

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF NEW MEXICO

STC.UNM,

Plaintiff,

v.

INTEL CORPORATION,

Defendant.

No. 10-CV-01077-RB-WDS

NOTICE OF STIPULATION REGARDING INTEL'S MOTION TO AMEND THE INTERIM PROTECTIVE ORDER (Doc. 67)

The Court's May 31, 2011 Order denied STC's motion to compel discovery regarding Intel's research and development for 14 nm and 10 nm process technology (Doc. 99), and the time for appealing that order has expired. In light of the Court's May 31 Order, the parties stipulate that the second issue included in Intel's Motion to Amend the Interim Protective Order (Doc. 67) concerning an extension of the prosecution bar is now moot and the Court need not resolve that issue.

The only aspect of Intel's motion (Doc. 67) left for the Court to decide is the first issue concerning the manner and location of storage for authorized copies of documents produced under paragraph 9 of the existing protective order.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Steven R. Pedersen
