Subject: RE: Video Takedown

Cindy has to confirm the particular shows. My observations:

Correct on youtube and google subject to Cindy's review.

I don't understand the directives in myspace and Yahoo. My understanding is that we are removing all clips at 2.5 or over except for Colbert and Daily Show which is 3 and over, subject to Cindy confirming the current shows to be reviewed. This looks like you are not removing clips as opposed to full episodes of many of the shows. Cindy, am I correct?

What's the status of moving forward on myspace?

Just want to make sure this directive got to you: google as well as youtube takedowns should only be full episodes. Myspace and yahoo are ok to take down as originally directed.

We should still be taking down as much as possible at myspace. It's only google/youtube that has the full episode rule.

Makes sense.

I don't think they have any full-length stuff of ours. Hopefully that's all we'd c&d. Doug and I feel very strongly that we don't want to stop the colbert and daily clips.

Think we're c&d'ing on full-length regardless.

Complication--i presume--is that if we wait on broader action, we may look like we're c&d'ing google specifically.

My pov was to propose deal we want, and c&d on some stuff if they say f off.

But I thought that we didn't want to c&d if we're gonna do a deal with them? Or do we think the deal will be off if they buy them?

Apparently there's one line of reasoning that says don't wait until google acquires in order to c&d.

So the You Tube meeting I mentioned earlier has been scheduled today for 4:30. Beth and I are both in a meeting with MediaFLO all afternoon and unless we leave for an hour (not a great idea), will not be able to join. I don't know if you have a conflict at that time but you may want to dial in -- the number is [REDACTED] and the passcode is [REDACTED]. Please let me know and I will act accordingly. Thanks.

FYI, I believe that it will be with Mike Fricklas, Michael Wolf, David Sussman, Bob Bakish, Doug Herzog, Michelena Hallie and Adam Cahan.

The only clips we have not yet taken down are VH1 since we have not yet gotten the complete list of clips we authorized on youtube. Other than that, you are correct.

Michelena,

I will make the necessary changes to take down all The Daily Show and The Colbert Report clips that are 3 minutes and over.

Furthermore, I just want to inform you that due to our software update, we are not able to send notices out today, October 30, 2006. We will resume notice sending tomorrow October 31, 2006 followed by a daily report.

Best Regards,
Deana Arizala

No Joke: 'South Park' Uploads Spared

YouTube users might get to keep uploading episodes of South Park after the video site gets acquired by Internet giant Google. In a passing comment on her way into the Cable Hall of Fame dinner Wednesday night, MTV Networks CEO Judy McGrath said she would allow the uploading to continue — for now. It drives more attention and potential viewers to the Comedy Central show, she said.

The satirical South Park animated series is popular among the young audiences that YouTube and MTV cater to.

YouTube doesn't charge visitors for viewing any of its content; and lawyers for programming companies want to pounce on the site for allowing what they consider to be illegal sharing of proprietary content to persist. Other video clip outlets, like the Google Video Store, charge visitors for each TV show episode they download.

Sumner Redstone, chairman of MTV parent Viacom, is reported to be miffed at the company's failure to acquire social networking site MySpace last year. That site was swooped up by Rupert Murdoch's News Corp., for $580 million.

Neither Viacom nor News Corp. got a chance to bid on YouTube, which, after a few days of negotiations, agreed to a sale to Google for $1.9 billion.

This time, it was Murdoch and News Corp. reported to be miffed.

Comcast to Techs: You Snooze, You Lose

A snoozing service technician has again tarnished consumers' perception of Comcast, which vows zero tolerance of such activities.

The tale buzzed through tech and consumer blogs last week about a Garden City, Mich., homeowner. The cable subscriber, identified in blogs as Misty Maironi, said she had requested a service call, and sent the tech to her basement to work on a connection. When he did not resurface for more than an hour, the woman sent her son down to see what the worker was doing.

Son Chris found the tech asleep on his bed, and snapped a cell phone picture of the napper before he woke up the worker.

The Maironis said that the worker fell back to sleep after the incident.

Jennifer Khoury, Comcast senior director of corporate communications, confirmed the incident, emphasizing that the man was a Comcast contractor. He will no longer work for Comcast, she said. Another technician was dispatched to the Garden City home and completed the service call to the customer's satisfaction, she said.

The Michigan division is retraining in-house and contract employees, re-emphasizing the company's code of conduct, she added.

Comcast is in the process of hiring more workers, lessening its reliance on outside contractors. The company has said 4,000 workers will be hired by the end of this year, 3,000 of them technical workers. More will be added next year. Training of those workers will include information on the company code of conduct and Comcast's zero tolerance for rudeness, Khoury said.

Earlier this year, a home video of a Comcast technician who fell asleep while on hold with a dispatcher became a popular download on YouTube. That Philadelphia-area worker was fired and the company offered a similar apology.

Could I get some more information on the clips that were passed on? I'm particularly surprised about the small number of videos taken down under and am curious as to the average size of the videos that apparently did not meet our criteria. I'd also like to discuss the take down procedure on Google Video. In conversations with Mark, I thought the agreement was that you would send notices to Google Video requesting that they remove the link to infringing material. Is that not the procedure? Is that something you have done for other clients?

Subject: Paramount Marketing

Al,

I just finished a wonderful conversation with Kristina Tipton. We discussed how Amy is doing the "viral" marketing and came up with these ground rules...

