to extend the deadline for Ladera 24 to respond to Hall's complaint. (Case 17-05039-gwz, ECF No. 14.) Hall and Ladera jointly 25 represented that the "extension is requested to allow the Debtor's scheduled plan confirmation 26 hearing set for September 14, 2017, to proceed and to explore a consensual resolution to the 27 28 claims asserted in the Complaint prior to pursuing litigation." 39. On September 28, 2017, Hall filed a notice of voluntary dismissal of its complaint pursuant 1 2 to Fed. R. Civ. P. 41(a)(1)(A)(i) (made applicable to adversary proceedings by Fed. R. Bankr. P. 3 7041). (Case 17-05039-gwz, ECF No. 16.)

40. On December 15, 2017, Hall and other parties filed a Joint Motion to Approve Compromise and Settlement Agreement and Dismissal Under FRCP 7041. (Case 16-51282-gwz, ECF No. 1044.)

41. Hall represented in that pleading that "Ladera has already advised that it will not object to the Plan modification or the sale but has not stated its position as to the settlement agreement that is the subject of this motion." (Id.)

42. Ladera filed a two-page limited response to the joint motion, explaining that Ladera "was excluded from the settlement negotiations," but nevertheless "has not objected to the sale to Lawrence Investments, has not appealed the Court's confirmation order, has not sought a stay of that order and is disappointed that the sale has been delayed." (HALL011619-20.)

43. Ladera explained, "To expedite the sale to Lawrence Investments, Ladera does not intend 16 to oppose the sale and settlement provided that (1) Ladera's title insurer, Old Republic, does not 17 oppose Hall's proposed settlement and does not request or require that Ladera oppose the 18 19 settlement, (2) the terms of the settlement are the same as terms recently emailed to Ladera and 20 set forth on Exhibit 1, and (3) Ladera reserves all its legal rights against Hall, Penta and any other 21 party, including but not limited to any affirmative claims and any claims arising from or relating 22 to Ladera's Intercreditor and Subordination Agreement with Hall." Id.

44. On December 26, 2017, the bankruptcy court granted the joint motion and approved the 24 settlement, overruling Ladera's objection to the dismissal of its claims against Penta with prejudice. 25 (Case 16-51282-gwz, ECF No. 1074.) 26

47. On June 21, 2018, Hall filed its Third Amended Complaint (ECF No. 23). On July 6, 2018, Ladera filed its Answer and Counterclaims (ECF No. 26).

48. The Court denied Hall's motion to dismiss Ladera's counterclaims (ECF No. 29). (ECF 9 No. 41, 8/27/18 Order.) 10

11 49. On November 12, 2018, in response to Ladera's request for production to Hall to 12 "Produce all documents that support your damages in your Complaint," Hall responded, "Hall 13 will interpret 'documents that support your damages' to mean documents that support specific 14 amounts pleaded in the Third Amended Complaint. To the extent that these documents have not 15 already been produced as part of Hall's Rule 26 Pre-Discovery Disclosures, Hall will produce 16 responsive, non-privileged documents supporting the specific monetary damages referenced in 17 the Third Amended Complaint." 52. On June 28, 2021, Hall refiled a single motion for summary judgment (ECF No. 139). On March 29, 2022, the Court entered its first Order granting Hall's request for summary judgment in part and denying it in part. (ECF No. 157). In that Order, the Court found the Intercreditor Agreement to be "valid and enforceable" and granted summary judgment on each contention by Ladera to the contrary. (Id.) The Court further determined that Ladera breached the Intercreditor Agreement. (Id.) In that Order, the Court denied Hall's summary judgment claim for insurance proceeds. (Id.)

53. On July 26, 2022, the Court entered a further Order granting summary judgment in favor of Hall, holding that it is entitled to the proceeds of the insurance policy issued to Ladera pursuant to the Intercreditor Agreement. (ECF No. 171). In that Order, the Court further denied Ladera's motion to reconsider the Court's prior order on summary judgment or for certification for an interlocutory appeal (Id.; see ECF No. 159, 4/12/2022). The Court further ordered this case to proceed to a bench trial on the issue of damages. (ECF No. 171).

54. Hall served supplemental disclosures on Ladera on September 19, 2022 – days after it had sent an initial draft of its pretrial order. (9/19/22 Hall CA-NV, LLC's First Supplemental Disclosures Pursuant to FRCP 26(e).)

