Re: Anthropologie, Inc. and U.O.D., Inc. v. Forever 21, Inc. 06 CIV. 2510 (WHP)

Dear Judge Pauley:

We are attorneys for Defendant Forever 21, Inc. in the above copyright infringement action. We respectfully request that the Court adjourn the initial conference currently scheduled for tomorrow at 10:15 a.m. until the beginning of the New Year.

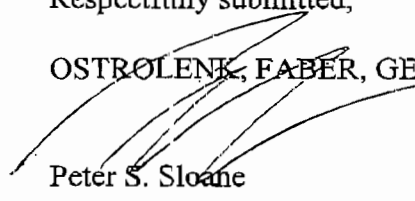

As advised in our letter dated November 15, 2006, the parties have reopened settlement discussions. The parties had reached an agreement regarding the allegations alleged in the Complaint when Plaintiff brought additional designs to the attention of Defendant. Additional time is still required for the parties to incorporate those new designs into the settlement.

Three previous requests for an adjournment of the initial conference were made and granted. Our adversary consents to this further extension request. The parties hope to settle their dispute in full by the end of this year.

The parties are mindful of Your Honor's Individual Practices stating that requests for adjournment must be received in Chambers not less than two business days before the scheduled time. To the extent that Your Honor denies this request, Defendant respectfully requests that the Court advise Defendant as to whether it should file an Answer to the Complaint prior to the scheduled conference. Plaintiff has consented to Defendant extending its time to answer or otherwise respond to the Complaint.

Respectfully submitted,

OSTROLENK, FABER, GERB & SOFFEN, LLP