1. Do not remove anything posted by an approved Paramount Account (Kristina to provide)
2. Do not remove anything reposted by another account that matches something from Rule 1.
3. Remove anything that "misuses" Paramount material in a negative way; mash-ups, re-edited clips, DVD materials
4. If Paramount Marketing does anything in the P2P world, they will try to send us the file so we can watch for it and treat it like "interdicted" material if possible.
5. If a "late" or "surprise" marketing action is taken, Paramount Marketing will make an effort to notify BayTSP to prevent any accidental enforcement action against this material.

Kristina is in the process of putting together materials that BayTSP will use to "filter" out the approved material already on the internet. These filters will be used for Paramount and Viacom (MTVN) activities to prevent accidental enforcement.

I or someone we assign will stay in touch with Kristina going forward.

Importance: High

Please assume the following for Paramount content:

- (i) notices can be sent for any content longer than 8 minutes (which should catch any full-length copies of films, even if posted in segments);
- (ii) assume that all Paramount notices for films prior to DREAMGIRLS are okay to be sent without comparison to marketing clips;
- (iii) assume that notices cannot be sent on clips of less than 8 minutes duration of Dreamgirls and all subsequent films (i.e. Norbit, Blades of Glory, Transformers, Black Snake Moan, Zodiac, Shooter, Year of the Dog, Disturbia, Next, Shrek The Third, Hot Rod, A Mighty Heart) until we sort out the problem with the marketing clips.

I expect to have an official approval of this deliniation within hours.

Understood we will be on standby

Please advise if we need to do anything about the paramount marketing clips. If we need to re scan those assets we will need up to 1 day to process the clips for the affected assets all of the clips that we syndicated have the official "warning" before the clip. any clip without the warning was not sent out by our dept. However, i need to speak to the publicity dept before confirming which should be taken down. I will follow up first thing in the AM. thanks.

Amy, please confirm that these should be taken down (our guy thinks that these are not your clips).

We await your confirmation before proceeding.

Al,

6/13/2008

There are a lot of questionable Jackass 2 videos on youtube that we cannot act on tonight without risking taking down unauthorized content.

However, there are some videos that we believe we could request be taken down. Perhaps these videos could be forwarded to the appropriate executives for review, including the following:

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=3r66byYRFm4>
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=dtSu3IJZTA>;
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=2brTttAYReE>;
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=G7EAM8f929o>;
http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=m5_1ftgW2_k;
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=nASITzMokE8>;
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=TKjMvoc0VtI>;
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=d4KrR6yoPAY>;
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=mOJ61oeCQeY?> .

Each of these is a fairly long clip and/or has language indicating that it is not legitimate (e.g., "here is the first 3 minutes of the movie").

Please let me know what action you would like me to take on these, if any.

Dennis

Amy, when you refer to many authorized clips are you able to provide identifiers of them? Apparently, what is being found are stunt/skit clips rather than the full feature broken up into 10 minute pieces (as is the case with other films from other studios).

Al,

We have started getting results back from our High Priority Radar system and we're seeing something different than our usual clips of 10 minute segments uploaded to YouTube. The pirates are submitting the content to YouTube broken down by individual stunt/skit. We are attempting to identify the content that appears to be camcordered, and is of the individual stunt/skit for takedown. Can you pls confirm that none of the stunts/skits are authorized by the studio?

Ok, err on the side of leaving some infringing material up rather than being overly aggressive and taking down one of the "many approved clips".

Again, my direction would be to take down linked segments which comprise all or nearly all of the motion picture and is presumably camcordered (based on appearance, for example).

Either of you know of other "social networking" sites such as YouTube which we might also devote our special kind of "love"?

Please advise.

Thank you.

Thanks, Alfred. Please only remove camcorded content (which is clearly pirated footage). There are many approved film clips online which should not be removed. Feel free to call with any questions or concerns.

Attached is a pdf of a signed authorization letter. It is on MTVN (which is a division of Viacom) letterhead though Viacom is the copyright owner of the copyrights. If you need it on Viacom letterhead, it will have to wait until Monday when my assistant returns.

Please note that this authorization is limited only to particular shows, uploads or protocols identified by Cindy, myself or a designee. As of now Viacom authorizes only the takedowns of full episodes of "Avatar" that appear on youtube.com.

You should also note that not all MTVN programming is owned by Viacom International so you will need additional authorizations for some of the programs we choose in the future to take down.

Thank you for your assistance.

Sorry but 2 edits on the takedown letter: please remove the first sentence in the fourth paragraph beginning "Further, we believe" and the last sentence in that paragraph beginning "We appreciate your efforts". Then add the one remaining sentence in that paragraph beginning "We urge" to the end of the third paragraph. I'm giving folks 10 more minutes to object and then I'll send authorization to proceed as outlined below.

I don't think I've seen the takedown notice template. Could someone send it to me? Cindy's working on the agent authorization letters right now and will be sending them to you for each of the copyright holders together with the shows each rights holder owns. And just to be clear, these authorizations are subject to Cindy's or my specific instructions on which uploads are to be taken down. (Sorry. I have to be a lawyer and write out the limitation.)

I hope to let you know what direction we want to go in the next 3 or 4 hours.

Attached is the report with the requested changes. We cleaned up the format and left out the detailed time break down. You still have that in the spread sheet that Mark sent you the other day as a reference. This report is ready for distribution to your team.

Lastly we have a direct contact person at YouTube, Heather Gillette. She is the primary compliance manager there and her number is 650-685-6409.

Please let us know if you need anything else.