19 (4) A statement of the contested issues of fact in the case as agreed on by the parties;

The parties agree that whether Hall is entitled to damages – and the amount of those damages – are contested issues of fact. Ladera contends these are contested issues of law as well.
Furthermore, the parties each maintain there are certain material facts that the other party disputes, as described in the sections below.

(5) A statement of the contested issues of law in the case as agreed upon by the parties;
1. Whether Hall has the legal authority to negotiate directly with Old Republic Title Insurance Company on all claims against the Ladera title insurance policy; and, if not, whether Ladera should be ordered to cooperate with Hall in settlement of such claim with this Court maintaining jurisdiction until such time as the insurance proceeds are settled and disbursed to Hall.

- 2. Whether Hall is precluded from presenting evidence of its alleged damages for failure to provide a computation of each category of damages as required by Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(a)(1)(iii).
  - Whether Hall is precluded from presenting evidence of its alleged damages for failure to 3. disclose or provide, prior to the close of discovery, the documents (including attorney invoices) "on which each computation is based, including materials bearing on the nature and extent of injuries suffered" as required by Fed R. Civ. P. 26(a)(1)(iii).
  - 4. Whether Hall is entitled to collect as damages in this case attorneys' fees incurred in connection with the bankruptcy proceeding and state court lawsuit removed to the bankruptcy court when Hall never moved for attorneys' fees in those actions.

(6) Plaintiff's statement of any other issues of fact or law deemed to be material;

While there are some representations that at least suggest that Penta had not performed 16 any work on the Property, there are other representations to Defendant Ladera explicitly stating 17 that such work occurred. For example, Defendant Ladera is owned and operated by two brothers, 18 19 Jeffrey and James Pickett. On March 28, 2014, six months before closing, James Pickett received 20 an email from Borrower's representative and forwarded that email to Jeffrey Pickett regarding the 21 preconstruction work, stating, "What they spent the 3m on attached." (ECF No. 139 Ex. 10) 22 ("March 28 Email").) Attached to the email, was a spreadsheet detailing the preconstruction work 23 that was completed, including that Borrower still owed Penta $133,370. They discussed the possibility of extending the 16 mezzanine loan to Borrower. (Id. at LAD004398-99.) A. I do not recall.

Q. Okay. So you could have been told that, and you just don't remember?A. Correct.

(James Pickett Depo at 149–50.) Likewise, for example, Jeffrey Pickett testified that he could not "Preconstruction Services Agreement" between Penta and Borrower. (Jeffrey Pickett Depo at 118.)<sup>19</sup>

In early 2016, Borrower fell behind on its financial obligations, and Plaintiff Hall declared default. Shortly after this default, Penta filed suit against Plaintiff Hall in Nevada state court, claiming that it had a mechanics' lien with priority over Plaintiff Hall's deed of trust. While this case between Penta and Plaintiff Hall was in the discovery phase, Borrower filed for Chapter 11 Bankruptcy on July 28, 2016. The bankruptcy court merged the state court case with the ongoing bankruptcy proceeding. The court then established a $15,000,000 "Lien Litigation Reserve" to

A ("Ladera Bankruptcy Plan"); Jeff Pickett Depo at 283:2–284:8). 4 Both Plaintiff Hall and Defendant Ladera also litigated together against Penta arguing the 5 mechanics' lien was junior to the deeds of trust. (See, e.g., ECF No. 140 Ex. H ("Motion for 6 Settlement") at 10 of 31 ("While Hall continues to contest the priority of the liens of PENTA and 7 the Penta Subcontractors and other subcontractors, Hall recognizes that there is significant risk 8 that PENTA will prevail in the priority phase.").)<sup>20</sup> 327 CALIFORNIA AVENUE ~ RENO, NEVADA 89509 9 10 In the bankruptcy case, Defendant Ladera filed the following disclosure statements and 11 plans: 12 (i) Ladera Development, LLC's Plan of Reorganization for Cal Neva Lodge, LLC and New Cal-Neva Lodge, LLC Dated March 21, 2017 [Bank. 16 not paying Plaintiff Hall in full, (ii) explicitly stated that it was a cram down plan, and (iii) sought 17 to limit Defendant Ladera's liability to Plaintiff Hall under the Intercreditor Agreement. As a result 18 19 of Defendant Ladera's wrongful acts, Plaintiff Hall was required to retain counsel and file a suit in 20 the County of Washoe to enforce its rights. In Hall CA-NV, LLC v. Ladera Development, LLC, 21 Case No. CV-17-01526 in the Second Judicial District Court of the State of Nevada, Hall sought 22 and obtained an injunction from the Nevada state court against Ladera whereupon Ladera 23 withdrew its plan. Hall was damaged by the cost of the legal fees it incurred to obtain the 24 withdrawal of the wrongfully filed plan. 25

