(The proposed date for the commencement of trial must be within 18 months of the filing date.)

6) HAVE THE PARTIES FILED A JURY DEMAND: X (YES) / (NO).

7) DOES THE COURT HAVE SUBJECT MATTER JURISDICTION? ARE THE PARTIES SUBJECT TO THE COURT’S JURISDICTION? HAVE ALL PARTIES BEEN SERVED?

The Court has subject matter jurisdiction over Plaintiff’s claims arising under the laws of the United States pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1331 and subject matter jurisdiction over Plaintiffs’ state law claims pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1367. All of the parties are subject to the Court’s in personum jurisdiction. All Defendants waived service by completing and signing waiver of service forms.

8) WHAT ARE THE FACTUAL AND LEGAL BASES FOR PLAINTIFF’S CLAIMS AND DEFENDANT’S DEFENSES (INCLUDE COUNTERCLAIMS & CROSSCLAIMS, IF APPLICABLE)?

Plaintiffs are residents of the Town of Morristown, New York and are practitioners of the Old Order Amish faith. Plaintiffs have resided in St. Lawrence County for decades without incident or issue. Although Plaintiffs’ religious practice and way of life has not changed, Morristown Town officials began issuing citations to Plaintiffs for alleged violations of the New York State Building and Fire Code (the “Building Code”), as well as other related local laws, starting in 2006. All attempts to obtain exemptions based on religious practice have failed.

Plaintiffs’ claims are based on the First and Fourteenth Amendments of the United States Constitution, Article I, Sections 3 and 11, of the New York State Constitution, the Fair Housing Act; 42 U.S.C. § 3601 et seq., and the Religious Land Use and Institutionalized Persons Act of 2000, 42 U.S.C. § 2000cc et seq.

Defendants disagree with Plaintiffs’ position. Defendants have advanced the following defenses on behalf of the Town: 1) Plaintiffs’ claims are barred in whole or in part by their failure to satisfy conditions precedent to commencing the instant action pursuant to New York Town Law; 2) the Town has not deprived Plaintiffs of any rights, privileges or immunities secured under the Constitution or Laws of the United States; 3) Plaintiffs free exercise rights were not substantially burdened; 4) any state action taken by the Town was legitimate and justified by compelling governmental interest and/or the least restrictive means of furthering that compelling governmental interest; 5) the Town did not engage in any actions towards Plaintiffs that were the by product of a discriminatory intent; and 6) any damages suffered by Plaintiffs were caused in whole or in part by Plaintiffs’ culpable conduct and/or failure to mitigate damages.

9) WHAT FACTUAL AND LEGAL ISSUES ARE GENUINELY IN DISPUTE?

Issues identified in the complaint and answer, including without limitation:

Whether Defendants have enforced the Building Code, and related local laws, in violation of the First and Fourteenth Amendments of the United States Constitution.

Whether Defendants have enforced the Building Code, and related local laws, in violation of Article I, Sections 3 and 11, of the New York State Constitution.

Whether Defendants have enforced the Building Code, and related local laws, in violation of the Fair Housing Act; 42 U.S.C. § 3601 et seq.

Whether Defendants have enforced the Building Code, and related local laws, in violation of the Religious Land Use and Institutionalized Persons Act of 2000, 42 U.S.C. § 2000cc et seq.

Whether Defendants violated Plaintiffs' constitutional rights by refusing to grant Plaintiffs exemptions to certain provisions of the Building Code, as well as related local laws, based on their religious practices.

Whether the Town of Morristown has a compelling interest in strictly enforcing certain provisions of the Building Code and related local laws against the Plaintiffs, and whether it has used the least restrictive means available to further any that interest.

Whether Defendants have selectively and/or discriminatorily enforced the Building Code, and related local laws, against members of Plaintiffs' religious group.

According to the Defendants, the following legal issues are genuinely in dispute and must be further developed throughout discovery:

What are the sincerely held religious beliefs of the Swartzentruber Amish faith?

The extent to which Plaintiffs' alleged religious beliefs are implicated by Local Law #4 and the Building Code?

The extent to which Plaintiffs' alleged religious beliefs have changed?

Whether the enactment and enforcement of Local Law #4 and the Building Code interferes with Plaintiffs' sincerely held religious beliefs.

Whether the enforcement of Local Law #4 and the Building Code substantially burdens Plaintiffs' free exercise of religion.

What are Plaintiffs' alleged damages, if any.

10) CAN THE ISSUES IN LITIGATION BE NARROWED BY AGREEMENT OR BY MOTIONS? ARE THERE DISPOSITIVE OR PARTIALLY DISPOSITIVE ISSUES APPROPRIATE FOR DECISION ON MOTION?

At this time, the parties are unaware of anything responsive to this question

11) WHAT SPECIFIC RELIEF DO THE PARTIES SEEK? WHAT ARE THE DAMAGES SOUGHT?

Plaintiffs seek a permanent injunction enjoining the Defendants: 1) to issue building permits to Plaintiffs; 2) from enforcing the Town of Morristown's Local Law # 4, the Building Code, or other laws, in a manner than substantially burdens the Plaintiffs' religious beliefs without a compelling government interest or by any means other than the least restrictive means to further such an interest; 3) from enforcing Local Law # 4, the Building Code, or other laws, in a discriminatory, selective or otherwise non-neutral manner against Plaintiffs or any other members of their distinctive religious, ethnic and linguistic minority group; and 4) from imposing any other penalty on Plaintiffs for the exercise of their constitutionally and statutorily protected rights. Plaintiffs also seek declaratory relief stating that: Defendants violated Plaintiffs' civil rights through the manner in which they have enforced the Building Code and Local Law # 4 against Plaintiffs, monetary damages in an amount to be determined at trial, and such other relief as may be just and proper.

Defendants seek the dismissal of all the claims asserted against them, costs and attorneys' fees.
