Re: Index No. CV 08 3367

Vadim Mikhlyn, et al. v. Ana Bove, et al.

Dear Judge Reyes:

We are pro se Defendants in this litigation (Ana Bove and Polina Dolginov).

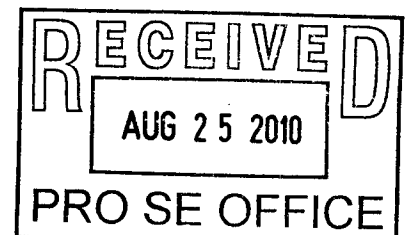

Your Honor, yesterday we have received Plaintiffs' letter motion to Your Honor, requesting to provide Plaintiffs with additional time to respond to our replies regarding their earlier motions, and also more time for their responses to our motions.

We are writing to Your Honor to oppose Plaintiffs' request dated August 24, 2010, which is asking for additional time to oppose/respond to all our motions.

As we understand, our motion [134] to receive a 20 day extension in order to find a corporate attorney, was interpreted as a request to extend deadlines for all our document submissions. This was not our intention. We actually submitted all documents on time, based on the original schedule set by Your Honor. The delay in receipt of our submissions by the Plaintiffs was due to our pro se status, and our lack of access to ECF.

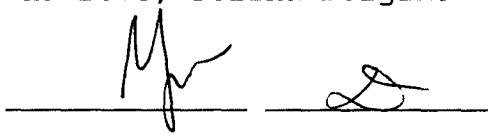

We hope that this confusion will not lead to an additional two weeks extension (from 9/3/10 to 9/17/10) for the plaintiffs to respond to our motions, and to respond to our response to their motion. We are certain that experienced attorneys, such as the ones representing the Plaintiffs', should be able to respond on time, according to the original schedule put in place by Your Honor.

We hope that Your Honor can review the decision from 8/23/2010 to extend the Plaintiffs' response deadlines by two weeks, in light of the above mentioned. Since the Plaintiffs received our submission only a few days later than the originally scheduled time (Monday, 8/23 instead of Friday, 8/20), an inevitable delay due to not being able to submit via ECF, we think it would be fair to extend the Plaintiffs' original response deadline from 9/3/2010 to 9/7/2010.

Respectfully submitted,
Ana Bove, Polina Dolginov
