Dear Bernice Poer!

The email you've replied was ours. Were you telling us about this one or some other?

We never ask and never will ask for any payments for subscription. (Even it is a very good idea :))

There are some bad things going on around our company. We are doing our best to keep our business running and to keep our customers worry free.

We'd appreciate if you could forward us the email you were telling us about.

Thank you.

ABC Team

Hi! I received an e-mail saying that my subscription was transferred to another site? And they want me to pay to continue my subscription. Is this correct? I was concerned because spelling and verbal context was not correct. Spam or not?

Thanks,
Berenice

I received this email today regarding your new web site, is this you? or not?

Thank you.

Dear friends!

It's Anna Bove, and I'm glad to be with you again.

You might have noticed that I didn't release new designs for quite a long time, due to some serious events which will be mentioned in more detail below.

Finally, I've prepared 3 new design sets - all of them are antique style fonts. These new fonts are listed on our completely new website that was just launched. You may see the latest fonts here:

<http://www.annaboveembroidery.com/what39s-n39.html>

All of the 3 alphabets are complete initial fonts, decorated with flowers. One is in famous Jacobean style, the second one is an elegant and jolly font with summer flowers, and the third set of letters is adorned with wild Violets. Hope you will like them :o)

To celebrate the launch of this new site, we've decided to hold a short 30% OFF sale on all floral designs & floral fonts. It's summer, the best time for flowers, so be sure to benefit from this offer. To browse all "ON Sale" designs here, visit this page:

<http://www.annaboveembroidery.com/now-on-sale.html>

Now to the more serious matters. This new site launch, as well as the large break with new designs, is due to some of my ex staff attempting to take illegal control of my websites and business. As a result, the old sites have been under their full control for several months.