Penta, Plaintiff Hall, Defendant Ladera, and various subcontractors entered into negotiations on the best way to split the $15,000,000 pot. But shortly into these negotiations, the parties were able to exclude Defendant Ladera from participating based upon the Intercreditor 119135131.1 -20-

Agreement. The remaining parties to the negotiations agreed to a split of the money divvied up 1 2 between Plaintiff Hall and the various contractors, and they moved the bankruptcy court for 3 approval of the settlement. In the Motion for Settlement, Plaintiff Hall represented that it would 4 "exercise its rights under the Intercreditor Agreement with Ladera to insure Ladera's nonobjection 5 to the motion to approve this Agreement and the Motion to Dismiss, including but not limited to 6 taking any action to enforce the Intercreditor Agreement, in the event Ladera breaches the terms 7 of the Intercreditor Agreement." (Id. at 17 of 31.) Defendant Ladera did not contest the validity 8 and enforceability of the Intercreditor Agreement at that time or at all during the bankruptcy 9 proceedings. The bankruptcy court approved the proposed settlement.<sup>21</sup> 10

Defendant Ladera did however file its Limited Response to Joint Motion to Approve Compromise and Settlement Agreement and Dismissal Under FRCP 7041 [Bank. Dkt. No. 1068], which was an objection to the Motion for Settlement and ultimately overruled.

The Intercreditor Agreement between the parties is a valid and enforceable contract.<sup>22</sup> The 15 Intercreditor Agreement imposed a number of restrictions on Defendant Ladera from interfering 16 with Plaintiff Hall in the collection of its debt with Borrower. Despite these obligations, it is not 17 contested that Defendant Ladera submitted a proposed plan in the bankruptcy proceeding that 18 19 would have allowed for Defendant Ladera to receive some of the funds that would have otherwise 20 gone to satisfy Plaintiff Hall's debt. This proposal by Defendant Ladera, as well as this instant 21 proceeding in which Defendant Ladera contests the Intercreditor Agreement's validity, violate 22 Defendant Ladera's following duties: (1) to not interfere in any manner with Plaintiff's ability to 23 collect its debt from Borrower, (Intercreditor Agreement at 4), (2) to not "contest the validity, 24 perfection, priority or enforceability" of Plaintiff Hall's senior debt, (id. at 5), (3) to not "bringing 25 26 or consenting to any Insolvency Proceeding unless Senior Lender also joins therein or consents thereto in writing," (id. at 11), and (4) to not "contest the legality, validity or enforceability of" the Intercreditor Agreement. Defendant Ladera does not dispute that these actions constitute violations of the Intercreditor Agreement.<sup>23</sup> Therefore, Defendant Ladera is liable for breach of contract for contesting Plaintiff Hall's superior loan status in the Bankruptcy Court<sup>24</sup> – resulting in the state court injunction lawsuit by Plaintiff Hall – for contesting the Intercreditor Agreement through this instant lawsuit.

The Ladera Insurance Policy is undoubtedly a payment "made on account of the Junior 9 Debt or otherwise to or for the benefit of the holder of Junior Debt," so it cannot be paid towards 10 11 Defendant Ladera as the Junior Debt holder but must rather be paid towards Plaintiff Hall as the 12 Senior Debt holder.<sup>25</sup> Plaintiff Hall is entitled to the insurance proceeds because as of September 13 9, 2019, Plaintiff Hall was still owed $8,610,279.02 based on the Construction Loan Agreement 14 with the Borrower, with interest continuing to accrue. The $8,610,279.02 owed pursuant to the 15 Construction Loan Agreement with the Borrower is not the amount of damages being sought in 16 this litigation. The damages being sought by Hall are the maximum amount of Ladera's Insurance 17 Policy which could be applied toward the $8,610,279.02 outstanding debt plus Hall's attorney's 18 19 fees and costs.

