Lisa--- I am sorry we didn't get a chance to meet at the hearing on the 26th. Thank you for contacting the court regarding the recent denial of leadership motions. I have supported the efforts of the Wexler group as lead counsel in that I believe them to be the most qualified. However, with no leadership structure I do not see how mediation can take place without every plaintiffs attorney being invited, participating and ultimately agreeing to any resolution that might be reached. So far some mediation attendees for plaintiffs seem to be participating by demand and default and are not there on behalf of my clients. We did not file a motion for lead counsel because it was our desire to help bring this matter to a rapid efficient organizational structure. It now appears in order to represent our clients we must all file a motion and demand participation in all communications. It is not my firms style or desire to play the role of the "squeaky wheel." However, my group represents numerous clients in nine different states. Without an acceptable leadership structure my clients have no voice in these important proceedings. Thank you for your efforts . Any help you can lend is greatly appreciated. Best regards,
Jim Wyly
