Travel Alert!

Air travel alerts issued by the U.S. Department of Homeland Security and Transport Canada have changed screening procedures at airports in North America and the United Kingdom. If you are traveling in these regions, the changes listed below will affect you.

We always recommend checking the TSA Web site (www.tsa.gov) or Transport Canada Web site (www.tc.gc.ca) for the most up-to-date information about changing security procedures and prohibited items.

Travel in North America:

- The TSA has adjusted its ban on liquids, aerosols, and gels, so you can now carry the following items on board your flight:
  - Travel-size toiletries (3 ounces or less) that fit comfortably in one quart-size, clear plastic zip-top bag.
  - Beverages and other items purchased in the secure boarding area.

At the security checkpoint you will be asked to remove the zip-top bag of liquids and place it in a bin or on the conveyor belt, making it easier for TSA security officers to examine these items.

Passengers carrying on larger amounts of prescription liquid medications, baby formula, and diabetic glucose treatments will also be required to declare these at the security checkpoint for additional screening.

This new security policy applies to all domestic and international flights departing from U.S. airports. If your plans include travel originating at a non-U.S. airport, be sure to check that airport's security policies and pack accordingly.

- Schedule changes may occur. Travelers should check online or call the airlines before heading to the airport.
- Travelers are advised to travel light.
- Travelers are advised to arrive at the airport 3 hours ahead of their departure time due to significant delays caused by new security procedures.

Travel within and from the United Kingdom:

- If you are traveling within the UK, or if you are departing the UK for another international destination, you must check ALL of your belongings. Wallets, IDs, and necessary medications are exceptions; these essential items must be carried in a plastic bag (clear bags are recommended).
- Electronic items are not permitted on board any aircraft. Electronic items include laptops, mobile phones, and iPods.

Complete your travel plans!