Plaintiff Hall was forced by the actions of Defendant Ladera to hire legal counsel originally of Fahrendorf, Viloria, Oliphant & Oster, LLP and Coats Rose to represent it in the bankruptcy, and subsequently the state court case, and this instant lawsuit. Such counsel from the former law firm continued in representation through the successor firm of Viloria, Oliphant, Oster & Aman,

In accordance this Court's prior ruling that Defendant Ladera breached the Intercreditor Agreement by this lawsuit<sup>26</sup> and with the subsequent Order that, "[t]his Court has held that Plaintiff Hall has successfully shown Defendant Ladera is liable for breach of contract for contesting Plaintiff's Hall's superior loan status in the Bankruptcy Court."<sup>27</sup> "Plaintiff Hall's damages for this breach remain unresolved" and "as these damages are 'an element of damages under a contract,' they need to go to trail even though the damages are for attorney fees and litigation costs."<sup>28</sup> On such basis, this Court ordered this case to "proceed to a bench trial on the issue of damages."<sup>29</sup> Plaintiff Hall seeks recovery of attorneys' fees and expenses both as elements of damages and as the prevailing party in this action under the orders of this Court existing.

Where an award is contemplated for fee-shifting to a prevailing party under contract, Texas employs a lodestar method – first, determining the reasonable hours spent by counsel in the case and a reasonable hourly rate for such work and multiplying the number of such hours by the applicable rate to generate a base fee or lodestar, and second, making adjustments up or down if relevant factors indicate an adjustment is necessary to reach a reasonable fee in the case. See Rohrmoos Venture v. UTSW DVA Healthcare, LLP, 578 S.W.3d 469, 494 (Tex. 2019) (quoting El Apple I, Ltd. v. Olivas, 370 S.W.3d 757 (Tex. 2012)).

In this instant lawsuit on June 15, 2018, Plaintiff Hall served its Plaintiff's Rule 26(a) Pre- Discovery Disclosure of Witnesses and Documents on Defendant Ladera therein identifying testify on the matters required by and in support of the lodestar calculation. Mr. Wright was also 1 2 disclosed as an expert witness and the parties entered into a stipulation that avoided the need for 3 his deposition by agreeing that his testimony would be limited to the issue of attorneys' fees. Both 4 Mr. Wright and Mr. Aman can testify as to the nature of the work performed, the novelty and 5 difficulty of the legal questions involved, the skill required to perform the legal services properly, 6 who performed such legal services, their respective rates, the fee customarily charged in the 7 localities for similar legal services, approximately when the services were performed, the number 8 of hours actually worked, and the experience, reputation, and ability of the lawyers involved. In 9 10 support of such testimony, on September 19, 2022, Plaintiff Hall disclosed in its First 11 Supplemental Disclosures Pursuant to FRCP 26(e) to Defendant Ladera the legal invoices that 12 Plaintiff Hall incurred in these cases and seeks to recover upon. The majority of legal invoices are 13 from the current litigation and thereby could not be produced during the discovery period, and 14 the bankruptcy invoices were redacted for privilege and to include narrowly tailored invoices 15 related to Ladera's filing of its plan in the bankruptcy action. The invoices merely support the 16 testimony to be provided by Mr. Wright and Mr. Aman as to attorney's fees and costs incurred in 17 this litigation and limited entries from the bankruptcy action. Mr. Wright and Mr. Aman are the 18 19 persons most knowledgeable about the necessity and reasonableness of Plaintiff Hall's legal 20 actions during the bankruptcy and state court proceedings, as they were counsel of record in those 21 cases. Defendant Ladera suffers no prejudice from Plaintiff Hall's reliance on these invoices in 22 support of Mr. Wright and Mr. Aman's testimony.

Plaintiff Hall seeks damages of no less than $1,503,801.15 of attorneys' fees and expenses incurred by it in the bankruptcy case, state court case, and this instant lawsuit through August 31, 2022; additional legal fees and expenses continue to be incurred by Plaintiff Hall in pursuit of this instant lawsuit, which Plaintiff Hall intends to add to this claim up to the time of trial. Plaintiff Hall contests the purported facts and positions laid out by Defendant Ladera hereinbelow.

