JOHN GLEESON, United States District Judge:

MEMORANDUM AND ORDER

12-CV-6327 (JG) (LB)

On December 27, 2012, plaintiff Roody Thomas, then incarcerated at the Mid-Hudson Forensic Psychiatric Center, commenced this pro se action pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983. Thomas sought damages on account of physical abuse, mental pain and anguish and emotional distress caused by an alleged assault by a number of correction officers. Compl. 4, ECF No. 1. On February 4, 2013, I dismissed his claims against the New York Police Department (“NYPD”) and the Department of Correction (“DOC”). However, I directed him to file an amended complaint within 30 days elaborating on his allegations against individual corrections officers.

Thomas filed an amended complaint on March 25, 2013.¹ In it, he alleges that the alleged assault indeed took place in 2008. He further alleges that “Captain Williams badge # 820 and several other officers assault[ed] him on over five different occasions” in 2008. Am. Compl. 4, ECF No. 9. Since the statute of limitations for claims arising under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 is three years, this claim is likely time-barred absent equitable tolling.

The Second Circuit has indicated that mental incapacity may be relevant to the equitable tolling inquiry. See Harper v. Ercole, 648 F.3d 132, 137 (2d Cir. 2011) (recognizing that medical conditions, whether physical or psychiatric, can manifest extraordinary circumstances meriting equitable tolling). Thomas's original complaint presents facts that suggest that mental incapacity may be a factor in this case. At the time he filed the original complaint, Thomas was confined at the Mid-Hudson Forensic Psychiatric Center. See Compl. 2, ECF No. 1. The Mid-Hudson Forensic Psychiatric Center provides services to patients admitted by court order "consequent to judicial findings of 'incompetent to stand trial' or 'not responsible by reason of mental disease or defect.'" Office of Mental Health <http://www.omh.ny.gov/omhweb/facilities/mhpc/facility.htm> (last visited April 1, 2013).

Accordingly, Thomas's application to proceed in forma pauperis under 28 U.S.C. § 1915 is granted. Insofar as he seeks relief against Captain Williams, Badge #820, and other unidentified individuals employed by the New York City Department of Correction on Rikers Island, the Court allows those claims to proceed. The Clerk of Court shall prepare a summons against defendant Captain Williams, Badge #820, and the United States Marshals Service shall serve the summons, complaint, amended complaint and a copy of this order upon this defendant without prepayment of fees. A courtesy copy of the same papers shall be mailed to the Corporation Counsel for the City of New York, Special Federal Litigation Division.

However, plaintiff has not identified the other individual defendants consisting of Officers John Doe 1-5, employed by the New York City Department of Correction on Rikers Island in 2008. The United States Marshals Service will not be able to serve the John Doe defendants without further identifying information. In Valentin v. Dinkins, 121 F.3d 72 (2d Cir. 1997) (per curiam), the Second Circuit made clear that a pro se litigant is entitled to assistance from the district court in identifying a defendant. I leave that task to the magistrate judge assigned to the case.

So ordered.

John Gleeson, U.S.D.J.