(7) Defendant's statement of any other issues of fact or law deemed to be material;

6 Ladera Did Not Know Penta Had Performed Pre-Construction Work, But Hall Did

7 Ladera contests the purported facts and positions laid out by Hall above. In particular, 18 Ladera reiterates the points in its prior briefing (see ECF Nos. 145, 159, 162, 170-1) that Ladera 19 relied on the express contractual representations that no prior work of any kind had been 20performed on the property – representations that Hall included but knew were false. Neither 21 fencing (which Jeff Pickett testified he believed was security fencing) nor anything in the 22 spreadsheet Hall references put Ladera on notice that Penta had performed pre-loan construction 23 work that would result in a priority lien. The spreadsheet listed the construction work allegedly 24 25 giving rise to Penta's lien in a completely different section than the single line item for "Penta-Pre-26 Construction" under "Design, Engineering and Permitting." (ECF No. 139-11.) The costs for 27 the construction work did not match the figure for "Penta-Pre-Construction," and witness 28

1 testimony confirmed there was nothing on the spreadsheet itself that would have alerted Ladera
2 to the fact that Penta had performed any of the lien-causing construction work at issue. (ECF
3 No. 145-1, Brandyn Iverson Depo at 140:22-141:16.)

Ladera maintains that the contractual language itself relieved Ladera of any duty to independently investigate the representations being made to Ladera – and that Ladera justifiably relied on the false representations to its detriment.

Ladera Was Entitled to Defend Its Interests in the Bankruptcy Proceedings, and Hall Is Not Entitled to Attorneys' Fees Stemming from Those Proceedings

10 Ladera contends that it was entitled to have representation and defend its interests in the 11 bankruptcy proceedings. As this Court already acknowledged, "You cannot assert a damage for 12 somebody standing up and appearing on their own behalf." (June 6, 2022 Hr'g Tr. at 29-30; see 13 also id. at 21-22 ("They [Ladera] had every right to defend their position in the bankruptcy court. 14 For various reasons, they got excluded.... I'm certainly not going to give you all of your fees every 15 time you had to stand up and oppose them. They had the right to appear. Even if you had their 16 mandatory consent to your resolution of settlement, they certainly had the right to stand up 17 without incurring damage fees to you. There's a causation issue, right? MR. WRIGHT [Hall's 18 19 counsel]: I would agree with that. Right.").)

20Ladera contends that Hall's state court action against Ladera that Ladera removed to the 21 bankruptcy court as a related adversary proceeding was totally unnecessary. Ladera was 22 cooperating with Hall and indicated its willingness to further revise the plan it was proposing if 23 Hall deemed that necessary. But instead of working with Ladera, Hall turned around and filed a 24 state court lawsuit against Ladera. Hall sought and obtained an ex parte temporary restraining order 25 against Ladera, only to have the federal bankruptcy judge dissolve the TRO. Hall ended up 26 voluntarily withdrawing its complaint against Ladera. It should not now be able to collect 27 28 attorneys' fees for its aggressive actions that were completely unnecessary.

Case 3:18-cv-00124-RCJ-CSD Document 181 Filed 11/28/22 Page 27 of 39

Moreover, had Hall wanted to collect its attorneys' fees from Ladera for its state court action that became a related adversarial proceeding, it should have filed a motion for attorneys' fees in that action. See Fed. R. Bankr. P. 7054 (incorporating Fed. R. Civ. P. 54(d)(2)(A)-(C) in adversary proceedings); Fed. R. Civ. P. 54(d)(2)(A) ("A claim for attorney's fees and related nontaxable expenses must be made by motion unless the substantive law requires those fees to be proved at trial as an element of damages.").

The Intercreditor Agreement provides:

If any lawsuit, reference, arbitration or, other proceeding is commenced which arises out of, or which relates to this Agreement, including any alleged tort action, the prevailing party shall be entitled to recover from each other party such sums as the court or other party presiding over such action or proceeding may adjudge to be reasonable attorneys' fees and costs in the action or proceeding, including the allocated costs for services of in-house counsel, in addition to costs and expenses otherwise allowed by law. Any such attorneys' fees and costs incurred by any party in enforcing a judgment in its favor under this Agreement shall be recoverable separately from and in addition to any other amount included in such judgment and shall survive and not be merged into any such judgment. The obligation to pay such attorneys' fees and costs is intended to be severable from the other provisions of this Agreement.

(Intercreditor Agreement § 18 (emphasis added).) Judge Zive was familiar with the parties and 16 their arguments, and he was in the best position to determine if Ladera should be responsible for 17 Hall's attorneys' fees. Since the bankruptcy court was the court "presiding over such action or 18 proceeding," it was that court which had to determine what attorneys' fees were reasonable. Of 19 20 course, Hall voluntarily dismissed its complaint against Ladera, so it was not a prevailing party 21 entitled to attorneys' fees. See Makekau v. State, 943 F.3d 1200, 1205 (9th Cir. 2019) ("a voluntary 22 dismissal without prejudice ... [is] 'the opposite' of an adjudication on the merits" and thus 23 "Plaintiffs are not prevailing parties" entitled to attorneys' fees). Hall should not now be able to 24 try to collect the attorneys' fees it could have, and should have, moved for in the bankruptcy 25 proceedings.

Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(a) mandates that "a party must, without awaiting a discovery request, provide to the other parties... (iii) a computation of each category of damages claimed by the disclosing party – who must also make available for inspection and copying as under Rule 34 the documents or other evidentiary material, unless privileged or protected from disclosure, on which each computation is based, including materials bearing on the nature and extent of injuries suffered[.]" Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(a). Hall never did so.

Hall first disclosed the documents in intends to rely on at trial with its First Supplemental 8 Disclosures dated September 19, 2022 – nearly two years after discovery closed and nearly four 9 10 years after it stated it would produce all documents supporting its damages. Hall should have had 11 all the relevant attorneys' fees invoices related to the bankruptcy proceedings in its possession well 12 before it filed this current action in March 2018. Yet Hall did not provide any of these invoices 13 during discovery. And Hall still has not provided a computation of each category of damages. 14 "While a party may not have all of the information necessary to provide a computation of damages 15 early in the case, it has a duty to diligently obtain the necessary information and prepare and 16 provide its damages computation within the discovery period." Jackson v. United Artists Theatre Cir., 17 Inc., 278 F.R.D. 586, 593 (D. Nev. 2011). "The plaintiff cannot shift to the defendant the burden 18 19 of attempting to determine the amount of the plaintiff's alleged damages." Id.

Ladera still is uncertain if Hall is claiming the total amount of attorneys' fees from the invoice entries it provided to Ladera after the parties exchanged drafts of the pretrial order. For example, in the bankruptcy-related attorneys' fees invoices Hall recently disclosed to Ladera, there are mixed entries such as "Review Plans filed by Debtor and Ladera." (E.g., HALL013289.) Ladera should not be forced to pay Halls' attorneys' fees for reviewing plans filed by other parties. But Hall has not proposed any way to divide the time and fees related to such entries.

Hall still has not provided a computation of what it is purportedly owed under the Senior Loan. To the extent Hall is entitled to any of Ladera's title insurance proceeds, those proceeds can only be used to make Hall whole with regard to the Senior Loan (not to pay Hall's attorneys' 1 2 fees related to Ladera). But Hall has not provided such a computation or supporting documents. 3 30

Because Hall has failed to comply with its basic disclosure obligations under Fed. R. Civ. P. 26, evidence of its damages should be excluded under Fed. R. Civ. P. 37(c). See Hoffman v. Constr. Protective Servs., Inc., 541 F.3d 1175, 1180 (9th Cir. 2008) (affirming preclusion of undisclosed evidence of damages and explaining that "Rule 37(c)(1) gives teeth to these [disclosure] requirements by forbidding the use at trial of any information required to be disclosed by Rule 26(a) that is not properly disclosed," even "when a litigant's entire cause of action ... [will be] precluded") (quotation marks and citations omitted).

Attorneys' Fees in this Case Are Premature and Contrary to Fed. R. Civ. P. 54(d)(2)(A)

Hall has recently disclosed certain attorneys' fees invoices for the current litigation. But this case is not over, and it is premature to consider what amount of attorneys' fees (if any) Hall is entitled to in this case. This Court has not yet entered a final judgment or judicially determined that Hall is the prevailing party.

Moreover, Hall trying to present evidence of its attorneys' fees incurred in this case at trial 18 is contrary to Fed. R. Civ. P. 54(d)(2)(A), which provides that a "claim for attorney's fees and 19 20 related nontaxable expenses must be made by motion unless the substantive law requires those 21 fees to be proved at trial as an element of damages." Fed. R. Civ. P. 54(d)(2)(A) (emphasis added). 22 The Intercreditor Agreement provides for attorneys' fees for this case only if Hall is determined 23

- $^{30}$  On the afternoon of October 11, 2022 the day this pretrial order was due Hall sent, for the first time, a 25 "summary" of its legal invoices with purported totals it was seeking in attorneys' fees. However, there is no explanation of how these amounts were computed or whether they include ALL entries from this case and the 26 bankruptcy invoice entries provided (even though several of the entries include time directed at other parties' filings and/or unsuccessful tasks). After numerous exchanges of the draft pretrial order, Hall also inserted – for the first 27 time in the draft of the pretrial order sent to Ladera's counsel at 4:30pm on October 11, 2022 – the specific amount of $8,610,279.02 that it claimed it is still due on the loan. However, Hall has not provided any computation or 28 explanation of how it came up with this amount, much less documentation to substantiate it.

to be the prevailing party – and only those amounts that this Court adjudges to be reasonable.
Moreover, Hall must "state the amount sought or provide a fair estimate of it," Fed. R. Civ. P.
54(d)(2)(B)(iii) – which Hall has not yet done. If and when Hall moves for attorneys' fees in this case, Ladera must be provided with an opportunity to respond on the merits and point out the numerous time entries that are duplicative, excessive, and otherwise unreasonable.

If Any Attorneys' Fees Are Allowed, Ladera Should Have an Opportunity to Brief the Unreasonableness of Specific Entries

Hall should not be permitted to recover attorneys' fees related to the bankruptcy proceedings for the reasons described above – (1) Hall did not move for attorney's fees in the bankruptcy action, and (2) Hall did not disclose prior to discovery either a computation of its alleged damages or the invoices on which those damages are allegedly based. And for the reasons described above, any claimed attorneys' fees for the current action are premature.

The untimely disclosure of the invoices on which Hall relies has greatly prejudiced Ladera.
If Hall had timely disclosed the bankruptcy-related invoices, for example, Ladera could have questioned witnesses about the necessity and reasonableness of the parties' actions during the bankruptcy proceedings.

However, if this Court does allow evidence of Hall's attorneys' fees – related to the bankruptcy proceedings or the current action – Ladera requests the opportunity to submit briefing to substantively challenge specific entries. Throughout the bankruptcy-related invoices and the invoices for the current action, there are numerous entries for tasks and fees that Hall should not be permitted to recover from Ladera. For example (and this is just a small sampling):

• There are numerous entries in the bankruptcy invoices for mixed tasks, such as "Review and revise objections to Penta and Ladera Plans" or "Revise and edit the draft disclosure

-30-

28

statement<sup>31</sup> objection and the motion to shorten discovery deadlines and discuss same; review draft subpoenas and discuss proposed disclosure statement discovery; review various additional pleadings including the Ladera omnibus reply and discuss same." (HALL013317-19.) Obviously, fees for reviewing other parties' filings or working on tasks unrelated to Ladera should not be charged to Ladera.

- There are several duplicative tasks in both the bankruptcy invoices and the invoices for the current action, including multiple attorneys billing for the same task or conference. Hall may have chosen to pay for such duplicative billing, but it is unreasonable to charge such amounts to Ladera.
- There are several unreasonable and excessive entries and rates, including attorneys billing $700 per hour and attorneys billing for travel time. (E.g., HALL013319 (Frank Wright charging for 7 hours of "Travel to Reno, NV for hearings on July 25, 2017").) Not only should Ladera should not be responsible for travel time this is not attorney work; but also Mr. Wright would have had to travel for bankruptcy hearings involving other parties and their disclosure statement hearings regardless of what Ladera did or did not file. This is an example of the "causation" issues previously noted by this Court. Ladera did not cause Hall to incur these fees, and Hall should not be able to recover such fees as claimed damages against Ladera.
- There are numerous entries for multiple attorneys getting up to speed on the case, reviewing background materials, or reviewing the Intercreditor Agreement. Ladera should not be charged with such repetitive and duplicitous fees.

<sup>31</sup> It is unclear whose draft disclosure statement is at issue, but from the surrounding entries, it seems probable that it 28 lis Penta's disclosure statement.
